Friendly Circle Met With Miss Helen Call

The December meeting of the Friendly Circle of the Wilkesboro Methodist church was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Helen Call with around twelve members attending. Presiding for routine business was the president, Mrs. Walter Emerson. During the business session plans were made by the Circle to remember some families with tea for their children at Christmas.

The program for the evening was given by Miss Helen Winkler and Miss Pauline Kinlaw with Miss Winkler in charge. Mrs. Emerson was announced as the hostess for the January meeting. Miss Lacie Prevette and Mrs. George Parlier were visitors of the circle. To close the evening the hostesses served delightful refreshments during the social hour.

Mrs. G. T. Mitchell Entertained At Bridge

Mrs. G. T. Mitchell was hostess to the members of her bridge club and three additional guests at her home in Wilkesboro Saturday evening. Three tables were made up for the game and resulted in Miss Helen Bumgarner receiving the prize for honors. The Christmas motif was carried out in the decorations of the home and the refreshments that were served at close of play by Mrs. Mitchell with the aid of Miss Myrtle Venable. Attractive Christmas favors were placed on each place. Guests of the club were Mrs. P. E. Brown and Misses Helen Bumgarner and Myrtle Venable.

Christmas Party Given By Miss Mable Topping

Miss Mable Topping delightedly entertained the members of her bridge club and a number of other friends at a Christmas party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brame on Monday evening. The high score prize for the evening, which was for the visitors of club, was won by Mr. Dick Gwyn. Four tables of bridge were in play.

Red candles, holly, mistletoe and other Christmas greenery made festive decorations for the home and the Yuletide note was furthered in the salad and sweet course that was served at close of play. An enjoyable part of the evening was the exchange of gifts among the club members around a beautifully lighted Christmas tree.

John Allen Gets On State Squad

Local Boy Expected To See Action On State College's Fast Cage Quint

Raleigh, Dec. 18.—John Allen, of North Wilkesboro, is one of the leading guard candidates for this year's varsity basketball team at North Carolina State College.

Allen, a star member of State's 1934 yearling team, which won the State title, has been looking especially good this winter in practice drills and Coach R. R. Sermon says he will see considerable service this winter.

Coach Sermon plans to work Allen with Neill Dalrymple, of Jonesboro, as one set of guards. These two worked as the regular guards of the yearling team last year and were regarded as the best freshman guards in the State.

Allen's play is characterized by the smoothness with which he works the ball down the court and into scoring position. He is a careful player and passes the ball only when he is sure a team mate will receive it.

State uses the difficult Meanwell system of short passes and Allen works nicely in this system. He also is a fair shot. His defensive work is especially good and his spirit leaves nothing to be desired.

Coach Sermon is expecting a first rate team at State this year, and Allen is being counted on for much service.

New Deal Will Not Permit Congress to Soak Wealthy

Washington, Dec. 17.—The administration is determined to prevent any "soak-the-rich" movement in the Seventy-fourth Congress from reaching the point where it will cause another stampede by business and industry away from the new deal, it was learned tonight.

Word has been sent up quietly to Democratic leaders on Capitol Hill that it is essential nothing be done to snuff out the flickering flame of confidence private capital has in Roosevelt policies. The less said about distribution of wealth, limitation of earned income and high taxes on capital, new dealers feel, the better.

Repeatedly since the Democrats won a two-thirds majority in both houses in the congressional elections last month, the administration has sought to assure the worker, the taxpayer and the manufacturer that they had nothing to fear from the coming Congress or the Roosevelt regime. Mr. Roosevelt has reiterated his belief in fair profits and private initiative on several occasions. Secretary of

One nationally known figure Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., announced careful consideration would be given in taxation of corporation surpluses—reserves. Chairman Pat Harrison of the Senate finance committee said federal expenditures probably could be financed without a general increase in taxes.

Meantime, reports reached the capital that fear of potential increases in inheritance taxes and gift levies at the coming Congress was in part responsible for the failure of private capital to take up a greater share of the recovery burden.

who has taken millions out of industry and finance and whose business judgment is highly respected by Mr. Roosevelt, told the United Press that there had been a slight improvement in business since the President had made his truce with the bankers and since industry had decided to co-operate more fully with the administration to hasten recovery.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Question: What causes dairy cows to chew wood or bones and eat dirt?

Answer: This shows that the dairy ration is deficient in mineral matter which should be corrected at once. Examine the ration carefully and add those feeds that are high in minerals. Legume hays, such as cowpea, soybean, clover, and alfalfa are rich in calcium and will supply a sufficient amount of this mineral for the average cow. Phosphorus is supplied by wheat bran, cottonseed meal, and soybean meal. These feeds contain about 30 percent of this mineral. It might be well to add two pounds of a mineral mixture composed of equal parts of finely ground limestone and steamed bone meal to each 100 pounds of the concentrate ration.

Home Chair Co. Puts New Lines on Furniture Market

American Furniture Market To Open In Chicago On January Seventh

Samples of the new 1935 line of the Home Chair Company have been shipped to Chicago for introduction to the industry at the national furniture show at the American Furniture Mart, opening January 7. Mr. J. D. Moore, President, announced today.

"The new merchandise, on which our designers and production men have been working for several months, is ready," Mr. Moore declared. "It is, in our own opinion, the finest line we've ever offered, and we feel confident that the buyers for the stores, when they see our display at Chicago, will agree."

Several executives of the company, including J. D. Moore, H. L. Moore, and J. M. Quinn, will attend the market at the Furniture Mart, which is the largest show of home furnishings anywhere in the world, and supervise the showing of the line made in North Wilkesboro. Approximately 600 manufacturers will have exhibits at the Mart, and more than 5,000 buyers, from every state in the U. S., are expected to attend the two-week exhibition. The Furniture Mart is closed to the public.

Included in the shipment to Chicago were many new numbers in modern and classic designs, showing the latest in upholstering fabrics, as well as a complete new line of solid maple suits.

"The entire furniture industry is looking forward to a good season," Mr. Moore continued. "Stocks on hand in furniture stores everywhere are low... and the retail business this fall has been good. The program of the Federal Housing Administration is focusing attention on the nation's homes, and the home-owners who take advantage of this opportunity to modernize will not be satisfied with their old, shabby furniture in new surroundings. We anticipate a satisfactory business for 1935."

Over 70 per cent of the Wilson tobacco growers have completed their sales and have returned their marketing cards to the farm agent.

DEATH doesn't recognize the "HIGHWAY HOLIDAY"!

Lists of killed and injured in motor accidents prove that the "highway holiday" only makes Death work overtime.

Lack of upkeep has caused more than $3,000,000.00 damage to our roads. Diversion has proven disastrous.

Safety, economy, comfort... all demand the use of gas taxes for roads only.

Appeal to your legislators for justice to car owners—tell them to end the "highway holiday."
