Mrs. W. H. Kelly Is Featured At Lovely Party

Misses Virginia and Annie R. Tomlinson honored, bride, Mrs. W. H. Kelly, of Taylorsville, when they entertained at a lovely dinner bridge Friday evening at the home of their aunt, Mrs. Frank Tomlinson, on Memorial Avenue. Before her nuptials in this month Mrs. Kelly, who has been extensively feted since her marriage, was Miss Marjorie Deans, of this city.

Nine tables were set for the dinner at seven o'clock and bridge afterwards, in the three rooms which were fragrant and bright with spring flowers. Centering each table was an Easter bunny filled with jonquils, and favors were Easter biddies which served as place cards. The bride's place was marked with a large bunny.

When scores were tallied Mrs. Ivey Moore was found to hold the grand total and received an attractive award. The honor prize was held by Mrs. Watson Brame. To the honoree the hostesses presented beautiful linen.

Mrs. J. C. McDiarmid Is Book Club Hostess

Amid a bower of spring flowers of buttercups, spirea, bridal wreath and jonquils Mrs. J. C. McDiarmid graciously entertained the members of the Friday Afternoon Book club, of which she is a member and a number of visitors at her home on E. Street Friday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. E. Spainhour, after which the members responded to the roll call by Miss Lissie Hisle with current events of decided interest.

To close the delightful afternoon tea and sandwiches were served with Mrs. McDiarmid presiding at the tea table. In serving the hostess was aided by Misses Ellen Robinson and Janie McDiarmid.

Mrs. Frank Blair, Jr. Bridge Club Hostess

The members of the Wednesday Afternoon Bridge Club were entertained by Mrs. Frank Blair, Friday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Blair, who presided. The game was served by Mrs. Blair and Miss Deans. The game was served by Mrs. Blair and Miss Deans.

Social Calendar

The Women's Bible class of the North Wilkesboro Methodist church meets Tuesday afternoon at 8:30 o'clock with Mrs. W. E. Shuford at the Wilkes Hotel.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. Thursday afternoon has been postponed to a later date.

Baptist Missionary Society gathered for their monthly inspirational meeting with the president, Mrs. W. J. Johnson in charge.

The program for afternoon, "Lifting the Banner through our Christian Colleges," was arranged by Mrs. Zeb Davis and Mrs. Dave Hamby, and in presenting the topic they had the assistance of a number of the members. Mrs. Johnson opened the meeting with an impressive devotional period. Mrs. Avery Church gave a splendid account of her work while at Louisville, Ky.

A pleasant social hour followed the meeting during which time a salad course was served to the large number of members present. Mrs. Zeb Davis was announced as the next hostess.

Mrs. H. B. Smith Is Hostess To Bridge Club

Mrs. H. B. Smith was charming hostess at her home on Thursday afternoon having as guests members of her own bridge club. Two tables were placed for the game amid effective decorations of spring flowers. When cards were laid aside dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Julius C. Hubbard Entertained Bridge Club

A delightful club party of the week was the one given by Mrs. Julius C. Hubbard at her home in Wilkesboro Friday evening when she entertained the members of her bridge club and a trio of additional friends. Bridge was in play at three tables and at close of the game Mrs. John Cashion held the honor award. Tempting refreshments followed the game. Visitors of the club were Mrs. Cashion, Mrs. Eileen Phipps and Miss Margaret Hubbard, of Richmond, Va. Miss Hubbard, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Hubbard, was presented with a lovely remembrance by the hostess.

Literature Department In Monthly Meeting

Mrs. Hoyle Hutchens and Miss Etta Turner combined hospitality to the members of the Literature Department of the North Wilkesboro Woman's club in their March meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hutchens. A large number of the members were present and listened with marked interest to the talk given by Miss Estelle Ardrey and Current events by Miss Rebecca Modley, both members of the city school faculty. Miss Ardrey spoke on libraries. A salad course was served to close the afternoon.

Wilkesboro Woman's Club Met Friday Afternoon

With Mrs. C. H. Cowles in the chair the monthly meeting of the Wilkesboro Woman's club was held on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. H. Somers with Mrs. A. R. Gray and Mrs. Hugh Cranor as associate hostesses. During the business session it was decided to give heating pads to the T. B. hut for the use of both the white and colored patients.

An interesting garden program was presented by the garden department chairman, Mrs. N. O. Smoak. A garden prayer was given by Mrs. J. B. Henderson and Mrs. W. J. Johnson gave a talk on our own gardens. Mrs. L. B. Dula told about raising cut flowers. A social hour and refreshments were enjoyed after the meeting.

Mrs. Ralph Duncan Is Club Hostess

With Mrs. Ralph Duncan as hostess the members of the Tea and Topics club and several other friends were charmingly entertained Friday evening at her home on C Street. The guests assembled at seven o'clock and were seated at the dining table and three smaller ones where a delicious three course dinner was served. Assisting Mrs. Duncan were Mrs. J. Q. Adams, Misses Lacie Prevette and Anne Duncan.

The main table, spread with a lace cloth, had at its center a silver bowl in which golden jonquils and white spirea combined. About the bouquet pale yellow tapers burned in four silver holders. Candles were used on the small tables and place cards bore spring decorations. Jonquils were arranged in profusion about the rooms.

Following the dinner the guests were given Easter puzzles to put together and in this contest Mrs. Murphy Hunt was the winner, receiving an attractive Easter favor. The latter part of the evening was spent in sewing and chatting. Those present beside the club members were Mesdames F. C. Forester, Gilbert Foster, John Tevepaugh, Misses Mamie Sockwell, Anne Duncan and Lacie Prevette.

Mrs. Jule Deans Entertained For Bridge

Mrs. W. H. Kelly, a popular bride of the month, was shown a pretty courtesy Friday when her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jule Deans, gave a luncheon bridge at her home honoring Mrs. Kelly. A three course luncheon was served at one o'clock, after which bridge was played at five tables. Easter place cards marked the guests positions while jonquils and daffodils made a festive background for the players.

To Mrs. Max Barker holding high score when count was taken Mrs. Deans presented half dozen crystal goblets. Honor remembrance for Mrs. Kelly was a sterling silver bread and butter plate. The bride prior to her marriage was Miss Marjorie Deans, of this city.

HAS WORD OF PRAISE FOR POLICE DEPT.

Editor Journal-Patriot: In expressing appreciation of the service rendered by public officials we should not overlook the work of the police of our city, who are on duty day and night, and in all kinds of weather and exposed to many dangers that the average individual never realizes that an officer in uniform has to face. It is true they are paid salaries by the taxpayers, but the citizen and taxpayer receives full value for every penny paid in by way of protection and the satisfaction of knowing that the faithful policeman is on watch and ready to lay down his life if necessary in the performance of his duty, and for the cause of society.

North Wilkesboro has been fortunate in several respects and its police force is the equal of any city in North Carolina. We have been free or practically so from safe robbery, burglary, and kindred crimes in North Wilkesboro, and the absence of such is an excellent recommendation for North Wilkesboro's police department. The following anonymous poem expresses my sentiments:

"If with pleasure you are viewing any work a man is doing, If you like him or love him, tell him so; Don't withhold your approbation till the parson makes oration, And he lies with snowy lilies o'er his brow.

If he earns your praise, bestow it; if you like him, let him know it; Let the words of true encouragement be said; Do not wait till life is over, and he's underneath the clover, For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead."

Report Of Committee Named By Mass Meeting

Editor: Journal-Patriot:

Please publish the following statement or report of the committee appointed at the mass meeting recently held at the Courthouse in Wilkesboro, N. C. The committee, appointed and instructed to confer with our Representatives and request them or either of them to introduce a bill in the Legislature repealing certain legislation described in a resolution passed at the mass meeting above referred to, beg leave to report as follows:

The committee in a body called on our representatives and presented each of them a copy of the resolutions and requested them to consider the matter and advise their intentions in regard to the same, and we later called on them for an answer and they requested more time to think the matter over, and it was suggested that the committee be advised or if preferable, notice could be given through the papers, but up to this writing no answer has been given to the committee or to the public through the press. Unless something is done at once we shall be forced to proceed with other members, as directed in the resolution.

This March 25, 1935.

Sunday Night Prayer Service Terminates In Surprise Wedding

A wedding of simplicity and beauty was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wyatt, of McGrady, Sunday night about 10 o'clock when Miss Nell Hall became the bride of Mr. Lester H. Wyatt in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Eugene A. Vannoy, pastor of the Church of God, at Reddies River and a brother-in-law of the groom.

Just preceding the wedding there had been held a Sunday night prayer service in the home with Rev. Vannoy, in charge. The service had just closed and the people been dismissed, and were on their way to their respective homes, when the groom surprised the few remaining by producing a familiar long envelope, and announcing to the minister: "I've got some papers here that I desire you to look at." These proved to be a marriage license for the bride and the groom himself. The ceremony immediately followed. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt entertained informally, honoring their son, and new daughter-in-law.

The bride is a member of a well known and respected family of the Halls Mills section, being the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Hall, of Halls Mills. Mrs. Wyatt spent some time in Kannapolis where she was employed prior to her marriage.

RELIEF BILL STALLS AGAIN IN SENATE ON INFLATION BARRIERS

Washington, March 22.—The storm-tossed $4,380,000,000 relief bill struck an inflation barrier in the senate today and administration pilots conceded the new delay probably would put final passage over into next week.

Already eight weeks since the house passed the bill, Democratic leaders had hoped to dispose of the troublesome measure before the week-end adjournment, but Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, inflation advocate, peed most of the day to urge his silver currency amendment as a means of financing the huge relief cost.

STRONGER BEER BILL READY FOR CALENDAR

Raleigh, March 22.—For a second time, since the general assembly convened, senate judiciary committee number two found lukewarm to its taste a "likker" bill. Report without prejudice was given the substitute for the Cone beer bill, raising the alcoholic content of beer from 3.2 per cent to five per cent. Previously this same committee had given a similar report to the Hill liquor control bill, now resting in the finance committee.

The effect as far as getting the bill on the calendar is just the same as giving it a favorable report. But it fails to register a any great enthusiasm, which if it had, the committee would hardly have displayed this afternoon in the presence of a formidable dry delegation in charge of Cale K. Burgess, of the United Drys.
