An Unwholesome Season.

The closing days of winter and the early days of spring are very trying to the feeble and sensitive and are apt to effect unpleasantly even the more robust and vigorous. Nothing can be more uncongenial to the nerves or more depre sing to the spirits than domp, chilling winds, fogs and cold rains, and of such unwelcome visitors we have a superabundance at this sea-son. Common prudence suggests, therefore, the propriety of fortifying the system against these insidiors enemies of health and fort, som and the experience of more than a quarter of a century points to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters century points to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as the all-sufficient sanitary siteguard ander such untoward circumstantes. An accession of vital strength and energy is what is required to meet and overcome the unbealthy elements now present in the atmosphere. This increase of vital power, so necessary to meet the extraor-dinary drafts which an indement season makes open t's system and the constitution, can be readily acquired by taking, from two to three doses of Hostetter's Bitters daily during the winter and spring months. The nature of this celebrated restorative is well known to the pub-lic. It is composed of an absolutely pure diffeic. It is composed of an absolutely pure diffa-fusive stimulant, medicated with the extracts and jnices of the most effective tonic, alterative, anti-bilions and larative roots and herbs known to madical science. To the combination of these excelent ingredients, in proportions suit-able to the exigencies of enfeebled. languid and discussed excitants the tonic black languid and lisensed systems, the tonic-alterative owes its efficiency as a preventive and curative. A course of it, commenced now, will prevent all danger of fever and ague, rhuematism, or other atlments arising from cold and damp peculiar to the spring months, and also prove a suff-gaurd against the attacks of dyspepsia and liver complaint which so frequently occur at this period of the year.
