Woman's Club To Give Play

"Sleeping Beauty" Is Title of Stage Production At School Thursday Night

Thursday night at eight o'clock is the date of the showing of "Sleeping Beauty" at the school auditorium in this city.

This operetta will be given under the auspices of the North Wilkesboro Woman's Club. Rehearsals indicate that the production has unusual merit and a large attendance is anticipated.

"Sleeping Beauty" is a most attractive operetta, well prepared and costumed in a most elaborate manner.

"You will be missing a great treat if you miss this play. Next to 'Alice in the Wonderland' no other child's story has such a universal appeal," one of the sponsors of the production stated this morning.

A full list of the cast will be published Thursday. In the meantime the Woman's Club is asking that all who possibly can plan to be present for the presentation Thursday night.

Kindergarten Summer Course

Mrs. J. L. Clements Will Open Class On Monday, July 2nd

Mrs. J. L. Clements, who has been very successful in the past few years in the operation of a kindergarten for pre-school children during the regular school term, is offering a kindergarten course for the summer, beginning on July 2 and continuing for six weeks.

This school is planned especially for children who will enter school in September and who have had no pre-school training but will be available for all who are interested. Rates for the kindergarten are reasonable and Mrs. Clements urges that parents wishing to enter their children should see her at once.

Pre-school training is recognized as one of the most important parts of a child's education and educational authorities would consider it wonderful if every child could have some training aside from the home before entering school.
