And this Amendment, on which you s we called to vote, and which I plead with you now to vote right, was esperially framed and carefully designed and so worded as to accomplish that very purpose above all others.

It was to protect the vote (forever) of the working man-who, though he may be unschooled and unlettered, is white as any millionaire in America, and loves his country just as patriotically, and than whom none is quicker to defend it-I say it was to protect his vote for as long as he lives that the "Grandfather Clause" was incorporated in the first place; and then when his enemies tried to make him believe that this section might fail in the courts, again it was in the interests and for the good of this same class of citizens that the Legislature was called together to make any such result, however improbable before, utterly impossible now. HE IS INSULTING YOU-RESENT North Carolina in great numbers, and

There is not an honest man in North Carolina today who really believes that It is possible, under the present wording and form of the Amendment, for years. And don't be content to think any court on earth to construe that instrument so that it would deprive a single illiterate or uneducated white man in the State of his vote, who can now vote or who shall become 21 years of age within the next eight years. whose father, grandfather or any other uncestor voted, or was ever entitled to vote, in this country up to the time the negro was given the ballot.

There are too many negroes now who speak slightingly of our honest working white people and falsely assert that they are as good as they. No negro is as good as a white man! He never was and he never will be. But you vote against this Amendment and clothe him anew with the frauthire and with office, and he and the hordes of negroes from other Southern States where they have properly been distranchised that will flock to North Carolina, will try harder than ever to seert themselves politically and sotraitors to their own race as the white kin fellows who are trying to mislead and deceive you on this great question for their own selfish ends and for the benefit of a few who employ them to Butler First Opposes the Amendment It was not until the fall of 1899 that the Caucasian began to antagonize the amendment; and its first antagonism was upon the ground that the fourth and fifth sections being separable, the fourth might stand and the fifth might fall; and it intimated clearly that if the fourth and fifth clauses had been made into one, connected by a proviso, the amendment would have been all right. On September 21 it said: "A FERTINENT INQUIRY.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

NEWTON, N. C., FRIDAY, JULY 13, 1900.

Declaration of Principles Set F fth By the National Convention.

Following is the substance of the platform adopted at Kansas City by the national convention of the Demo- own benefit. A permament flational cratic party: We, the representatives of the Democratic party of the United States, assembled in national convention, on the anniversary of the adoption of the by the fathers of the republic. We paper circulated as money, but withhold with the United States Supreme Court, that the Declaration of Independence is the spirit of our government, of which the constitution is the form and letter. We declare again that all governments instituted among men derive their just powers from the consent of the governed; that any government not based upon the consent of the governed is a tyranny; and that to impose upon any people a government of force is to substitute the methods of imperialism for those of a republic. We hold that the constitution ollows the flag and denounce the doctrine that an executive or Congress, deriving their existence and their powers from the constitution, can exercise lawful authority beyond it, or in violation of it. We assert that no nation can long endure half republic and half empire, and we warn the American people that imperialism abroad will lead quickly and inevitably to despotism at home. PORTO RICAN LAW DENOUNCED. Believing in these fundamental principles, we denounce the Porto Rican law enacted by a Republican Congress, against the protest and opposition of the Democratic minority, as a bold and open violation of the nation's organic law, and a flagrant breach of the national good faith. It imposes upon the people of Porto Rico a government without their consent, and taxation without representation. It dishonors the American people by repudiating a act of its imperalistic programme, the Court in numerous decisions. The fulfillment of this nation's bans is demanded. The Republican policy in the Philippines is severely criticised and

Not a Practical Proposition.

"My dear," said Mrs. Blanks to her husband, "don't you think it would be a good idea to get your life insured?" "No. I don't," he gruffly replied. "If I were to do that it would just be my fool luck to live forever."

"Ob well," meekly answered Mrs.

"That is the eighth boy," said the matron of a city employment bureau recently, "who has come to-day to engage a cook, laundress or parlor maid. Moreover, each one has made a good selection, stated his requirements clearly, and finished in half the time his mother or sister would have occupied." The new boy is as distinct a product of the age as the new woman. He can make his bed, sew buttons on his own clothes, manage a bachelor establishment for his father and himself, make out the menus and do chafing dish cookery, all without losing his rank in school or his prestige among his by w mates.
