

Concert.

MRS. M'BRIDE and Daughter, have the honor of informing the Ladies and Gentlemen of Raleigh, and its vicinity, that they intend giving a CONCERT, consisting of Vocal and Instrumental Music, interspersed with Recitations, on Wednesday or Thursday evenings next. For particulars see bills of the day. Feb. 28, 1825.

Notice.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber on the 20th day of September last, my negro man, named JIM; he is about twenty-five years old, dark complexion, has a down look when spoken to, his eyes whiter than common. I will give Twenty-five Dollars Reward, to any person who will deliver the said negro to me, if taken in this state, or Fifty Dollars, if taken out of the state, or Ten Dollars to confine him in any jail in this state, or Twenty Dollars if confined in any out of this state.

JOHN CARPENTER. Franklin co. Feb. 25, 1825. 36-1m.

State of North-Carolina. Wayne County.

THERE was entered on the Stray Book on the 21st day of February 1825, by Matthew Fulghem, one Mare and Colt; the Mare judged to be seventeen or eighteen years old, flesh mark as follows: a bright sorrel with a white spot on her forehead, a white ring around her right ear, blind in her left eye, her left hind foot white, about four feet eight or nine inches high. The Colt two years old next spring, a bright sorrel, a bright streak in the face and under her belly, about four feet high, both low in flesh. Said Fulghem lives on the Great Swamp about fifteen miles north of Wayneborough.

URIAH LANGDON, Rang'r. Feb. 26, 1825. 36-3t.

TAKEN UP.

AND committed to the Jail of this county, on the 21st inst. a Negro Fellow, supposed to be a runaway slave, who says his name is Cornelius Jones, and that he has lived in New-York four or five years; last past, but cannot, or will not name the state, county or town in which he was raised. He is about five feet seven inches high, black complexion, with a small scar over his right eye, and one near the corner of the same. His dress is a drab pea-jacket, blue round ditto, and duck trousers. He was brought to this place in the schooner Hetty, Wright, last from Charleston.—The owner is requested to come forward, prove property, pay charges and take him away, or he will be dealt with as the law directs.

JOS. GARRETT, Shff. Washington county, Nov. 23, 1824. 19-6m.

Notice.

ON the 2d Monday in April next, will be sold for ready money at the Court-House in Snowhill, the following tracts of land, or so much thereof as will be sufficient to pay the tax thereon for the years 1821 and 1822, to wit:

Table listing land parcels with details such as acreage, owner names, and locations. Includes entries for Sandy Run, Contentnea Creek, and various owners like John H. Aldridge and William Williams.

All those having receipts for either of the above named years, are requested to produce them, as it is impossible for the subscriber to know who has and who has not paid—and he is under the necessity of collecting from those who have not paid, if not by fair means by law. JOHN HOLLIDAY, Ad'r. of Rich'd D. Bright late Shff. Greenb.co. Feb. 8, 1825. 12 -3t.

Mansion Hotel.

FAYETTEVILLE, NORTH-CAROLINA. THE subscriber having leased this Establishment, formerly occupied by Captain TARR, is now in readiness to accommodate Travellers, and Boarders. He tenders his thanks to the Public and the Citizens of Fayetteville, for the former patronage and friendly support which he has received; and, in soliciting a continuance of these favors, assures them that every exertion shall be made, and due attention bestowed in order to the comfort and pleasure of Travellers and Boarders. His rooms are numerous, being new, clean and large, are well adapted for comfort and health, opening upon a garden which presents a fine prospect; superadded, are the comforts of ease and retirement, which may be enjoyed in spacious Parlours by Travelling Families. This situation, standing on one of the most elevated streets, is healthy; attended with the advantage and convenience arising from the important and extensive business transacted on that street, which will make it the interest of Country Merchants and Planters to call; it is constantly supplied by means of aqueducts, with pure water, issuing from one of the best fountains in the State.

His Bar will be constantly supplied with the best and choicest of Liquors; his Table with the best of the country and market affords; his Stables shall be attended by faithful, steady and honest Ostlers. Other advantages are attendant upon this Establishment, rarely to be excelled in any other Public House in this state.

DILLON JORDAN. Fayetteville, Feb. 26, 1825. 36-4t.

A Card.

I have pleasure in stating that the Mansion Hotel, in this town, has undergone a thorough purification, and is reoccupied by Mr. Jordan. The public may rest satisfied that there is no danger of contracting the contagion of the late epidemic disease either at the Hotel or any other place in Fayetteville.

BENJ. ROBINSON, Health Officer. Fayetteville, Feb. 23, 1825.

State of North-Carolina. Tyrrell County.

Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, 4th Monday in October, 1824.

Enoch Hassell, vs. Amelia Hassell.

Appearing to the satisfaction of the Court that the Defendant in this case is not an inhabitant of the State: It is ordered that publication be made in the Raleigh Register for three months, to notify the said Amelia Hassell personally, to be and appear at the next Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, to be held for the County of Tyrrell, and shew cause if any she can, why she shall not be removed from the guardianship of the minor heirs of Joseph Hassell deceased.

Witness, Wilson B. Hodges Clerk of said Court at Office the 4th Monday of October 1824. WILSON B. HODGES, CLK.

RALEIGH REGISTER.

TUESDAY, MARCH 1, 1825.

LAFAYETTE.—This great and good man has, ere this, arrived within our State borders. Before our paper is again issued, we shall have welcomed to our city, the Hero, whose military fame—unsullied patriotism and unmerited sufferings, have excited the admiration of all, who have either witnessed or heard of his noble deeds and virtuous conduct.

LAFAYETTE came to this country in the true spirit of Philanthropy, to assist America in the struggle to retain the inalienable rights of man. He came simply a volunteer,—no ambitious views, no love of conquest actuated him, when he girded on his defensive sword against the enemies of Liberty.

He cannot have an American heart, he cannot be a friend to freedom, who does not exult in this visit of the Nation's Guest, to the scenes of his early glory. He found America, when youthful enthusiasm urged him across the trackless ocean, at the foot of despotism, which had already trampled on the rights of the people. He joined the standard of Liberty, with other brave men, and added his ardour and prowess, to the tried valor and consummate prudence of the Father of his country, and the friend of the human race. He left America free and independent, and returns, after the lapse of nearly half a century, & finds that to these blessings have been added, whatever distinguishes the old world, in the discoveries of science, the improvements of Literature and the progress of useful knowledge. Those wild and unfrequented glens where nature seemed to have interposed everlasting barriers to improvement, and where no civilized accent had ever disturbed the echoes of solitude, are now rich in cultivation—abounding not only with the comforts but the luxuries of life.

Not in the bright moments of youthful fervor, and the victorious accomplishment of his patriotic hopes, could LAFAYETTE experience the delightful sensations which have warmed his heart and renovated his feelings, ever since he re-landed on our shores. SCIPY gloried in the fall of Carthage—POMPEY returned in triumph with the spoils of Mithridates, and CESAR bore his Eagle from the plains of Egypt, to the soil of Britain, but what were their triumphs, stained with the blood of millions in offensive war, when compared with the general tribute of a great nation, voluntarily offered at the shrine of GRATITUDE.

SUBSCRIPTION PAPERS to the Lafayette Dinner and Ball are placed at the Bookstore of J. Gales & Son, and at Mr. Ruffin's Hotel, at which places Tickets at $5 each may also be obtained.

The elegant and spirited troop of Cavalry, commanded by Colonel Thomas Polk, arrived in this City yesterday. They were met beyond the limits of the town and escorted down Fayetteville Street, to the Government House, by the Raleigh Blues, where they were received and addressed by his Excellency Gov. Burton.

In consequence of the expected visit of Gen. LAFAYETTE, no paper will be issued from this office on Friday next. But that our weekly subscribers may have no breach in their Congressional Journal, we shall transmit this day's paper to each of them. We are compelled to this arrangement, for whether actuated by a spirit of patriotism, or curiosity, we cannot pretend to say, our whole force are electrified at the first tap of the drum, and the most efficient of them being under military requisition, it will be impossible for us to publish another paper before Tuesday.

THE NEXT CABINET.—It is ascertained with certainty, that Mr. CLAY, will accept of the office of Secretary of State, and it is generally believed that Mr. CHEVES will receive the appointment of Secretary of the Treasury, though Mr. RUSSELL present Minister to the Court of St. James, is also spoken of. The Richmond Enquirer, says that JAS. BARBOUR, present Senator in Congress, has been offered and will accept the Department of War. It is also rumored, that Gov. CLINTON will be sent as Minister in the Place of Mr. RUSSELL who has signified his wish to return home.

The Editor of the Georgetown D. C. Metropolitan, though opposed throughout the late campaign; to Mr. Crawford, speaks of him in the following terms. No surer criterion of a man's worth, need be required, than that he commands the respect even of his enemies: His consistent and virtuous conduct throughout, political and moral, has challenged the admiration even of his enemies. Mr. C. is about to exchange in a few days the toil of office for the sweets of retirement and private life, and he will take with him as large a portion of the good feeling of the community, as any other of our worthy patriots have ever received.

The meeting of the Board of City Commissioners, for the purpose of receiving testimonials of character & granting permits of residence to the free colored population of this place, which was advertised to be held on Monday next, has been postponed to the succeeding Monday, the 14th March.

In Maryland, resolutions approving of the administration of JAMES MONROE, President of the United States, have passed the House of Delegates by a vote of 52 to 9.

The Editors of the National Intelligencer, in speaking of their re-election as Printers to Congress, observe, that considering the respectable character and standing of the gentlemen by whom they were opposed, and the peculiar circumstances in which the Editors were placed, in regard to the late contest for the Presidency between four of the most distinguished of our citizens, it would be ridiculous affectation in the Editors to say, that the vote on this occasion was not among the most gratifying incidents of their lives. They were conscious that the official duties of their station, relative to Congress, had been discharged with the greatest assiduity and devotion to the public interest.—But that the fidelity of their services, in this respect, should have been appreciated as it has been, was beyond their hopes. They have received, with the sincerest gratification, and they hope without undue exultation, this distinguished proof of the public confidence.

Yesterday, being the Anniversary of the Birth Day of Washington, a respect for his memory was shown by the firing of salutes of artillery; and, notwithstanding the unpleasantness of the weather, several of the volunteer military companies of the city turned out, and made a handsome display. In the evening there was a splendid Ball attended by the chief men of the nation, and a great number of citizens and strangers.—NAT. INT.

By an arrival at Norfolk from Havana, intelligence of the loss of the U. S. schr. FERRET, Lieut. Com. BELL, is received. She was lost on the 10th inst. off Point Yacos, in a sudden squall and eight of her men were drowned in attempting to swim to the shore. Immediately on receipt of this news, Capt. Warrington dispatched to her relief, the Steam Galliot Sea Gull and schr. Jackall, (late of the West India squadron) which he employed for the purpose. The latter succeeded in taking off the officers and remainder of the crew, and had arrived with them at Matanzas.

The last National Intelligencer contains two Indian treaties, recently ratified by the Senate of the U. States, and which embrace the cession of a large body of land, 5,000,000 of which belonged to the Choctaws, and 2,000,000 to the Quapaws, the two tribes with whom the treaties have been made. A part of these lands it is understood, will be surveyed in the course of the ensuing season, and probably will be brought into market in the course of a year.

COMMERCE AND NAVIGATION.—The Secretary of the Treasury of the United States has made a report to the Senate on the commerce and navigation of the United States. From his statements it appears that the imports in the year ending on the 30th Sept. 1824, have amounted to $80,549,007, of which amount, $75,265,054 were imported in American vessels, and $5,283,953 in Foreign vessels; that the exports have during the same period amounted to $75,986,657, of which $50,649,500 were domestic, and $25,337,157 were foreign articles; that 850,033 tons of American shipping entered, and 919,278 cleared from the ports of the United States; and that 102,357 tons of foreign shipping entered and 102,552 cleared from the ports of the U. S. during the same period.

VOCAL AND INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC.

We invite the attention of our readers to the Advertisement of Mrs. M'BRIDE in a preceding column, who, assisted by her two daughters, intends giving a most agreeable Entertainment on some evening during the present week. We have seen the respective merits of these ladies highly spoken of in numerous prints, and we recommend to all who wish to enjoy an hour or two rationally, to avail themselves of this treat. The musical talents of Mrs. M'BRIDE, naturally of the first order, have been industriously cultivated, & the recitative powers of her daughters are spoken of in unqualified terms. The recital of "Alexander's Feast," by the eldest, it is said, cannot be surpassed. We trust that those who wish to patronize merit and at the same time witness the emanations of talent, will give their attendance.

A few evenings since, a young gentleman requested a young lady of this vicinity, to compose him a song in honor of Lafayette, and further petitioned that it should be set to the tune of "Womah, War and Wine." A more difficult task could scarcely be conceived, as in that song each line rhymes with the preceding one. But the lady not at all disconcerted, sat down and wrote the following IMPROMPTU, which we indulge the expectation, will be sung by some one at the contemplated Banquet to the Veteran:

Lafayette, first with valor came, To free us from the tyrant's chain; And fought our liberties to gain, And bought with blood immortal fame. Give, oh! give ye heroes brave, Give to great Lafayette praise: Brave Lafayette, great Lafayette! A welcome to Lafayette give.

Now around Lafayette stand, All who are of freedom's band; Press the great Lafayette's hand, And welcome him to freedom's land! Now, oh! now let joy abound, Let the generous glass go round To Lafayette, brave Lafayette, The goblet raise to Lafayette.

America! with freedom blest Lafayette now becomes thy guest; Warm in every freeman's breast; Now thy patriot feelings test. Rise America, arise! Let European despots see That Lafayette, brave Lafayette, Wears a crown more bright than they.

Your heroes, brave Lafayette led; Your heroes, great Lafayette led; And by their sides Lafayette bled; Now rest Lafayette, in honor's bed. Now, oh! now, America, Now your grateful tribute pay To Lafayette, great Lafayette, Now in freedom's brightest day, Jan. 1, 1825.

For the Register.

AIR.—See the conquering Hero come! See! the ancient Warrior comes, Full of honor, rob'd in glory, To the land where Freedom's sons 'Crown'd their fame in endless song; Carolinians! forth and meet him— Nobly for your rights he bled— Virgins, matrons, hail him, greet him; Brightest honors on him shed. He it was, when youth was glowing Left the home of love and beauty; Every haughty despot shewing, Freedom's son would do his duty. Weave the garland, form the chaplet, Twine them round the patriot's brow; Tell the world Columbia's grateful, To the tyrant's sturdy foe. Sound the timbrel, strike the lyre, Loudly peal the clarinet, Mother, daughter, son and sire, Hail the hero—LA FAYETTE. W.

Important Trial.—On Tuesday last the trial of John Reid, for poisoning the family of Mr. Carroll, on the 9th ult. commenced in the Court of Sessions of the City of New-York, before his honor the Recorder and Aldermen Kings, Wyckoff, and Crowder. The prisoner was defended by Messrs. Griffin, Price, and Romaine; and the District Attorney, Mr. Maxwell, was assisted by Messrs. Wilson and D. Graham. A cause so strenuously contested by the numerous able counsel on both sides, has seldom been traversed in our Courts. The examination, direct and cross, of a great number of witnesses, occupied the close and active attention of the court and bar for three days and evenings, until this morning at 1 o'clock, when the jury received their charge, and, after retiring half an hour, returned with a verdict of Guilty. On the jury withdrawing, the prisoner was taken into custody, and is held to await the sentence of the law for the most atrocious crime, of which he has been convicted.

MARRIED.

In Wilmington, Mr. Joseph Towns, of Char. S. C. to Miss Rebecca Ann Halsey, of that place.

On the 9th inst. Mr. James R. Brown to Miss Sarah A. Craig.

DIED.

In this vicinity, yesterday morning, after a short attack of sickness, Dr. Jeremiah Battle, a man of considerable eminence in his profession, and universally respected for his liberality, and kind and benevolent deportment. In Newbern, after an illness of several months, Mrs. Mary Hall, consort of Mr. Salmo Hall.

On the 2d inst. at his house in Queen's, Henry Blackstone, Esq. (elder son of the late Sir W. Blackstone, the distinguished Commentator on the Laws of England) 27 many years his Majesty's Counsel for the district of Quebec.
