C. A. BROWN COMING

Executive Secretary of District To Explain Provisions of Petroleum Code

All distributors of petroleum products and all their dealers in Wilkes are asked to attend the code meeting to be held at the courthouse in Wilkesboro on Tuesday, May 8, at 8 p. m. Dealers in parts of Alexander, Alleghany, Ashe and Surry counties, served by distributors here, are also asked to attend.

In the meeting to be held Tuesday C. A. Brown, executive secretary of the petroleum committee of this division, will explain further details in regard to the working of the petroleum code for oil and gasoline distributors and dealers.

The importance of attending this meeting is set forth because of the fact that an effort is being made to educate the service station operators and dealers with reference to the code before any prosecutions are made for violations. The code is a federal law and will be enforced, it is pointed out.

Announcement of the meeting Tuesday is made by F. C. Foster, member of the state committee and chairman of the sub-committee for this district. 5 - County Office Of Reemployment Now Established

Files From Other Counties Are Placed In District Office Here

R. L. Wooten, who was recently made head of a five-county re-employment office with headquarters here, has been busy during the past few days collecting the files from the other offices in the district and placing them in his office here.

Under the old set-up each county was given a national re-employment office. Since the disbanding of the CWA and curtailment of jobs on federal projects the re-employment organization in North Carolina was changed, grouping the counties of the state into districts and establishing one office for each district instead of each county.

The North Wilkesboro office, under the direction of Mr. Wooten, will serve five counties: Alleghany, Ashe, Watauga, Alexander and Wilkes.

All applications on file in the five counties are now in Mr. Wooten's charge and all men and women in the counties comprising the district who desire their applications to be kept on file must do so through the office here.

Miss Zelle Harris, of Roaring River, and Miss Mae Shumate of Hayes, were weekend guests of Mrs. J. V. Caudill.

Low Bids Feature Temporary Airmail Contracts

Washington—Above is pictured the scene in the postoffice department as bids on temporary airmail contracts for 17 major routes were opened by Comptroller William Slattery in the presence of Second Assistant Harley Branch and Postmaster General James A. Farley. The low bid of 24 cents per airplane mile was 20 cents below the maximum specifications asked by the department. The reorganized major air lines were the low bidders.

SAFETY WEEK PROCLAIMED

Whereas, the increasing loss of life and limb upon the public streets and highways of our state have reached enormous proportions, and,

Whereas, there is a great need for every citizen, man, woman and child to appreciate and assume their own individual responsibility in preventing street and highway accidents, and,

Whereas, the week of May 7th to 12th has been designated as "Safety Week" in our state,

I, J. A. Rousseau, mayor of the town of North Wilkesboro, N. C., do hereby proclaim the week of May 7th to 12th to be "Safety Week" in North Wilkesboro, and I hereby call upon all good citizens of every race, in the interest of humanity, to lend their co-operation in the efforts now being made to bring about a reduction in highway accidents, not only during the week of May 7th, but throughout the year. This co-operation can be given by simply taking time to drive carefully, to observe all rules of the road, to obey all traffic signals and to make the Golden Rule upon the streets and highways as they would in their own homes.

J. A. ROUSSEAU, Mayor.

Stefanoff and Black Are Denied Appeal By State's High Court

Raleigh, April 8.—Mike Stefanoff and R. E. Black must do death sentences for the murder of T. C. Barnes, Taylorsville banker, in July of 1933 unless the executive power saves the two whites whose appeals were lost this afternoon in the Supreme court opinions.

The defense is seeking to beat down the state's theory that if a conspiracy were formed to rob the bank, and a murder committed by any one or more of the conspirators in the attempted perpetration of the robbery, each and all of them would be guilty of the murder. The two Greens, father and son, under death sentence, seek to get a new trial through certiorari and review of the case. But Chief Justice Stacy holds that the men were given a trial free from reversible error and that the confession made by them was voluntary as the state contended. The men went to the bank, entered it in single file, one of them asked the cashier to change a quarter, he was ordered to throw up his hands, the firing ensued and the cashier was killed.

Their associates are seeking through certiorari to get a new hearing, the defense having a somewhat different state of facts on which it relies for help in disproving the conspiracy to kill Mr. Barnes. The bandits who confessed their part in the robbery and killing confessed also the conspiracy, but Stefanoff set up insanity as a defense. The jury did not believe him.

Jimmie Anderson Files For Sheriff

Police Chief Here Filed With Board and Paid Required Fee Last Week

James M. Anderson, chief of the North Wilkesboro police force, filed last week with the county board of elections for the office of Sheriff of Wilkes county and will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination.

Chief Anderson announced several weeks ago that he would be a candidate and the fact that he filed last week assures the people that his name will appear on the primary ticket.

Supporters who asked Mr. Anderson to make the race point out that he is fitted by natural ability and experience to carry out the duties of the sheriff's office in an admirable manner. They point to his record as police chief here during the past few years as being one of outstanding merit. They predict that he will be a strong candidate for the Democratic ticket if he is nominated.

The defense is seeking to beat down the state's theory that if a conspiracy were formed to rob the bank, and a murder committed by any one or more of the conspirators in the attempted perpetration of the robbery, each and all of them would be guilty of the murder.
