

Bethel News

BONDA, Route 2, Jan. 8.—Last Sunday was the time to re-organise Sunday school at Bethel Baptist church here. The day was very pleasant and a good congregation was present. W. H. Jones succeeded himself as Superintendent with W. T. Morrison assistant superintendent. Elmer Morrison was elected secretary and treasurer, taking the place of Miss Lucile Mouldin, who has served the Sunday school so well for the past year, and Wayne Stroud was chosen assistant secretary and treasurer. The teachers with their secretaries are as follows: Men's Bible class, J. F. Mathis, secretary, Norfleet Eskridge; Women's Bible class, Mrs. J. F. Mathis, with Mrs. M. B. Mauldin secretary; Young People's class, teacher, Mrs. W. H. Jones, and Miss Hazel Johnson, secretary; Intermediates, Mrs. W. T. Morrison with Miss Nitra Pardue assistant, Mrs. C. W. Gilliam, Jr., is teacher of Junior and Miss Mattie Osborn has care of the primaries.

The superintendent was not absent any Sunday the past year and Miss Sadie Mathis was present every Sunday. The record shows that several missed only one or two Sundays. God's house should not be neglected or forsaken. Mr. Clinton Bauldin, who has been in a CCC camp in the western part of the state, arrived here last week with his wife to spend the summer with his parents. He will assist his father on the farm. Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Green spent a few days during Christmas here with the former's mother, Mrs. J. B. Green. Eugene Jones returned to Chapel Hill last week where he will resume his studies at the University. He spent the holidays here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jones.

Felister Morrison has been absent from school at Ronda for a few days on the account of illness. Miss Julia Mathis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jones Mathis near Swan Creek went to Johnson City, Tenn., the first of the year where she will take a business course. Mrs. Reason Johnson, of Delaplane and daughter, Mrs. Harris, spent last Sunday here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Burchett. Mr. Burchett has been confined to his room for almost two years, but he, with Mrs. Burchett, was able to be taken to his son's home at Ronda Christmas day and enjoy dinner with the family. Theodore Brown, of Jonesville, spent last Sunday here visiting his aunt, Mrs. M. B. Mauldin, and was a visitor of the young people's class at Sunday school. We are always glad to have visitors.

Mrs. C. L. Morrison has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Weaver Henson, of Reno, in Yadkin County and while there she spent a while in Winston-Salem with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom O. Pardue, of near Raleigh, recently visited Mr. Pardue's mother, Mrs. P. H. Pardue, at this place.

Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Green, Mrs. J. B. Green and son, Colonel, spent last Thursday at New Castle, near Union church, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Pardue.

Loraine, the little three months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jarvie Johnson here was found dead in bed last Sunday morning. Funeral and burial was held here at Bethel church Monday morning at 11 o'clock, with R. J. Pardue, the pastor in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Triplett spent the fifth Sunday at Jonesville with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Triplett. Miss Ona Triplett, who was home from school where she teaches in the eastern part of the state and Miss Grace, student nurse from Rex Hospital in Raleigh, were there. All the children were there to brighten this home but one son, Mr. Eliner Triplett whose home is in Mt. Airy.

The marines have the situation in hand at the Liberty Theatre Monday and Tuesday. Led by irrepresible William Haines, they capture the audience without a struggle, when the rip-roaring new comedy drama, "The Marines Are Coming," comes Monday and Tuesday. The supporting cast of Esther Ralston, Conrad Nagel, Armida, Edgar Kennedy, Hale Hamilton and the U. S. Marines, will pack you with high adventure, so do about-face, buddy, and a double-quick over to see "The Marines Are Coming," at the Liberty Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

Wiley McDaniel Taken By Death

Resident Of Wilkesboro Route 1 Passes; Funeral Held Tuesday Afternoon

Wiley McDaniel, 63, died at his home on Wilkesboro route 1 Monday. He was a son of the late Henry and Harriet McNeill McDaniel, of Ashe county, and was well known in his community. Of the immediate family there are surviving, his wife, Mrs. Martha McDaniel, and two children, Mrs. Raymond McNeill and Alonzo McDaniel, of Wilkesboro route 1. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at Pleasant Home Baptist Church with Rev. F. C. Watts in charge. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Turner Church, Wanted For Dyer Act Violation, Is Held

Turner Church, who escaped from the Wilkes county jail at Wilkesboro last summer while awaiting trial in United States district court for two alleged violations of the Dyer motor vehicle theft act, was taken into custody by state officers in Roanoke, Va., Monday and is being held there on a state warrant charging him with the larceny of an automobile. Notice of Church's arrest was received Monday by Chief Deputy Marshal Henry C. Stallings. It has not yet been determined whether the defendant will be tried first in the federal court in North Carolina or the state court in Virginia.

Catawba county farmers report a surplus of both lespedeza seed and hay for sale this season. The seed cleaners are working each day throughout the county.
