

Wheat Payments Begin This Fall

Farmers Will Be Asked To Lower Acreage Not More Than 20 Per Cent

The campaign to adjust the wheat acreage of North Carolina so that commercial growers may receive a parity price for the grain is beginning to take shape.

John W. Goodman, district farm agent for the State college agricultural extension service, has been located at Salisbury, center of the wheat growing area for this state, and is mapping plans for the adjustment campaign. County farm agents are explaining the contracts and method of procedure in the principal wheat growing counties and are receiving assistance from the college extension specialists.

According to I. O. Schaub, director of the adjustment program, the contracts will offer growers 20 cents a bushel this fall and either eight or ten cents a bushel next spring on an allotment of 1,978,000 bushels which is approximately 54 per cent of the average past five-year production in North Carolina.

In the contract, the grower will be asked to reduce the acreage planted for the 1934 and 1935 crops by the percentage that the secretary of agriculture may determine is necessary to control production. In no case will that reduction be over 20 per cent of a grower's average acreage for the past three years.

Checks will begin to be mailed to the wheat growers as soon as the wheat control associations have been formed to administer the plan locally and the contracts have all been signed and accepted.

Mr. Goodman says full details of how the plan will work may be found in the federal publication, "A Balanced Harvest," which has been prepared by the agricultural adjustment administration and is now being distributed by county agents in the main wheat producing counties.

Frazier Sentenced For Petty Larceny

Wilkesboro Young Man Is Given Twelve Months On The Road

F. D. Frazier, who was arrested several weeks ago on a charge of stealing from the sheriff's office, was convicted of petty larceny by the jury in Wilkes Superior court Saturday. Judge T. B. Finley sentenced him to 12 months on the road.

The word "manslaughter" was inadvertently inserted in the story in Monday's issue and The Journal-Patriot regrets this error exceedingly.

4 Die As Speeding Car Leaves Street

Farmville, N. Y., Aug. 20.—Four persons were killed and three others injured, two perhaps fatally, when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into a tree on East Main street today.

The automobile, which police said was traveling at high speed, failed to make a left turn and swerved off the road. Striking a tree stump it bounded into the air and crashed sideways against another tree.

Those killed were: Jeremiah Halpin, the driver; James Lynch, Patrick Savage, and Margaret Savage, 10-year-old daughter of Savage, all of Rye.

Thomas McCarthy, of Port Chester, Patrick Savage, Jr., 18, and Mrs. Patrick Savage, were taken to Peekskill hospital, where McCarthy and young Savage were reported dangerously hurt.

FRANK GRIST WED

Raleigh, Aug. 21.—FRANK D. Grist, former North Carolina commissioner of labor, who was awarded a divorce here last June from Mrs. Jessie Deal Grist, was married to Miss Elizabeth Grist at York, S. C., Saturday, according to announcements received here today.

Mr. and Mrs. Grist will make their home at York. She is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Grist of that place.

Grist served eight years as state commissioner of labor, being succeeded last January by Maj. A. L. Fletcher. In the first Democratic primary in 1932 for the United States senatorial nomination, Grist was a candidate for the seat now held by Senator Robert R. Reynolds.

Although there were more people injured by runaway horses than by drunken drivers in the streets of New York last month, deaths and injuries resulting from vehicular accidents averaged almost the same as in 1932.

We Pledge Whole-Hearted Backing to N. R. A.

The Blue Eagle of loyalty to the President in his drive for return of employment and prosperity, now adorns store fronts throughout the nation. As soon as requirements of the code are clarified they will be put into effect fully, and in the spirit as well as the letter.

America's independent retail merchants gladly face the triple task of—

1. Establishing 40-hour week for employees.
2. Increasing employment and raising wage scales.
3. Maintaining retail prices at lowest possible levels.

Difficult readjustments are required, sacrifices must be made, additional risks taken, and retrenchment programs scrapped.

All of this is being done in unselfish zeal for benefiting the entire community and placing it squarely back of the President in his campaign for national prosperity.

Public Must Do Its Part if Plan is to Succeed

N R A can be effective in restoring prosperity only if every element of the population does its part without stint. If one section of the program falls down it will drag the rest down with it.

Two things are asked of the buying public in order to assure the success of the retailers' part in N R A:

1. Patronize those merchants who display the Blue Eagle banner. They must know the public is with them in order to carry on. They must have increased volume of sales in order to meet the requirements of the act. They must be protected from unfair competition of slackers.

2. Remember, in many instances store hours will be changed and shortened. Buy in the early part of the shopping period. Do not make it necessary for clerks to work overtime.

If everybody does his part the success of this campaign is assured.
