"Pigs is Pigs"

The department of agriculture could not have hit upon a happier time to launch the pig club move ment in Guilford county. With the war raging in Europe this country has a practical demonstation of the fact that whereas cotton and tobacco are luxuries in a sense that the world can dispense with them for a time, "pigs is pigs." Wars may come and dethrone King Cotton at any moment. Financial stringency may lay waste the dukedom of tobacco, as it is laid waste today. But the bourgeous of razorwecome in marts where the nobility fears to tread.

Neither 5 50 from home brokers nor from 5 50 the Texas or Georgia markets can cotton be bought for less than 9 1.2 or 9 3.4, and this goes to show that the holding movement is getting in its work. It further shows the determination of the farmer not to sacrifice the crop and their ability to bring about results. The cotton mills have no offerings at eight cents and it is said that the mill men are finding some trouble in getting supplies at higher figures.
