Ferguson High School News

A call meeting of the Ferguson Parent-Teachers' Association was held at the school building Wednesday evening of last week for the purpose of securing funds to buy stage scenery and curtains for the school building. Mr. Walsh, of Boomer, who has been working in this business for some time was present, and submitted plans for the purchase of said scenery. The Parent-Teachers' Association started the ball to rolling by subscribing $35.00 for an ad on the screen. Much interest was manifested. At present, there seems to be no doubt about the accomplishment of the task.

Not because any demand has been made, nor not necessarily because it has been a custom for a long time to "treat" the children just before Christmas, but as a token of the cordial friendship that exists between, and among the teachers and children, a small treat will be given in all the rooms sometime this week.

A play, The Poor Married Man, will be given Thursday evening, the 20th, beginning at 7 p. m. The cast of characters are as follows: Billy Blake, Clyde Triplett; Rosalind Wilson, Mildred Gilbert; Jupiter Jackson, Williams; Mrs. Ford, Nella Walsh; Zoie Ford, Ruth Jones; John Wise, James Bartowe; Dr. Graham, Hill Jones; June Graham, Pauline Walsh. The proceeds of the play is for the purpose of furnishing equipment for the athletic teams and other general expenses of the school. Everybody is cordially invited to attend. A fee of 10 cents for school children, and 15 cents for outsiders will be charged.

NEW STOCK FOR THE SMOAK FURNITURE CO. Mr. D. O. Cleary, manager of the Smoak Furniture Company, is in High Point today buying new furniture to replenish stocks for the Christmas trade. Mr. Cleary wants his friends to know that he will have plenty of furniture on hand for his customers even though trading has been heavy during the past week.

Smook Furniture Company offers the public a splendid line of furniture at popular prices.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Garrett Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Leakville, Dec. 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Garrett, of Price, a few miles west of Leakville, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday, December 11. Invitations were issued for afternoon hours from 3 to 5 o'clock and from 8 to 10 o'clock in the evening.

The spacious home was beautifully decorated for the happy occasion. In the living room and hall, red roses and evergreens were used while the dining room and library carried out the golden hues by use of chrysanthemums, Christmas pom-poms and shaded lighting. Large open fire places added to the beauty and cheer of the day.

Receiving at the entrance were two young granddaughters of the honorees, Misses Mary Elizabeth and Leila Jones Neal, of Yanceyville, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Neal. Presiding at the registration book was Mrs. Sam Robertson, of Davidston.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Garrett and their children and relatives as follows:

—Mrs. Landis P. Mitchell and Mr. Mitchell, of Price; Mrs. Eugene Trivette and Mr. Trivette, of North Wilkesboro; Mrs. Robert E. Neal and Mr. Neal, of Yanceyville; T. J. Garrett, Jr., and Mrs. Garrett, of Price; two sisters of Mr. Garrett, Mrs. R. M. Loftis and Miss Lula Garrett, of Madison, and an only brother, Senator Allen Garrett of Ridgeway, Va.

Assisting throughout the rooms were the following: Mrs. Hugh Dyer, Mrs. Claude Turner and Mrs. Jesse Booker, of Martinsville, Va.; Miss Ada Joyce, of Stoneville; Mesdames Ben and Thomas Jones, of Leakville; Mrs. J. N. Morris, of Martinsville; Mrs. Frank Joyce, of Sanford, and Miss Kathleen Eggleston, of Ridgeway, Va. Miss Margaret Duncan, of Draper, played many of the old time melodies during the hours.

The dining room table was especially beautiful in decoration. The exquisite lace cover was centered with an arrangement of Christmas gold pom-poms. This was flanked with candelabras with gold colored candles. All refreshments carried out the color note of gold in decoration. Mrs. H. C. Clayton, of Spencer, Va., sister of Mrs. Garrett, and Mrs. Homer Desha-zo, of South Boston, Va., sister of Mr. Garrett, poured coffee.

In the gift room a lovely display of gifts attested the popularity of the couple. A gift surpassing in sentiment was that of Senator Allen Garrett. On the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Garrett, Senator Garrett presented to his father a handsome gold-headed cane. After his father's death the cane was returned to the donor, who on this occasion presented it to his brother. Further interest was attached to the gift as the scene of the two celebrations was in the same home.

Mrs. Garrett, who was Miss Leila Jones, is a daughter of the late Benjamin Jones and Mary Wilson Deshazo Jones, of Ridgeway, Va. Mr. Garrett is a son of the late William S. Garrett and Mary Ann Price Garrett, in whose home he has lived since his parents' death.

The bride of 50 years ago gave the impression that time has dealt kindly with her, and was never more gracious than on her golden wedding day.

Invitations were issued to a round 200 guests.

The Rock Island-Davenport railway bridge was the first to span the Mississippi river and was built in 1854-55.
