The Grand Lodge.

The Lodge was called to order at 7 o'clock

P.M. Grand Master Charles C. Clark presiding.

On a call of Lodges, a very large representative was found to be present.

The Grand Master delivered his annual address. It was a master effort, abounding in beautiful ideas and replete with sound and wholesome counsels to the Craft. The delivery was truly eloquent, the document written in uncommonly flowing, and it is said to surpass anything ever before delivered in North Caroolina for purity and chasteless and even high mission. It will prove when published, a most valuable acquisition to Masonic literature.

Grand Secretary, Donald W. Bain, present and read his annual report. The Order is in a highly prosperous condition in the State and is moving rapidly onward in its high mission. The Lodge voted a unanimous vote of confidence in the Grand Master.

Grand Treasurer, Col. W. E. Anderson, read his annual report, showing the financial condition of the Treasury, and making some valuable suggestions. The reports were received and the officers highly complimented for the very efficient manner in which their duties have been performed.

There were one hundred and seventy-five representatives of the different lodges in the State present. Salem, Winston, Greensboro, Wilmington, Goldsboro, Statesville, Wilmington, Franklin, Henderson, Hillsboro,

Oxford, and many great others were represented.

C. Clark, of New Bern, re-elected Grand Master.

John Nichols, of Raleigh, re-elected Grand

Sheriff Warden.

The election of Mr. Clark as Grand Master was against his expressed wishes, and for many months the contest was between himself and

Mr. Nichols.

Lenoir County.

We are indebted to Sheriff Hunter of Lenoir for the following information: On Tuesday afternoon two prisoners in the Kinston jail,

Tindall, the one serving a sentence for assault and battery, made their escape. It appears that they were confined in a room in the second story, through a hole they cut in the floor of their cell and, converting some blankets into a rope, drew up from the room below five men then confined as prisoners. With the combined efforts of the gang a hole sufficient to admit the body of a man was made, and the entire party were about to escape when discovered by jailer Davis; his discovery was only made in time, however, to prevent the escape of the five prisoners from the lower door, the Tindalls having just taken their leave.

Sheriff Hunter was at the time absent in Jones County but was expected to return that night, a fact known to the escaped prisoners.

On the same evening, and a few hours after the escape of the prisoners, while Mr. S. B. West was riding along the road leading from Jones

County, and the one along which Sheriff Han-ter was expected to return, and when in the vicinity of Chauncy Green's place, was fired at the ball passing in unaccountable close proximity to his head, and proceeding a few feet further he heard a snap as though another bullet was being fired at him. It is believed that the parties who attempted this shooting were the escaped Tindells who, having a spite against Sheriff Hunter, and the night being dark, mislaid Mr. West for Sheriff, and sought to kill him.

Sheriff Hunter, on learning of the escape of these men, instituted vigorous measures for recapture, and is confident that he will be able to apprehend them.

The New York Evening Express of Nov. 11 says: "The success which Mrs. Moulton obtained in New York a few weeks since has fully culminated in the Eastern States. An Eastern artist says: "If we should speak of Miss Moulton's singing as we used to do, we might as well speak of the sun rising or the moon setting."

The "Orphans" sang in Raleigh on Monday night.

The Sampson County Fair commenced Wednnesday.

Forty-eight hundred hogs have been driven from the hills to market.

Mrs. Dotterer of Charleston, who was injured by the railroad accident a few days ago, has since died.

The artificial leg said to be in possession of the Secretary of State turned out to be only some half-dozen limbs at the State Department, which have been worn out, and returned by various parties, and are now of no value to any one.

We understand that the sale of the Weber

Piano Forte is exceeding all precedent, and can well understand why all the grand artists severally carry it along with them.

Certainly commendation can hardly go farther than this. I apply to
