Mt. Ulla Items.

Correspondence of The Enterprise.
Mt. Ulla, Nov. 30.—Well I will try and write the good to old Enterprise and its many readers a few items from this point.

Thanksgiving has come and gone and everything passed off quietly. Some went visiting and others hunting.

Mt. Ulla is a bustling little town. It has a graded school, two general stores, a roller mill and three near-by churches. Mr. J. C. Sherrill our hustling merchant and cotton buyer has not been here but a short while, and thinks this is a real nice country.

Mr. W. Y. Travis of Catawba is our depot agent. He is a real nice and learned agent.

Mr. S. E. Sloop and Mr. A. K. Goodman are our R. F. D. carriers. They are so good and kind. Messrs. Brown and Melchior are the general men.

Mt. Ulla is a noted place for shipping logs, blocks, lumber, etc.

This scrib holds a position as clerk for Mr. J. C. Sherrill & Co.

Oh! Gee, what has become of A. S. K? our noted Seven Springs correspondent. Come on old pard, this is J. W. S. of Mount Mourne; same old kid, except he is married now old pard, but don't take it for granted. I don't want to get up a controversy between you and myself.

I will close with best wishes to you,
J. W. S.

UNCLE JOE.

President Samuel Spencer, of Southern Railway, Killed in Fatal Wreck on Southern.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—President Samuel Spencer, of the Southern Railway, was killed this morning in a wreck which occurred at Lawyer, 11 miles south of Lynchburg.

Several members of the party who were in the President Spencer's car are reported to be seriously injured.

At the general offices of the Southern Railway the following statement has been issued:

"Southern Railway passenger train No. 33, left Washington last night late, by reason of the congested holiday traffic. About 6:30, at Lawyer, Va., on a portion of the road protected by the block system, the train was stopped for slight repairs on the couplings. Passenger train 37, following 33 and being given a clear block, ran into the rear of 33, resulting in a serious wreck.

"Our present advices indicate the collision was probably due to the negligence of the operator in allowing 37 to pass the block.

"President Spencer and party of friends were in the officer's car at the rear of 33 and the reports are that President Spencer was killed and several of the party seriously injured.

Watt Davis, special train dispatcher of the Southern, is among the killed.

President Spencer's body was burned beyond recognition.

Philip Schuyler of New York, one of the President Spencer's party, was also killed, as was Spencer's special train dispatcher, D. W. Davis, of Alexandria, and Engineer Terry.

One man, not yet identified, was also killed.

Eight negroes were injured,

one probably fatally.

President Spencer's coach was entirely burned.

VIVID STORY OF WRECK

President Samuel Spencer of the Southern Railway system, who was on route to the South on a hunting trip was killed this morning in a rear end collision at Lawyer, ten miles south of Lynchburg. The private car in which he was riding was struck and split open by the colliding locomotive. It immediately caught fire and the body of President Spencer was burned almost beyond recognition.

In the car with him were Philip Schuyler of New York; Spencer's Private Secretary, Murrill and Private Dispatcher D. W. Davis of Alexandria. Operator Davis was crushed and died in 15 minutes. Schuyler was instantly killed, but his body was not badly burned before it was rescued by passengers.

Engineer C. Terry who was on the rear train was killed. There is another man among the killed whose name cannot be learned.

Private Secretary Murrill was wounded, but the nature of his injuries have not been learned.

Twelve or fifteen passengers, most of them negroes, were wounded, only one of whom is thought fatally.

Eight negroes are in the city hospital here.

The collision was between the Jacksonville express and the Washington and Southwestern vestibuled limited.

The Jacksonville train stopped on the top of a very heavy grade a mile north of Lawyers depot to repair a slight break down and it is said before the flagman could get back to protect his train, the Atlanta train dashed into it.

BODY UNDER ENGINE.

The heavy engine of the train plowed into the private car of President Spencer, in which he and his guests were supposed to be sleeping. Immediately the private car caught fire. Wreckage was piled around the engine as through placed there by human hands to consume it. Every portion of the wood work on the engine was burned and the monster machine stands there torn and twisted and will have to be turned down the embankment as it is useless.

It was under the locomotive that the burned body of President Spencer was found. It is evident that Mr. Spencer was killed instantly and did not suffer the torture of being burned.

DANGER FROM THE PLAGUE.

There's grave danger from the plague of Coughs and colds that are so prevalent, unless you take Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Mrs. G. O. Walls, of Forest City, Me., writes: "It's a godsend to people living in climates where coughs and colds prevail. I find it quietly ends them. It prevents Pneumonia, cures La Grippe, gives wonderful relief in Asthma and Hay fever, and makes weak lungs strong enough to ward off Consumption, Coughs and Colds. 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by T. R. Abernethy's drug store. Trial bottle free."

Can Be Heard One Mile.

The Musical Age.

Phonograph which can be heard a mile away is the new French invention, the elgephone. The sound is produced by the use of what are called speaking flames, and the principles governing the method were first explained in 1903 by G. C. Porter before the London Physical Society.

Mr. Porter found that if a turning fork be struck and then held in the flame of a bunsen burner the sound is perceptibly increased. The maximum of sound intensity occurs when the fork is held where the flame is hottest.

The French inventor, G. Lambert, uses a record which has the sound vibration marked not in depth, but in length, and the stylus travels horizontally, like a pendulum. The stylus separates the gas chamber into two parts and the gas then passes on to the burners. The vibrations of the disk open and close the gas openings, causing the flow to vary.

The sound is so intense that it can be heard a mile away. It can be lessened by regulating the burner, but the power of sound is found to be always proportional to the energy given out during combustion.

VINOL SETTLES.

The Cod Liver Oil Question.

No one will dispute the curative and strength creating value of cod liver oil. For centuries it has been recognized as the grandest of all healing and bodybuilding agents for wasted human strength and vitality.

Yet, owing to the heavy, greasy oil which envelopes the medicinal elements, and which has no value either as a food or medicine, many patients weakened by disease cannot digest it either in its raw form or an emulsion, and others will not take it on account of its disagreeable odor and taste—consequently its value is lost.

Now, the process discovered by two eminent French chemists—Morgues and Gautier—should interest every person in Newton, for all of the tonic, bodybuilding and curative elements of cod liver oil are now separated from the greasy, useless oil, and given to the people in delicious Vinol. For this reason it is fast superseding old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions.

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, weak women, delicate children, and after sickness and all pulmonary diseases, it is recommended by over 5,000 of the leading druggists of the United States as the best.

Your money back if it does not do all we claim.

NOTE—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Newton, it is now for sale in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

Dr. Dixon's Objection.

Very many North Carolinians have of late months been much interested in the movement which has for its object the erection of a reformatory for youthful criminals. We have regarded this proposal as second only in importance for the State. A step to which we should long ago have been led by the most elementary dictates of humanity. Those who have taken an active interest in the matters of supreme importance to the State will learn with regret that in this work they must encounter the opposition of the state auditor, Major B. F. Dixon. It is likewise safe to say that this feeling of disappointment will not be unmixed with surprise, when the grounds of the opposition of this official are understood. Dr. Dixon takes the position that if such a reformatory is established, justice and the Constitution will require that such provision be made for the youthful colored criminals; and that some negro parents would lead their children into crime in order to get them into the reformatory. Negro parents, he thinks, will thus endeavor to escape the responsibility and expense of bringing up their children.

This assumption, we take it, is rather gratuitous, and certainly far-fetched. We have never noted in the negro a greater fondness for jails and kindred institutions than is evidenced by the white man. This sounds like Dr. Dixon, the politician, rather than Dr. Dixon, the former Methodist minister, and once superintendent of the Oxford Orphan asylum. If it is going to be possible to throw off this plain duty to society in this offhand, complaisant manner, then public responsibilities will sit very light upon us in the future.—Gazette-News.

"My mother has suddenly been made young at 70. ### Signs in the Sky.

Atlanta Constitution.

"Yes, sir," said old Uncle Billy, who comes in occasionally with country produce, via the East Point road. "I shore do see wonders in the sky these cool November nights. Only last night em come to clost to me My hat wuz knocked one-sided, an a hole burnt in the brim. Night before that, whilst I wuz a-surveyin, of the heavens—so to speak—I seen a perfect picture of a sword, bout where the moon would a been at that time if she hadn't been late; then there wuz a big crack in the sky, like a winder shutter suddenly thrown wide open an I hearn sweet singin, an harp playin, most distinct. Oh, there's wonderful thing join on aove you that you do't know nuthin, about—I tell you Ah, there trouble in store for this ol' country, shore's you're born. ### Child Born With Two Heads.

In the home of Will Davis, who lives in Beech Mountains township, on the night of November 4th, was born a boy baby with two heads, each a perfect head with perfect necks, one from each shoulder. This baby lived about 20 minutes each head gasping for breath and struggling alive, and then died. It weighed 6½ pounds. It was the writer's privilege to see this baby and can verify the truthfulness of this narrative. The father and mother are both young, the mother about 22, the father a little older. One other child has been born to this union.—Correspondent Watanga Democrat.
