Mr. and Mrs. David Lowe Entertained At Pinochle

One of the outstanding social events of the week was given for Miss Madge McManus, of Charlotte, house guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Lowe, Tuesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. David Lowe delightedly entertained at pinochle at their home in Wilkesboro. The home was decorated throughout with brilliant colored sun flowers intermingled with snow on the mountain, which made a pretty setting for the guests at four tables.

As the guests entered they drew for partners and at the conclusion of the game Mrs. James Lowe was presented a jar of dusting powder as winner of high score for the ladies. The men's high score prize, a tie, went to Mr. Paul Billings. Miss McManus as honoree of the party was remembered with a dainty gift.

Refreshments were served by the hostess with the assistance of Miss Ruby Hartley.

Miss Christine Irvin Hostess At Bridge Party

Miss Christine Irvin entertained at bridge at her home Monday evening and had as guests a number of her friends among the younger set. Three tables were made up for the game amid colorful decorations of bright summer flowers. In the bridge competition Miss Myrtle Norris won out for the ladies and John Kermit Blackburn proved to be the most successful for the men and to each Miss Irvin presented attractive awards. Mrs. J. H. Brooks, of Grimesland, a house guest of Miss Anne Estes, was remembered with a gift. When cards were laid aside the hostess had the assistance of Miss Norris in serving an ice course.

Junior Woman's Club Met Friday Afternoon

Misses Helen and Marjorie Dula were hostess to the members of the Junior Woman's club of Wilkesboro in their monthly meeting on Friday afternoon at their home with a full attendance of members. The girls assembled at three o'clock and entered into an interesting business session with Miss Marjorie Dula presiding. No program was given as the time was spent in discussing business matters. At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served during a pleasant social hour.

Alice Cassel Hostess To Missionary Society

The July meeting of the Children's Missionary Society of the North Wilkesboro Methodist church was held on Tuesday afternoon with Alice Cassel as hostess at her home on D Street. Bible stories were read by Alice after which the children gave a number of Bible verses. The ways of the Japan children were studied and was given by the ledger, Mrs. Walter Newton. To close the afternoon an ice course was served to the eight children present.

Zelma Parnell Feted At Breakfast Party Saturday

To honor Zelma Parnell, of High Point, Wanda Johnson was hostess at a breakfast party at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. F. Johnson on Sixth Street Saturday morning. Zelma is a former resident of North Wilkesboro and spent last week here with Mildred Love. Following the breakfast the eight guests were entertained with games and contests. Nellie Gabriel and Mary Louise Clements received prizes for their skill in the contests and to the small honoree a remembrance gift was presented.

"Looking For Trouble" Comes to New Orpheum

If it's genuine comedy you like in a picture, you'll find it in "Looking for Trouble," which stars Spencer Tracy and Jack Oakie as the newest team of film funsters and is the current attraction at the New Orpheum Theatre today and Friday.

And there's also some wildly hilarious adventure in this romantic action drama of telephone "trouble shooters" and their sweethearts.

Tracy and Oakie have the roles of two telephone linesmen, in this 20th Century production. Their love affairs with Constance Cummings and Arline Judge, a pair of wise-cracking telephone girls, provide some of the gayest sequences in this thrilling story.

However, the film has its serious moments too, with one of the girls being accused of a murder, another caught in the ruins of the earthquake at Long Beach, California, and both boys sharing their adventures.

Tracy plays a hard-working "trouble shooter" who prefers danger and thrills to sitting around the parlor with a young lady—much to the young lady's annoyance, while Oakie as his assistant is described by his sweetheart as "a young man with strictly dishonorable intentions."

There are thrills, action, romance and an abundance of laughs in this Joseph M. Schenck-Darryl F. Zanuck presentation which is being released by United Artists.

House Postoffice Robbed While Cops On Guard

Washington, July 31.—As Capitol police stood guard a few yards away, a bandit invaded the house of representatives postoffice in the new house office building late today and made off with the contents of the safe and cash drawer, estimated at several hundred dollars.

Donald Stuckey, a clerk, who was on duty alone at the time, said the robber, a man with a flattened nose, entered the clerks' section through a door which had been left open for air, drew an automatic and ordered him to hand over the money in the cash drawer and open the safe.

Stuckey obeyed and then went behind a screen at the command of the invader until after he had left, tearing out telephone wires as he went.

Capitol police on duty in the lobby adjacent to the postoffice said they believed the robber left the building by a rear door. The police post in the lobby does not afford a direct view of the postoffice.

How National Business College Training Can INCREASE YOUR SALARY

If you are interested in an education that will enable you to earn a good living in a position where there is opportunity for advancement, it will pay you to investigate the intensive, thorough, and practical business courses offered at National.

Practical training in Secretarial, Accounting, and Business Administration subjects will qualify you for a starting position. You will secure a knowledge of the fundamentals of business providing a foundation for advancement to executive duties.

"LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORD"

The Employment Department has just released the following record of 435 National graduates, who completed their courses during the depth of the depression:

Courses	No. Graduated	No. Employed	No. Unemployed
Stenographic	109	90	19
Secretarial	163	153	10
Degree	38	33	5
Commercial, Banking and Finance, and Salesmanship	134	115	19
Total	435	395	39

This does not include hundreds of undergraduates who left school before graduation to accept business positions.

We invite a comparison of this record with the graduation classes of similar size of other colleges. The number now on the employment list will take care of the normal demands over a period of two to six weeks. National feels that this employment record amply justifies the high standards maintained in practical business education.
