Don't forget the masquerade ball.

The Elm City Council, F. of T., met Tuesday night.

Mr. C. R. Thomas will accept our thanks for Public Documents.

Quite a rain fell on Tuesday night accompanied by thunder and lightning.

Another lamp explosion and nearly a serious fire at the Farm's Home last night.

In view of the present high price of gas in this city the consumers call it a burning shame.

The Elm City Council, F. of T., will remove to their handsome new Hall in the Court House building.

The result of an altercation on South Front Street last evening, was a very bloody war. Stick in other man's hand did it.

A lot arrived from Greene County last night with 125 bales of cotton. Greene County has produced a very large crop the past year.

The Board of County Commissioners meet on the first Monday in March. The Board have not yet filled the vacancy in their number.

Eighty thousand pounds of raw cotton, embracing over forty kinds of cuts, and two Hoses Flows now in stock, at Mitchell, Allen & Co.

To be thin is the latest fashionable feminine ambition. Sewing necks are all the rage, and young ladies who nature has not so blessed paint their staid shoulders with scoria wrinkles.

The majority report of the Committee on Privileges and Elections of the Senate in favor of giving ex-Senator Abbott, of North Carolina, the seat now vacant, and for which flow. Yates was elected, is very unanimous, and is signed by Senators Martin, Ross, Carpenter, and Anthony; the minority report by Senators Thurman, Hill and Logan.

Correction. The amount of judgment obtained by Houch & Co., against the city, is only about $700, we learn, instead of an amount heretofore stated.

Important to Mariners. The brigantine, Beaufort Island, which was wrecked on Ocracoke last and last, have been repaired and put in proper position by the Busy Tender Maggie, Capt. Wm. H. Perry, and are safe going once more.

Letter from Jones County. The Jones County Agricultural Society met at Trenton on Monday 5th, February 1872, to perfect organization.

The Committee on Constitution and By-Laws failing to report, their time was extended to 21 March, the time of next meeting. As each member present was requested to bring something in the way of Constitution and By-Laws, it is to be hoped that permanent organization will then be effected, and that the Society will proceed in their work of improving the agricultural prospects of the county.

JOHN FRANCIS. STATE LEGAL. And still they languish in Wilmington.

The Lowerward bill has passed both houses.

We know, the new Raleigh paper, will be issued on Saturday.

John Dryman, a notorious horse thief, has escaped from the Penitentiary.

The Raleigh Free Press will see one thousand delegates to the State Republican Convention.

To Republicans of Wayne have a grand mass meeting in Wayne on the 24th inst., to elect delegates to the State Convention.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

Connecticut will reduce $800,000 of her State bonds the current year.

An American writes from Paris that there is not a good barber shop in the entire city.

A man was fined fifty dollars in Boston for not having notified the proper authorities of a case of small-pox in his family.

Stokes asks a suspension of public opinion. Public opinion is more moderate; it only asks a suspension of Stokes.

In Brillion, Calumet county, Wisconsin, there is a quarry of 300 acres of round-grain marble equal to the Italian.

An order was received at the Watertown arsenal last Sunday to forward a number of fifteen-inch guns to Fort Jackson, Florida, with all possible dispatch.

Some worthless dogs at Leavenworth have killed Dr. Hudson's full-blooded Cashmere goat, valued at $1,500.

Four hundred ploughs have been purchased for distribution in the spring among the destitute farmers of the burnt-out sections of Michigan.

George Francis Train, with his usual modesty, dedicates a book to himself, as "One of the best-hearted fellows that ever lived." How about the head?

The Columbus (Ohio) school board have voted to pay colored teachers the same price as white teachers for the same grades of work. Only one vote was given in opposition.

Some of the Louisville ladies have formed a "Tie-the-Garter above-the-Knee Club." Every gentleman in Kentucky is anxious to be master of ceremonies at the initiatory exercise.

The newest cure for consumption is horse-flesh. In Paris the medical men have discovered its anti-consumptive properties, and "underdone fillet of horse" is becoming a frequent dish.

The receipts of the fair at Horticultural Hall, Boston, for the Society for Promotion of Orality to Animals, were $28,528.60; the expenses were $5,941.16; leaving the net proceeds $22,587.44.

Tril has recently been made at the Crystal Palace, London, of a new illuminating substance, the light from which is white and clear, and so powerful that it causes a flame from gas to cast a shadow.

The manufacture of moosewax is an important branch of industry in Bangor, Maine. The sales aggregate $300,000 per year, and the chief depots are New York, Chicago, St. Paul and Philadelphia.

The Cambridge young ladies refuse to accept courtesies involving an outlay of lace from the Harvard men. They even insist upon paying for their tickets to the college assemblies.

A company of Scotch capitalists have recently purchased five hundred acres of land in Tuscarawas county, O., containing deposits of black-band iron ore, from three to thirteen feet in thickness, for which they paid $150,000.

A committee of the Pennsylvania State Senate have been appointed to investigate the traffic in diplomas by some Philadelphia "colleges," an exposure of whose transactions were made sometime ago by the Press.

There are seven or eight manufactures of mustard in Boston, which unitedly produce nearly 600 tons, the largest using over 1,000,000 pounds of seeds, which are imported from England, Italy and Germany.

[Written for the Banner of Liberty.] SOME THINGS WE NEED NOT DO.

BY BELLA BIRD. We need not lead a lonely life, If we are kind and loving, Nor lack the kindly word and smiles Our daily acts approving.

We need not sing, "There's none to love, Or give us food or care;" If we have but a sunny soul, 'Twill win the love that blesses.

We need not sigh when we go to rest, And say, with heart-ache, "There is no joy in anything; The world is dark and dreary!"

We need not feel when trials come, Our fate is worse than others, For God is good, and His hand comes To us, as to our brothers.

We need not wish the needs of life, And grieve to see them wanting, If from each hour that fits away, Some good of truth we're gaining.

We need not count our years a blank, As o'er the past we ponder, If in the morn and noon of life Our days we do not squander.

We need not fret at little things, Or be forever frowning; When nature wears a smiling face, Our days we should be crowning.

With loving words and noble deeds, And aspirational holy, Or generous efforts made to bless, And elevate the lowly.

Such labors will be a vest to us, And half life's troubles ended, When in our hearts we see the flowers Of love and duty blended.

We need not fear to die, when death To us gives sign and warning; For if we bravely die our best, We'll pass from Night to Morning.

Thus greeting all our days on earth, We need not find them dreary, If with an earnest, honest heart, We strive to make them cheery.

Fraudulent Misrepresentations. Among the pernicious frauds of the period, there is one which especially deserves the reprobation of all who place a proper value on health and life. The swindle referred to consists in the attempts of irresponsible parties, in different sections of the United States, to force upon the market vile astrincent compounds manufactured out of damaged or worthless drugs and refuse liquor, as preparations possessing the rare medical virtues of the most popular and efficacious of all vegetable tonics and alteratives—Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

The concoctors of these "local bitters" are in the truest sense of the phrase, public enemies. Their fiery potions inflame the stomach, stupefy the brains, and shatter the nerves of those who are unwisely enough to accept them as substitutes for the famous Vegetable Invigorant, that for twenty years has been known throughout the Western Hemisphere as a standard article.

The fame of Hostetter's Bitters as a health-preserving, vitalizing medicine, is as wide as the world, and the miserable attempts of needy nostrum-venders to supplant it would be treated with silent contempt, were it not that serious consequences now attending follows the use of the nefarious compounds in question. Whoever recommends any of them as remedies for Dyspepsia, Bilelessness, Constipation, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, or any other complaint for which Hostetter's Bitters is known specific, is guilty of a mortal sin, and a legal malefactor. At this season, when the sun is melting from the earth, in the face of unwholesome vapors, the active principle of disease, a course of Hostetter's Bitters will be of the most service to persons with feeble constitutions.

TRANSFORMING THE COMPLEXION.—The transformations produced by HUGH'S Magnolia Balm are quite as astonishing as any seen in the stars of a theatre. That famous beautifier, transmutes a sallow, peevy looking complexion, into one in which the lily and the rose vie for admiration, and imparts to a dry, harsh skin, the softness of perfumery. Tan and freckles, which country air and sunlight are pretty sure to produce, in spite of parrots and sun-drops, are completely obliterated by it; while, it has a powerful magical effect in banishing under the nose, blemishes and pimples from the skin. When the lady who has used it to remedy her complexion, defects looks in the mirror, she is equally a-bounded and gratified at the improvements in her appearance. Every blemish has disappeared; her neck, arms and bosom now rival in whiteness the snowy collar which encircles her throat, her cheeks exude with peaches-like bloom, and she is ready to invoke a blessing on the inventor of the article which has wrought such a delightful transformation.
