Ghastly Crime Committed on Two Old Ladies Near Char ofte. Charlotte, Special.-Two old ladies-Violet J. Colley, aged 75, and her neice Jane Cathcart., who lived alone in a house on a main thoroughfare, five miles from Charlotte, were last week murdered, robbed and their bodies burned. The old ladies were generally reported to be wealthy. It is known that they had a good deal of money They lived a retired life for years and seldom ventured away from home, not even to the city except when business compelled a visit.

The house which they occupied stood within 150 feet of the roadside. Near it was a small building which they used as a kitchen, and in which they kept their stores. People passing along the road noticed that the small house had been burned. There was no sign of life about the place, and an investigation showed that the dwelling had ton ransacked from top to bottom, indicating that a most thorough search had been made for the money which the old ladies were supposed to have kept in the house. Bureaus, cabinets and desks had been opened and their contents strewn about. Every nook and corner of the dwelling bore evidences of having been searched. The general surroundings and the ab sence of the old couple pointed all too plainly to a case of murder, robberg and arson. It was no surprise when a search of the ashes of the small building revealed two burned stumps, the bodies of Miss Colley and her noice.

The supposition is that the old ladies were attacked while they were at supper, after which their residence was sacked and the house in which their bodies lay was fired. For years past they were known to have been accumulating money, and had probably $11,-200 saved up. There is absolutely no clew to the perpetrators of the duel. The neighborhood people are greatly stirred up, and both city and county officials are using every effort to get a trace of the murderers.

Baptist State Convention.

Raleigh, Special.-The Baptist State Convention, which meets here December 5th, will be the seventieth annual one. It met here last in 1892. Rev. Dr. R. H. Marsh, of Oxford, will preside. The number of church members within this convention is 167,000, an increase of 7,000 over last year. There are 140,000 negro Baptists in the State. The contributions for foreign State and home missions during the year aggregate $45,000, an increase of $5,000 ever last year. This does not include educational collections. All the Baptist educational institutes are most flourishing and 1,500 students men. are attending them. They include Wake Forest College for young men, the Baptist Female University at Raleigh, Oxford Female Seminary, Choacademies, some of the latter having as many as 300 students.
