LEAGUE SEASON OFF TO A GOOD START

Millers Creek Wins
Millers Creek eked out a 9 to 8 victory over Purlaar on the Purlaar field. Millers Creek was off to a big lead which seemed entirely safe until the eighth inning when Winfield Cooper came to bat with the bases loaded and crashed a triple, scoring three runs and tying the score. The Millers Creek nine came back in their half of the ninth, however, and scored a run, which with Leslie Rhodes, Millers Creek pitcher, hurling superb ball, was sufficient to win the game.

Wilkesboro Wins
Wilkesboro came through with a 19 to 8 triumph over Grier Mills at Wilkesboro when the pitchers of both teams weakened in the latter half of the game and turned a pitchers' duel into a batting rampage.

Lon Miller for Grier and Tom Bumgarner for Wilkesboro started out with mid-season form, but weakened later. It was a well played game and the outcome was in doubt until the last out was made.

Clingman Victorious
Clingman defeated the Wild Tigers 13 to 7 on the latter's field near Cranberry. Both teams showed excellent form and give promise of being among the leaders in the league chase.

Managers T. B. Hospital Meet

Institution Keeping Within Budget; Improvements Have Been Made

The Board of Managers of the Wilkes County T. B. Hospital met last Friday morning in the directors room of the Bank of North Wilkesboro to transact such business that needed attention. Every member but one was present in addition to Mrs. Bertha Bell County Nurse, Dr. A. J. Eller, County Physician and Miss Inez Absher representing the County Welfare Department.

Reports were made as to the material improvements during recent weeks and a vote of thanks extended to all those making gifts to the institution. Mrs. Bell and Dr. Eller told of the condition of the patients and the probable number of new patients to be admitted as an outcome of the recent T. B. Clinic held in the county.

By unanimous vote the hours from 1 to 3 p. m. daily were set aside as quiet hours. No visitors are to be admitted during that period. All visitors will be asked to leave at 8:30 p. m. This rule is to be strictly enforced. A sign is to be placed at the entrance of the hospital grounds to this effect and also in the building.

The Board is quite happy by reason of the fact that the institution is keeping well within the budget this year.

Miss Cora Miller, the matron, was given two afternoons each week away from the hospital for recreation.

Mrs. Bertha Bell asked for material for gowns. Such material has been provided by the Red Cross. The garments will be made immediately.

The menus for a week were studied carefully and showed a variety of foods being served. Some important changes were made.

An executive committee meeting was held to care for one item overlooked at the regular meeting. It was ordered that no patient leaving the hospital is to take any property belonging to the institution. This applies especially to thermometers.

Mrs. J. D. Moore, Dr. Eller and Mrs. Bell were appointed a committee to see that the rulings of the Board are carried out.

Mrs. Palmer Horton is Secretary of the Board. J. H. Armstrong is Chairman. The other members are Mrs. J. D. Moore, Mrs. J. C. Reins, Mrs. C. E. Jenkins, Mrs. Edward Finley, M. F. Absher, County Commissioner, and J. M. Absher, Supt. County Home.

Kelvinator Sale To End Saturday

The North Wilkesboro branch office of the Southern Public Utilities company will close its record-breaking Kelvinator campaign Saturday night, June 3, at midnight. The campaign has broken all local records, home-makers of Wilkes purchasing more Kelvinators during the past 60 days than for any two years before.

The low prices of Kelvinators and the power company's new low rates for residential use are so attractive that the increase in sales is not unexpected.

The sale will come to an end at midnight Saturday. For the benefit of patrons of the local office, Manager M. G. Butner stated today that the office will remain open each night this week until 10 o'clock.

The present prices on Kelvinators are not guaranteed after the campaign ends, an increase in prices of other things being expected.

IMMORTALITY

If God can cause the tiny flower To spring from the barren earth And draw it's life from unseen power—

Can not our souls have future birth?

If God can paint a rainbow in the sky—

If He can clothe the grass in a dress of green,

Can He not lift our souls from a lifeless grave,

And give us life that is now unseen?

If the Master can cause a bush of thorns

To produce a lovely summer rose,

Can He not awake man on the Eternal morn',

And lift him from his earthly repose?

So let us live a life of faith

That no force can ever destroy,

And we shall meet at the Golden Gate,

And there we shall dwell in Eternal Joy.

The Family DOCTOR

By John Joseph Gains, M. D.

IN TOUCH WITH PEOPLE
Of course I am, and have always been a small-town man. I prefer it that way. I can contact my people at first hand. I can know them as they are. I get an understanding of human nature—facts as well as fables—that is impossible for the city practitioner. And, here I learn to love my people; had you ever thought of that? By the same token, as the Irishman said, it is possible that they learn to love—possibly hate—me. I'm taking the risk for that. Here in "the sticks" I have the golden opportunity of trying to make them love me.

I have noticed that folks in the big cities haven't time to love each other, unless there is some money in it one way or the other. The city dweller does a thing if it brings him distinct pleasure—if not that, it must be spot cash!

One morning during early Spring, I saw a little girl of nine, skurrying along to school; she was a well-nourished child, apparently strong and active. She could not know what was passing in my mind, as I gave her the "once-over." But I observed this:

Her skirt did not reach to her knees by two inches. It was good, heavy fabric. The thermometer was at 13 above zero—a very cool morning. That girl's knees were bare! Her stockings were crinkled about her ankles; her calves and shins were exposed to the weather. Three of four abrasions were healing over on her legs where she had evidently "peeled" them on the concrete or in a rough-and-tumble outdoor game. I caught these points in the half-minute that she was under my observation.

Then, I reflected what I'd say to that girl's mother, if I had the opportunity. You can guess what it would have been.

Raps Legislature

Asheville.—The 1933 General Assembly of North Carolina had a marked tendency to pass unconstitutional laws and "to let down the moral standards of the state," according to Representative Julius C. Martin, prominent Asheville attorney. Mr. Martin, who took a leading part in the session just closed, referred to the liberalization of the divorce laws, passage of the beer bill, and refusal of the two houses to pass the reapportionment and redistricting bills as required by the state constitution.

She (as they motored to the big city church: "Aren't these chimes melodiously beautiful? Such harmony! So inspiring! They thrill me!"

He: "You'll have to speak louder. Those confounded bells are making such a racket I can't hear a word you say."

Enjoyable Meet Of Kiwanis Club

Kiwanians To Encourage Farmers To Sell More Milk to Cheese Plant

If 6,000 additional pounds of milk were delivered to the local cheese factory daily, it would mean an increase of one cent in price, members of the North Wilkesboro Kiwanis club were told Friday in the report of S. V. Tomlinson, chairman of the club's agricultural committee, who urged that Kiwanians encourage the farmers to sell more milk.

The report filed by Mr. Tomlinson with the board of directors was summarized at the regular weekly luncheon at Hotel Wilkes Friday. There has already been an increase in price, but a further increase would be allowed if the supply were that much more, the report said.

Dr. Fred C. Hubbard presided during the business session and the reports of the forestry and publicity committees were outlined briefly. J. R. Finley, of the publicity committee, in his report, noted the progress in the construction of the bridge across the Yadkin River and said he felt the Kiwanis club had a little part in doing something for the city by urging upon the state the installation of wiring arrangements. He also called attention to the possibility of securing additional equipment for the official weather observer here.

E. G. Finley, reporting for the forestry committee, said he had learned that unless additional acreage could be obtained without charge to North Carolina, some of the boys enlisted in reforestation work would probably have to go elsewhere to work. He thought this a splendid opportunity for someone who had plenty of land to make a worth-while contribution.

The program was in charge of J. R. Finley, who presented Miss Ellen Robinson, popular vocalist, who sang very delightfully "Little Boy Blue" and then gave a parody on "Springtime in the Rockies," singing it for the Brushies. Mrs. L. M. Nelson accompanied at the piano.

Mr. Finley told of his discovery of an old hotel register, dated 1828 to 1830, which had been used in Wilkesboro to record the guests.

A feature of the program was an address by Henry Reynolds, versatile after-dinner speaker, who gave some high spots in the history of Wilkes county and the state of Franklin. In his usual interesting and delightful way, Mr. Reynolds gave some very interesting facts not generally known by the average citizen.

Mr. Finley, the program chairman, had as his guests, Mrs. Finley, Mr. and Mrs. Sam P. Mitchell and son, Phil, and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Grier.

49 PRISONERS ESCAPE

Twenty-seven prisoners have been recaptured this month while 18 were apprehended in April (23 in March, 20 in February and 24 in January).

"Aunt" Julia enjoyed the confidence and respect of all her acquaintances and her passing was mourned by both the white and colored people of the Wilkesboros. The high esteem in which she was held by the white people was evidenced by the large number of white people attending the funeral.

The last rites, which were in charge of Rev. Scates, were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. Home church in Wilkesboro. The floral offerings were profuse.

Surviving "Aunt" Julia are the following children: Jones, of Chicago; Arthur, of Gary, W. Va.; Mabel Allbright, of Guilford College; Odell, of Jockin, W. Va.; Nan Harper, of Norfolk, Va., and Silas, of Wilkesboro.

Girl: "Oh, I don't know. It might be your face or perhaps it's your general appearance."

Mr. Wright stated Friday that a few principals have failed to send in their final reports and these are necessary before he can complete his report. He hopes to complete the report in a short time and promptness on the part of the teachers will aid him greatly, he stated.
