Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Poindexter were hosts at a pretty dinner party at their home on D Street Tuesday evening entertaining a number of their friends. A color motif of green and white was carried out in the decorations and appointments. Centerpiece for the main table was a bowl filled with white narcissus and flanked by white candles in a pair of silver candelabra. The same decorations were repeated for the small tables and place cards were suggestive of springtime. All through the home masses of spring flowers made a festive setting for the guests. A four course dinner was served at seven o'clock with covers laid for twenty.

Three brides of the winter, Mrs. William K. Newton, Mrs. Claude Doughton, and Mrs. D. S. Cochran, of Tallahassee, Fla., were each presented with lovely gifts. ### Louie Meyer Wins Race In West With Ford V-8

Los Angeles, April 24.—Louie Meyer, noted race driver, pushed a Ford V-8 stock car to victory here Sunday in the 150-mile Targo Florio Hill Road Race at the American Legion Ascot Speedway in the unusual time of two hours, 56 minutes, 33.4 seconds, averaging 51.33 miles per hour.

The Targo Florio Hill course is considered one of the most difficult in America. The circuit of 1.38 miles is filled with curves. A tough 22 per cent up-grade in the back stretch suddenly swerves into a winding 25 per cent descent with sharp turns coming into the grandstand stretch. The track was in excellent condition. A clear day brought out a crowd of 35,000 which filled the main grandstand and two bleachers.

Chicago Police Launch Campaign On Dillinger

Chicago, May 1.—Sharpshooters from the ranks of Chicago policemen opened a series of flying raids tonight in a new campaign to rout the John Dillinger gang of killers who are believed hiding here. Dillinger, John Hamilton, Homer Van Meter, and George Nelson were reported seen in a western suburb.

Federal agents whose pursuit of the gang brought about developments in the hunt for the kidnapers of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker, apparently were engaged in a double drive. Melvin Purvis, chief of the Department of Justice investigations in the Chicago area, led the hunt. Disclosures in the Bremer case brought Harold Nathan, federal official, here to investigate. Nathan was in charge of inquiries in St. Paul when Bremer was held captive.

While one division of the federal forces sought Dillinger, another group tried to follow the trail of Alvin Karpis, Arthur and Fred Barker, Oklahoma outlaws, who until recently were members of the Dillinger gang. The Oklahoma man was sought as the actual kidnapers of Bremer.

Doughton Hurries To Sick Mother

Washington, May 1.—Representative Doughton was today called back to his home at Laural Springs because of the critical condition of his mother. Upon his return to his office today from his home he found a telegram stating his mother, Mrs. Rebecca Doughton, was not expected to live through the day.

The veteran North Carolina aviator was plainly affected by the condition of his mother who is 96 years of age. Mrs. Doughton reared a family of nine children in the mountain country of North Carolina. Until Congressman Doughton reached manhood his mother spun cloth on an old-fashioned spinning wheel and made his clothes by hand. Until he was 21 the only "manufactured goods" he ever wore were those used in his shirts. It is such a man as this, one reared in a home where "store-bought goods" was something practically unknown, who now heads the most powerful committee in Congress. No greater tribute could be paid to the American democratic form of government.

Remembering the toll of his mother, Mr. Doughton with a heavy heart left tonight for his mountain home, praying that he would reach her bedside before she passed on to the Great Beyond.

While here Doughton reported a remarkable improvement in economic conditions in North Carolina and said there can be no doubt "but we are on our way to better days." President Roosevelt he declared, is stronger with the people than ever before.

JENKINS PERMANENT RECEIVER FOR ODELL

C. E. Jenkins, of North Wilkesboro, who has been temporary receiver of the Odell Hardware company, Greensboro mercantile establishment, since November 7, 1933, was appointed Saturday by Judge Johnson J. Hayes, of United States district court, as permanent receiver, "and shall continue as such receiver until the final hearing of this cause, unless sooner discharged by the court."

Judge Hayes' order was promulgated in accordance with an agreement by the litigants in the federal court action of the Reconstruction Finance corporation against the Odell Hardware company, I. B. Grainger, agent and W. C. Boren and L. A. Hartsook, conservator of the North Carolina Bank and Trust company; In this suit divergent claims between preferred stockholders and common stockholders are involved.

"And it further appearing to the court that the operations of the Odell Hardware company, through the receivership, show a substantial net profit," the federal jurist states in the decree, the receiver is directed to pay a dividend of 10 per cent on acknowledged claims against the company. Attention is called to "a large number of small claims outstanding," accounts which are expensive to handle, and the receiver is authorized to pay in full such claims in the event the amount is not in excess of $10.

Senior Play Saturday At Roaring River

On Saturday night, May 5, at eight o'clock in the Roaring River high school auditorium will be presented the annual senior play, "The Man in The Green Shirt," by Elsey.

The play, which is a comedy-drama, is exceptional for its unusual and varied characters and its well-developed plot in which there is a romantic story, interspersed freely with humor. The problem arises when the wealthy Fuller family discovers that it is in quite a financial strain, which Mrs. Fuller claims is due to continuous mistakes on the part of her unheeding husband, George. The situation is brought to a favorable climax when a friend, who has unknowingly lost the Fuller fortune, appears to restore the family fortune and to marry the daughter of the family. Much comedy is furnished by two servants in the household.

An admission of 10 and 20 cents will be charged; proceeds will go to the school. Everyone is invited to attend.—Reported.
