W. C. T. U. Met With Mrs. Seymour Taylor
The March meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Seymour Taylor in Wilkesboro. The meeting was presided over by Rev. Mr. Taylor, who told very interestingly of a meeting that he had attended recently in Raleigh. He spoke very encouragingly of the outlook of the work of the organization and mentioned a number of things that the W. C. T. U. members should do. The devotional for the afternoon was led by Mrs. Dewey Minton, and the prayer was offered by Mrs. C. E. Jenkins. Mrs. R. E. Farr, the president, presided for the business part of the meeting. The April meeting is scheduled to meet with Mrs. Jenkins.

Wilkesboro Missionary Society In Fine Meeting
Mrs. George Johnson and Mrs. E. L. Wellborn combined hospitality to the Wilkesboro Baptist Missionary Society at the home of the former on Thursday afternoon in its monthly meeting. Inspirational talks, a large attendance and a shower for a popular bride marked the meeting as one of much interest. Around thirty-five members and visitors were present to hear the two splendid talks made by Mrs. Gilbert Foster and Miss Myrtle Venable. Miss Venable, a guest of Mrs. G. T. Mitchell, is from Spartanburg, S. C. Mrs. F. G. Holman, president of the society, occupied the chair for the business session at which time the usual routine of business was transacted.

The home throughout was prettily decorated in the bridal colors of green and white forming a festive scene for the large number of guests. At the close of the afternoon delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses. Miss Eulah Mae Lowe, whose marriage to Rev. Avery Milton Church was solemnized on Sunday afternoon, was given a miscellaneous shower by the society. A huge yellow basket, filled with lovely gifts and placed

N. W. Methodist Young People Enjoy Weiner Roast
Miss Beatrice Pearson and her brother, Clyde Pearson, were hostess and host at a delightful weiner roast at the Pearson cabin on the Lenoir highway Thursday evening and had as guests the young people of the North Wilkesboro Methodist church, mostly League members of which Miss Pearson is president. Roasting weiners and popping corn over the huge open fire proved to be a delightful pastime for those attending. Chaperones for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Gabriel and Mrs. Rom Pearson.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Host At St. Patrick Party
One of the most enjoyable social affairs of the week was the St. Patrick party given Monday evening at the Legion club house when Mrs. Gilbert Foster, County CWA Administrator, and Mr. Foster were hosts to Mrs. Foster's office staff, the district supervisor, Wally Wynn, and the district auditor, L. P. Gwaltney and Mrs. Gwaltney and a number of their friends.

The large room of the club house was attractively decorated in a color scheme of yellow and green, with the Irish green predominating. Jonquils were used in profusion while the open fire added much cheer. The room was decorated with green and white, glowing over the entire room. Mr. and Mrs. Foster received at the door and were assisted by Ed. Hunt, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Murphy Hunt, who was attired in a St. Patrick costume.

All kinds of Irish games and contests were enjoyed throughout the evening, including the potato race, a Tipperary contest, a word contest of "pats", and of Irish tunes, the tunes being played on the piano by Mrs. A. F. Kilby. In matching for partners Irish names and shamrocks were used, and a number of prizes were awarded during the games and contests. A colored quartette, composed of the Barber boys, sang a number of spirituals and other numbers.

A salad course with accessories, which furthered the accepted motif, was served during the evening. The guests were seated at long tables spread with white covers down the center of which extended strips of green paper holding huge bowls of jonquils. Shamrocks were given to the forty some guests as favors. Following the course of refreshments bingo was enjoyed for quite awhile.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowe Honored Bridal Party At Reception
Following the rehearsal for the Lowe-Church wedding at the Wilkesboro Baptist church on Saturday evening at 7:30, the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lowe, were hosts at their home in Wilkesboro at an informal reception honoring the bridal party. Spring flowers were used in profusion in the living room. In the dining room, where dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Lowe and her daughter, Miss Eulah Mae Lowe, a color note of pink and white was emphasized throughout. A silver bowl filled with pink carnations and surrounded by white candles in silver holders graced the lace-covered table, where the bride's cake held place of honor. The cutting of the bride's cake, which was decorated with a miniature bride and groom, and tiny candles, and containing the wedding tokens, was an enjoyable feature of the evening.

Mrs. Carlton Hostess To Her Bridge Club
Mrs. Hill Carlton was hostess to the members of the Friday Bridge Club, of which she is a member, at her home on Sixth Street Friday afternoon. Two tables were made up for the game and at the close of play a salad course was served. Spring flowers were effectively arranged in the home.

Wilkesboro Woman's Club Held Meeting Friday P. M.
The monthly meeting of the Wilkesboro Woman's club was held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. R. Gray with Mrs. Warner Miller and Mrs. H. A. Cranor joining as hostess. No special program was given but the time was spent in summarizing up the year's work and discussing ways and means for raising funds for the community clubhouse. Mrs. L. B. Duta, the president, presided for the business session. During the pleasant social hour following the meeting tempting refreshments were served. Miss Myrtle Venable, of Spartanburg, S. C., a guest of Mrs. G. T. Mitchell was a visitor at the meeting.

Miss Rebecca Brame Hostess To J. U. G. Club
The girls of the J. U. G. club, with a number of boys as guests, were delightfully entertained by Miss Rebecca Brame at her home on Monday evening. A series of games and contests were played throughout the evening after which dainty refreshments were served.

Wilkes County G. C. Club Met With Mrs. J. B. Carter
The Wilkes County Club of the Greensboro College Alumnae Association met at the home of Mrs. J. B. Carter on Memorial Avenue Friday evening for its monthly meeting. The president, Mrs. C. S. Sink, occupied the chair for routine business. Mrs. Fred Gaither, a member of the Executive board, of the Alumnae Association, made a fine report of the meeting that she attended in Greensboro last Saturday at the College. Following the meeting a social hour was enjoyed at which time delicious refreshments were served.

Friday Book Club Entertained By Mrs. Horton
Mrs. W. P. Horton graciously entertained the members of the Friday Book club, of which she is a member, at her home on Sixth Street Friday afternoon. A trio of visitors, Mrs. W. E. Jones, Mrs. Elizabeth Wagoner, and Mrs. M. S. Breckenridge, of Chapel Hill, a house guest, of Mrs. Eugene Olive, were added to the group for the occasion. The guests were entertained informally around the glowing fire which added to the cheerful atmosphere of the room making added much cheer. Mrs. Wagoner in her own charming manner gave two entertaining readings on growing old, which were fully appreciated by all the guests.

Miss Mamie Yates Hostess At Birthday Party
To celebrate her fifteenth birthday anniversary Miss Mamie Yates was hostess to nine of her friends at the home of Mrs. Hoyle Hutchens on Friday afternoon. An interesting contest and a game of hearts provided entertainment for the afternoon. Miss Mary Jo Pearson won the prize in the contest and Miss Rose Wade Scroggs for hearts. Following the games the guests were invited into the dining room where dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and Mrs. Hutchens. The huge white birthday cake topped with pink candles held place of honor on the table. Miss Yates received a number of lovely gifts from her friends.

Mrs. A. T. Lott Is Bridge Club Hostess
Mrs. A. T. Lott was hostess to the members of her bridge club at her home on Memorial avenue Wednesday afternoon. An abundance of spring flowers made a pretty setting for the guests at three tables of bridge. A series of spirited progressions resulted in the top score prize going to Mrs. Frank Miller. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of play.

Mrs. Hoyle Hutchens Idlewise Club Hostess
The members of the Idlewise club and two additional guests, Miss Mary Finley and Mrs. M. S. Breckenridge, were delightfully entertained on Thursday evening by Mrs. Hoyle Hutchens at her home on E street. The guests spent the hours informally sewing and talking, after which tempting refreshments in two courses were served. Books were exchanged during the evening. Quantities of jonquils made bright decorations for the home. Mrs. Breckenridge is from Chapel Hill and was a guest of Mrs. Eugene Olive during the week.

Miss Eulah Mae Lowe Becomes Bride Of Avery M. Church

Beautiful Ceremony Is Performed At Wilkesboro Baptist Church Sunday

Dignity and solemn beauty marked the wedding service which Sunday afternoon united in marriage Miss Eulah Mae Lowe and Rev. Avery Milton Church, the impressive ring ceremony taking place at 4:30 o'clock at the Wilkesboro Baptist church, of which the bridegroom is pastor and where for many years the bride and her family have worshipped. Rev. Eugene Olive, pastor of the North Wilkesboro Baptist church, heard the vows in the presence of a great throng of relatives and friends which crowded the church to capacity.

The church made a fitting background for the marriage tableau with its chaste decorations of green and white. Amid the palms, ferns and evergreens, which banked the altar, were floor baskets of Easter lilies. Candelabra holding Cathedral candles gave a soft twilight glow to the pretty arrangement.

Wedding musicians were Mrs. R. E. Prevette, pianist, and Mrs. Dr. G. T. Mitchell, soloist. The program opened with Mrs. Prevette playing, "Salut d'Amour," and "The Rosary," after which Mrs. Mitchell sang, "I Love You Truly," by Carrie Jacobs Bond, and "At Dawning," by Cadman. Immediately preceding the entrance of the bridal party Mrs. Prevette played "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," and, "Love's Old Sweet Song."

The wedding party entered the church to the strains of the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" (Wagner). First to enter were the four groomsmen, who previous to the ceremony had acted as ushers. They came in pairs down the aisle as follows: James Lowe, brother of the bride. John Henry Johnson, Slater Prevette and Bill Johnson. Directly preceding the bride was the maid-of-honor, Miss Eulah Mae Lowe, her twin sister. The bridegroom accompanied by his brother, Raleigh Church, student at Mars Hill College, as best man, proceeded from the pastor's study to meet the bride, who was escorted by her father, C. A. Lowe.

As the solemn marriage vows were spoken the piano played muted notes of "My Heart of Thy Sweet Voice," from the opera, "Sampson and Delilah." After the benediction the piano sounded forth the joyous chords of the Mendelssohn wedding march, which was a recessional for the wedding party.

The beauty of the young bride was enhanced by her bridal robes. Her gown was of handsome white angel skin lace over duchess satin fashioned empire effect, fitted lines to the knee length and falling from there in a full, very long circular skirt which lay in soft folds on the floor forming a full train behind. The neck was with a soft cowl quite long over the hands and her slippers were of white satin. Over the beautiful gown fell the voluminous folds of a veil of lovely tulle made cap style and was softly caught across the back with a bandeau of pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a showed bouquet of bride's roses, gardenias and valley lilies tied with knotted white satin ribbons caught with sprays of the lilies.

The maid of honor wore a dress of lovely pink illusion, made with long silhouette lines and cowl drapes, and her accessories were in matching shades. Her flowers were an arm bouquet of pink roses and for-get-me-nots.

After the church ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Lowe, the bride's parents, received informally at their home the members of the immediate families and out-of-town guests, at which time a buffet supper was served. Following this Rev. and Mrs. Church left for a short wedding trip and upon their return will be at home in Wilkesboro. For travel Mrs. Church changed to a rust wool suit with accessories in brown.

Mrs. Church is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lowe, of Wilkesboro, and is one of Wilkesboro's most charming young women, and has always been very popular with the younger social set. She is a graduate of the Wilkesboro high school and attended Meredith College, at Raleigh, and Woman's College, of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. Her father is a prominent wholesale dealer in North Wilkesboro.

Rev. Mr. Church, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Church, of Purlar, is a graduate of Wake For-estate. Mrs. Wagoner in her own charming manner gave two entertaining readings on growing old, which were fully appreciated by all the guests.

Mrs. C. E. Jenkins presided during the roll call while members responded with current events of decided interest. At the close of the afternoon a salad and sweet course was served from prettily appointed small tables by the hostess with the assistance of Mrs. Palmer Horton and Mrs. Walter Newton.

Miss Mamie Yates was hostess to nine of her friends at the home of Mrs. Hoyle Hutchens on Friday afternoon. An interesting contest and a game of hearts provided entertainment for the afternoon. Miss Mary Jo Pearson won the prize in the contest and Miss Rose Wade Scroggs for hearts. Following the games the guests were invited into the dining room where dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and Mrs. Hutchens.
