Celebration of the Fourth of July at Newbern.

The undersigned committee of arrangements n obedience to the resolution passed at the late oublic meeting held in this place, are engaged in making the necessary preparations to celebrate the coming Anniversary of our National Independence. It is proposed to observe the occasion in the patriotic spirit of the past, by the ringing of bells, display of National Flags, firing of cannon, processions, reading of the declaration of Independence, orations and other suitable modes of rejoicing.

A most cordial invitation is extended for all to to participate in the fee columns too much, and we shall, therefore, publish one half of it in Sunday's issue, and the other half in Tuesday's, so as to have the whole to-

from the casual glance we have taken, we like proved. the position taken very much. It takes the ground that the States never have been out of the Union, and consequently, are not out now; that the general government has nothing on earth to do with the forming of State governments, or dictating how they shall be formed, except that they shall have "a republican form;" that the Southern States have governments of that form, and consequently are entitled to representation upon the floors of Congress. We like the logic and the clear, forcible manner in which it is presented, but there is one very discouraging circumstance attending the report, which, however beautiful the theory, so completely takes the wind out, that we turn from its perusal with drooping spirits. That is the startling fact that only three out of the fifteen have seen fit to affix their names to it, viz: REVERDY JOHNSON, Maryland, HENRY GRIDER, of Kentucky, and ANDREW J. ROGERS, of New

The committee on corporations, to whom was referred the charter of the Fairfield Canal company, reported adversely to the same, and asked to be discharged from its further consideration. Mr. Grissom introduced a resolution for regulating the sessions of the convention-morning session to commence at 8 a. m., and continue until 2 p. m., and again at 4 p. m., to take immediate effect. The rules were suspended and the resolution was adopted.

The committee on corporations, to whom referred the resolution to incorporate the Wilmington railway company, unanimously recommended its passage. The rules were suspended.

Mr. Buxton amended the ordinance by providing that the requirements of the revised code be complied with.

The ordinance was then put upon its third nd final reading, and passed.

Mr. Wright from the committee on finance eported an ordinance, which was ordered to be printed. The special order being an ordiance relating o and regulating commissions on freight on the various railroads of the State, and the charges of express companies. Mr. Settle spoke in advocacy of the measure, animadverting upon monopolies, exorbitant rates and the great abuse of privileges granted under contracts made by the chartered railroads of the State. Mr. Moore, of Wake, amended the ordinance by subjecting it to legislative control

The amendment being accepted, Mr. B. F. Moore addressed the house in opposition to the neasure.

Mr. Ward spoke of the great monopoly of ex-press companies as a growing public evil. Railpolitic. They gave strength and vitality to it;

Circular of the New Governor General on the Slave Trade. WASHINGTON, June 18 .- The United States

FROM CUBA.

Consul at Havana, Thomas Savine, has inclosed to the Secretary of State a translation of the cir-cular addressed by the present Governor General of Cuba, Gen. Lersundi, to the Governors and Lieut. Governors of the various districts of the Island, on the subject of the slave trade. Gen. Lersundi expresses himself determined to suppress that traffic.

CIECULAR.-The government of Her Majesty our Queen, constant in its intention to exterminate the slave trade in these dominions, has just renewed to me the orders which for this purpose had already directed and enjoined upon me the most active and decided persecution against negro traders ; and as it is very possible that they, believing that the present occasion, in which there has been effected a recent change in the superior authority of this Island, is the most propitious to obtain their end, and, acting under this belief, may attempt to land several cargoes of Africans on these costs. I advise you that I am resolved, in respect to the laws and the compliance of my duty, not to allow these orders to be infringed for any consideration whatever, and for you to employ all your zeal, watchfulness and activity to capture any expedition that may attempt to land, in the understanding that I will be severe and exact of you the most scrupulous responsibility for any incident in relation to the aforesaid traffic that may occur within the jurisdiction under your command.

God grant your Excellency many years. FRANCISCO LEBSUNDI. to the Governor (or Lieut. Governor) of ---- Havana, June 7, 1866. From the New York World. Mr. Raymond's Speech.

WASHINGTON, June 18, 1866. The House patiently listened to-day to a two hours' discussive speech from Mr. Raymond, in opposition to the bill pending in the House to restore to States lately in insurrection their full political rights. He begged Thad. Stevens to be patient, and told him that the time would soon come when, under the teachings of the Republican party, there would be no distinction on account of race or color in civil or political rights. Mr. Ward spoke of the great monopoly of ex-press companies as a growing public evil. Rail-roads were the sinews and arteries of the body politic. They gave strength and vitality to it. Pills have been swallowed in millions. Salves have been rubbed in by the pound. Dr. Magonn's two grand specifics are putting an end to this wholesale system of medication. One of his famous pills is a dose. A box of his healing salve is of more value, as a remedy for ulcerous and eruptive diseases, than a ships cargo of the Ointments advertised to cure everything, but are all, in fact, either useless or deleterious.

Dr MAGGEIL's motto is concentration. He has placed in the smallest compass the active principle of the most potent vegetable specifics. There is no mineral in his Pills-they do not gripe-they do not enfeeble. They create a vigorous appetite, and correspondingly strengthen the digestion. They tune the liver, clear the head and steady the nerves.

No form of scrofulous disease can resist the disenfectent operation of the Salve Tumor. Abscesses, Salt Rheum, Boils, Pimples, Pustules, &c., are thouroughly eradicated by this unrivaled medicine. In fact, MAGGIEL'S BILLIOUS, DTSPEP-TIC and DIARBHCEA PILLS CUre where all others fail. While for Buns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts, and all abrasions of the skin, MAGGIELS, SALVE is infallible. "HARD TIMES."-This is the general cry now--days. Well what of it? What if it is hard times? Is that anything strange? Is this something new, something that has never been heard before, or is it an old song? Well lets see. About thirty years ago, if my memory serves me correctly, while residing with my parents (for I was entirely too young to battle with the world) in a little town in this State, situated on the Tar was raised, or as I now suspect, was only continued, or renewed with greater force and earnmy father about that time, it was this : said he, "Well, everybody is complaining of hard times, but I see but liftle, if any difference. It has been hard times ever since I could remember." and suid, "his father used to say it had been hard times all his life." And I can certify that t has been hard times ever since I have been d enough to know anything about times at all, and should I live an hundred years from to-day, haven't a doubt that at the last day of my exstence I should hear the same old song "Hard Times.". Now this cry is increased or augmented by being spoken of, not only by the white population, but we have the negros to join in he outery. Heretofore they knew very little if mything about this monster. They were proected and provided for by their masters, and it was come day, go day, with them. But now it is very different, for they are no longer cared for by those who once had that responsibility, and they of necessity have to provide for themselves and their families, and this, with their indolence, at least with the masses, causes it to be pretty hard times with them. Now we are aware that the people in this secion of the country are poor, that money is scarce, that living is high and wages low, but tor all that, we see people driving fast horses, tressing well, and spending money for luxuries and dainties, and yet these very persons are generally the first to complain of the times being hard. ROOMNING AND PROVISIONS.

COWHIDING AFFAIR.-We learn from the Richmond Dispatch, that Capt. CHARLES WARREL, ex-Confederate, cowhided M. D. RELEASED. - A report prevails here that one of the parties who, it was supposed, was implicated by the Steedman-Fullerton report and would river, there was quite a stringency in the money be tried by the military commission now in sesmarket, or at least it was so alleged by men of sion here, has been released from arrest. Of business, and the general cry of "Hard Times" | course the charge was misdemeanor in his office as superintendent of freedmen in the Trent river settlement, but a note from the commissioner at estness; and I well remember a remark made by Washington. Gen. Howard, states that no charges have been preferred against him and of course he goes free. This will probably lead to his being summoned as a witness, either for government or the defence, during the present trials.

> AN ACCIDENT. - About 12 M. yesterday, a horse attached to a buggy, which contained two gentlemen, took fright from some cause and started at a rapid pace down Front street. The gentleman who was driving, Mr. Foster, we think is his name, endeavored to control the animal, but before he succeeded in doing so the horse ran into a cart which was standing in the street and breaking the buggy, precipitated its occupants to the ground. Both were severely brused by their violent fall upon the stones which pave the gutter, and their heads somewhat gashed. Their injuries, however, are not very serious, and will only subject them to some little inconvenience.-Wil. Journal. AVERAGE STRAND STRAND they had certain functions to perform, and the performance of these were advantageous, and almost indispensable to the life and growth of the State. But when they became weakened by palities, corporations, companies, or partnerships, but for the public accommodation and general good. So that when exclusive privileges were granted express companies and other out-side parties, the benefits to the people were contempts of other express companies to success-fully compete with them, unless some aid was rendered them or the monopoly destroyed. Adams' Express company had strenuously, assiduously and rigorously striven to gain ex-clusive control of all the railroads in the United States The Southern Express Company accomplished this during the war, and the result of this mo-nopely is well known to the people, far and wide. These companies were birds of prey of an im-mense size, swooping down upon their victims with avaricious hunger and greed. He thought it was high time their field of operation was cur-

Mr. Boyden spoke in defence of railroads and adversely to the ordinance.

Mr. Settle endeavored to prove that while $16 was the maximum price allowed to be charged on certain commodities, by hocus pocus and a kind of ledgerdemain, $55 was exacted. He showed that millions of dollars had been made upon the one item of removing bodies of soldiers illed in battle, from the places of interment to their homes. In support of his augument he cited the example of a suit brought by the Adams Express company against the International in the State of Pennsylvania, based upon the very same charges which he preferred against the Adams Express company to-day. The decision was adverse to the International and favorable to

Adams company. Mr. Allen moved to still further amend the ordinance by filling all the blanks left therein, by making the fine and penalty, upon conviction of non-conformity with charters and contracts and malfeasance in office, not less than one thousand dollars, which amendments were adopted. Mr. Phillips moved to further amend the ordinance by staying its operation until the 15th Indiana District. of August. Mr. Caldwell, of Burke, defended the railroads and explained his action in the premises. He said, among other things, that the termination of hostilities, the condition of the railroads were in a deplorable state, and credit could not be obtained at home, owing to the scarcity of money. He went North and endeavored to berrow an amount necessary for rebuilding and repairing the road over which he presided. After appeal ing to various parties, and meeting with but poor encouragement, he solicited the Adams' Express company, and obtained the loan of $20,000, upon what he considered ve y just and moderate terms. He was to pay only 6 per cent. and the principle at pleasure; and stipulated, only, to allow no other express corporation the same privilege, except upon the same terms. And, any other company was entitled to and could ob-tain all the immunities Adams' Express Company enjoyed, if they would make the same stip-ulations. The railroad was not bound head and

The falling of the walls, of the store occupied by Marshall & Brother smothered the fire somewhat, and thus saved " Molohorn Row," which was in great danger.
