CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

Local news is very scarce.

Few boats in, at the market.

Be sure to list your taxables.

The general cry is dull trade.

Read the advertisement of President Stanly.

Peaches sold yesterday for 25 cents per quart.

Yesterday was warm, the thermometer being about 88.

There was no Mayor's Court yesterday.

Cause, no cases.

The brick work on the Baer & Epple store is about completed.

This is the season for stomach aches and choleric morbus, lots of green fruit in market.

The Democracy of Edgecombe meet Saturday, July 1st to make nominations for Convention.

The market for the past few days has not been very well supplied with meat, vegetables or fish.

Carolina Superior Court will convene next Monday at Beaufort. His Honor, Judge Clarke presiding.

Don't forget to procure your tickets for the lecture and entertainment next Wednesday evening.

In the greater part of the State the agricultural prospects look better than they did some time since.

Licence taxes are being paid slowly, merchants should remember that a failure to pay at the proper time, increases penalty.

A one-legged impostor is going about, Williamson imposing upon the people. The Star warns the citizens against him.

The number for the new Marks brick store has been procured and the building will soon commence, it is to be two stories.

The Revenue Cutler E. A. Stevens arrived at the wharf yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, after a trip to Elizabeth City and Edenton.

The body of a white man was found floating in the Cape Fear river on Wednesday. It was too much decomposed to be recognizable.

A colored man named Matt Higgins, was drowned while intoxicated on Tuesday by falling from a boat on a trip from Wilmington to Fayetteville.

The rain of Thursday has given the growing crop an impetus, and under the genial sun of yesterday, vegetables appeared to be almost jumping.

The brick and other material are being conveyed to and deposited at the site of the proposed new buildings to be erected by Dr. Hughes on Middle street.

Messrs. Weinstein Bros. have removed to the store in the Court House Building. Now is the time to get bargains in Dry Goods, by calling at the Weinstein Bros. at their new stand.

The best evidence of dullness in New Bern and vicinity is the number of persons leaving it on every steamer. Instead of benefiting by immigration we are suffering from emigration.

A young negro man, named Thaddeus Flemings was drowned in Neuse river, near Tar Landing, in this county, on Sunday last, while endeavoring to swim to a boat.—Messenger.

The present member of Congress from the first Alabama District is a colored man, named Sterling Turner, a native of Halifax county, in this State, and once belonged to a gentleman living near Weldon.

We would suggest that the chain gang be employed in cutting down. The weeds that are growing in such quantities in some of our reading streets, besides being unhealthful they are displeasing to the eye, being anything but an ornament to our leading thoroughfares.

The Grand Lodge (Colored) A. Y. F. A. M. of North Carolina, will meet in this city on the 24th of this month.

The Lodge in this city, are making every exertion to meet and entertain their brethren in a suitable style.

We learn that some of our young men are looking with longing eyes to the future metropolis of our country. "Duluth." For the information of the ignorant who desire to know more of this prospectively great place, we recommend that they procure and read a copy of the great speech of Mr. Knott, M. C. from Duluth. It tells all about it.

The steamship Ellen S. Terry sailed for New York yesterday afternoon, at 5 o'clock. A large number of passengers sailed on the Terry, there being eleven white persons and twenty-five colored. Among the passengers were Mr. G. E. Jones and wife, Mr. Bennett, F. W. Robbins, J. Prince and Mrs. Emanuel, Miss Willis and others. A large crowd of friends, etc., were at the wharf at the departure of the steamer.

His Honor, Judge Clarke arrived in the city on Thursday night, having finished court in Jones county. Although the number of days occupied in trial were fewer than heretofore, while a larger number of cases were on the docket than usual. The whole were disposed of, and the dockets completely cleared up; a fact that speaks well for the promptitude of Judge Clarke. The prompt and rapid manner in which Jones county business was transacted, affords the Judge a day or two for rest before opening court in Carteret next Monday.

The Telegraph learns that a man by the name of W. D. Stanley, who, we believe, was once Deputy Sheriff of Johnson county, was charged with the perpetration of murder and mail robbery in last October, but before he was arrested fled the State. It was ascertained a short time since that he was residing in Georgia, and he was arrested. Gov. Caldwell has already issued a requisition for his rendition, but he is charged with express robbery, at Macon Georgia, and the Governor of that State refused to return him to North Carolina until the courts of Georgia have done with him.

For safety, money orders can be obtained upon all the principal offices in the United States. All letters containing Money or other valuables should always be registered, without which, there is little safety.

Office hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M., and 7 to 7:30 P. M.

NEW-BERNE, N. C., SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 10, 1871.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Our Sidewalks.

One of our citizens, evidently much disgusted with the condition of our sidewalks, threatens to send for and import into our peaceful community a lot of Digger Indians. The Digger Indians, as it is known, are about the lowest in the intellectual scale, and are best known for their utter want of knowledge of the mechanical arts; but notwithstanding this, our friend considers them much superior to the people who make sidewalks in New-Bern. That our sidewalks are poorly constructed, none will deny, that when it rains pools and puddles of water remain standing for a day or two, much to the annoyance of pedestrians. If it has rained during the day, and the night is dark, a person traversing the streets is sure to splash mud and water over one's self and this is all owing to the improper construction of our sidewalks. The remedy for this state of affairs, as suggested by the gentleman referred to, is for persons to fix these sidewalks on a common sense principle, that is, to cause a gradual decline or slope from the houses to the gutters, sufficient to allow the water to run off into the street. A few loads of dirt would accomplish this, fill up the inequalities in the sidewalk, and the sidewalks would be at once abated. Let our citizens do it.

Cat Down the Woods.

We again call to the attention of our citizens to the importance of clearing from their lots and the streets in front of their premises, the noxious weeds that now abound in such profusion.

That this is an important sanitary measure, none will deny, and hence the necessity for its execution is important. The city government as our citizens are well aware, is unable to have the work done, and hence the duty must devolve upon the individual exertions of citizens.

We would respectfully suggest to the city authorities, the appointment of a member of the Police Force, as a Sanitary Inspector whose special duty it shall be, to visit and inspect the lots and premises and cause the abatement or removal of all sanitary nuisance. Let stringent sanitary ordinances be adopted, and strictly enforced, and as an inducement for our citizens, let the authorities furnish at least a horse and cart, for the removal to beyond the city limits of all garbage.

While citizens can be made to place their garbage in a condition for removal, we doubt the power or right to cause them to remove it to beyond the limits of the city. Expresses of this kind are necessary and though other work of importance be neglected this should not be.

We hope therefore the Board of Council will act upon our suggestions, and at once take measures for a good sanitary condition.

Sentenced.

In the U. S. Circuit Court, at Raleigh, on Tuesday, W. J. Green, of Montgomery county, who was convicted at the last November term of illicit distilling, and who made his escape from custody before sentence was passed upon him, but who was subsequently arrested and brought to this city on Saturday last, from whence he was taken to Raleigh, was sentenced by the Court to six months imprisonment and $1,000 fine.—Wilmington Star.

EVERY NATION KNOWN TO AMERICANS.

It is almost the constant companion and estimable friend of the missionary and the traveler, on sea and land, and no one should travel on our Lakes or Rivers without it.

The need of more manufacturing enterprises in our midst is readily apparent. With a fine cotton growing country all around us, it appears somewhat remarkable that in New-Bern a place of several thousand inhabitants that there should not be a cotton factory. That the establishment of an institution of this kind would be to all interested, a success is apparent at a glance, the important and required features for success are right with us.

We believe it to be a matter between the City Government and the dealers, who alone should settle it. In the judgement of the Board of Councilmen the dealers should pay the whole tax at once all right, if they grant the petition of the dealers we have nothing to say. We are neutral.
