Need Fall Crops For Dairy Cows

Short Hay Crop Means That Additional Acreage For Winter Crops Needed

The short hay crop occasioned by the continued dry weather in North Carolina this past summer means that an additional acreage should be planted to winter-growing crops this fall. "The need for temporary pastures next spring on most North Carolina dairy farms will be urgent," declares John A. Arey, dairy extension specialist at State college. "The supplies of hay on most of these farms will be exhausted by February or March, especially where there are no silos and a few cows are kept for cream production. Usually when the supply of hay is exhausted the cows are turned on the permanent pastures whether there is anything to eat on them or not. Neither is the condition of the soil considered. This means that the cows damage the sod and get little nutrition from the early grasses." If temporary grazing is provided through March and part of April, the cows may be kept off the permanent pasture until the grass has made a desirable growth and the soil is dry enough to prevent damage to the sod from trampling. Arey says most any of the small grains might be used to supply this temporary grazing; but, a mixture composed of several well used alone. One good mixture is two bushels of Abruzzi rye and 15 pounds of crimson clover an acre. Another which he highly recommends consists of one bushel of Abruzzi rye, one bushel of beardless wheat, one bushel of beardless barley and 10 pounds of crimson clover. The first mixture should be planted during the latter part of August and up until September 15 while the second mixture should be planted between September 15 and October 15. Heavy seeding and a fertile soil are necessary for best results in securing spring grazing. Two tons of ground limestone per acre with 400 to 500 pounds of fertilizer applied at seeding will give best results.

PREPARE WHEAT LAND IN ADVANCE OF SOWING

The best wheat farmers of North Carolina do not seed their wheat on freshly prepared land. "A well-prepared seed bed is essential with wheat and assures good stands and heavier yields. However, this seed bed ought to be prepared sometime in advance and allowed to settle. The land should be prepared from four to eight weeks before seeding time, if possible," says P. H. Kime, agronomist for the North Carolina experiment station. "A well pulverized seed bed, rather loose on top and compact but not hard underneath is most desirable. It will hold moisture much better than a loose, cloddy bed." Kime believes that disking is to be preferred to deep plowing in preparing land for wheat. Especially is this true where the land has been in summer crops and cannot be plowed before October 1. Clover sods and other lands not in summer crops should be plowed during August or early September and disked two or three weeks later. This gives time for the vegetation to rot and the soil to settle. Harrowing or light disking just before sowing the wheat will prepare a good surface for seeding. In many cases, plowing the land for wheat is not desirable. Certain loamy soils that were well broken in the spring can often be put in better shape for wheat by a heavy disk than by the plow. Fields planted to soybeans or cowpeas for hay, or corn for silage is an example of this. Fall plowing is necessary, however, where the land is covered with a heavy growth of vegetation or the soil is tight and compact, Kime says. These suggestions also apply to barley, fall oats and rye, he says. Man Shoots Wife And Leaps To Death Through a Window Philadelphia, Aug. 26.—After wounding his wife in their north Philadelphia home, police said Louis Martine, 56, leaped to his death today from a second-story rear window.

Texans Back Repeal And Legalized Beer

Vote In 237 of 254 Counties Of State Gives Majorities Of Over 100,000

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 27.—Senator Morris Sheppard's hope of making Texas the first of the 13 states to block repeal of the 18th amendment was buried tonight under a majority of more than 110,000 votes reported from Saturday's prohibition referendum. With votes tabulated from 237 of the state's 254 counties, 34 of them complete, anti-prohibitionists today held a lead of 270,925 to 159,859 upon the proposal to list Texas as the 23rd state to ratify removal of the amendment from the constitution. In the same tabulation the Texas election bureau reported 274,677 votes for the proposal to legalize 3.2 per cent beer through an amendment to the state constitution, with 150,972 against. Sheppard, blue-eyed, 58-year-old Democrat frequently called the "father of the 18th amendment" because of his efforts in writing prohibition into the national constitution, stomped the state's 31 senatorial districts preceding Saturday's referendum. Under a blazing August sun, the Texas-born senator carried his plea that the Lone Star state eschew beer and halt the anti-prohibition drive.

FAMILY IS RESCUED FROM ROOF OF HOME

Elizabeth City, Aug. 25.—A story of the rescue of a coast guard's family, his wife and four children who were swept nearly a mile into the sound while clinging to the roof of their home during the hurricane early Wednesday morning, was told at seventh district coast guard headquarters here today. Surtman A. S. Tolar, on duty at Little Island station, 11 miles south of Virginia Beach, Va., fought his way through the raging tide to his home to bring his family to the station or safety. "We couldn't get back," he said today, "no one could have lived in that current. A few minutes after I got in the house it began to go to pieces. We fled to the kitchen and from there climbed to the roof of the kitchen porch. "The entire house collapsed a few minutes later, and clinging to the roof, which was the only thing that was holding together, we were swept out into the bay. A coast guard crew went to their rescue but their boat was smashed when they reached the house and they climbed on the roof. A fisherman came by in a dory and took the Tolar family to safety and when coast guardsmen saw an empty boat drifting by, they took it and made their way back to the station. All nine houses of the crew at the station were swept away, as well as an old station building."

42 DEATHS REPORTED IN WAKE OF HURRICANE

The toll of death and property damage piled to disastrous heights Thursday night as the east cleared away the debris from its most terrific tempest in years. The death list stood at 42 lives lost. The destruction, impossible of approximate calculation in such widespread devastation, mounted into many millions of dollars. While the sun peeped through storm-blackened skies sporadically Thursday, many localities were still in distress from the gale and deluge that battered the Atlantic seaboard.

In the almost a week of severe lashings its famous shore has suffered, New Jersey counted eight storm deaths. In Pennsylvania 12 persons were drowned or killed; Virginia, its renowned resort of Ocean View and Virginia Beach washed with destruction, tallied 10 deaths; in Maryland, there were 11 deaths.

ETHRIDGE IS NAMED TO MAJOR STATE POST

Raleigh, Aug. 25.—State college interpreting the delay of Governor Ehringhaus in making his major appointments to mean that Colonel J. W. Harrelson, director of conservation and development, would not be reappointed, had fixed a teaching chair for the colonel who was told officially yesterday to get ready to sit in it when Mr. Ehringhaus named Representative R. Bruce Ethridge of Dare, to succeed Colonel Harrelson.

The long orphaned provinces along the sea thus get further redemption, enough of it to start observers again. Their general crack is that his excellency has given no important position to anybody west of Durham. The immediate answer to that fling at his excellency was that Governor Ehringhaus reappointed E. B. Jefferson, of Greensboro, as head of the highway department. The instantaneous, surjoinder of the wisecrackers was that Mr. Ehringhaus did no such thing, that this highway appointment had gone to George Ross Pou. But Mr. Ehringhaus confounded his critics by announcing to a cockeyed world that Mr. Jefferson is in "name and in fact" head of the highway and public works commission in its operation and in its personnel.

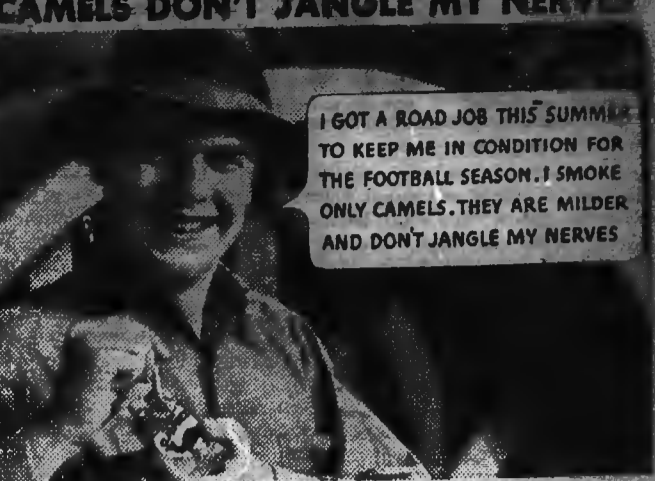

FIFTH BABY IS SOLD FOR HOSPITAL FEES

Tulsa, Okla., Aug. 21.—Miss Helen Schaeffer, director of the Tulsa Children's Service bureau, said today a fifth baby had been "sold" here recently to pay hospital costs of its unmarried mother. Miss Schaeffer, whose discovery that four other infants had been sold for $70 to $100 led to an investigation by the state commissioner of charities and corrections, said she expected "to find new cases every now and then."

"We have not reached the end of our investigation," she said. "All our findings will be turned over to the Tulsa County Medical society in due time." Mrs. Mable Bassett, state charities commissioner, had returned to Oklahoma City today after examining the evidence Miss Schaeffer obtained and is preparing a report for Dr. Carl Simpson, society secretary. The society will study the report at its next meeting, September 11. There is no state law that pro-
