Are Preparing For Poppy Day

Red Memorial Flowers Will Be Sold For Benefit of Veterans On May 25

Nearly 30,000 new names will be on the scroll of America's dead defenders when the nation honors its war dead on Memorial Day this year, according to Miss Toby Turner, President of the Wilkes County Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. World War veterans have been dying at the average rate of 80 per day during the last year, making nearly 30,000 who have passed on since last Memorial Day.

This high death rate among the veterans gives Poppy Day, May 25th, heightened importance, Miss Turner explained. On this day the Auxiliary women collect contributions which form the major source of support for their work for needy families of veterans throughout the year. Unless generous public support is given the Auxiliary's Poppy Day appeal, the welfare activities of the Unit cannot be maintained.

"Almost every veteran who dies now leaves a widow and children, and few leave sufficient means to provide for their families," said Miss Turner. "The seventeen years which have passed since the war make it very difficult to prove that the veteran's death resulted from war service, and unless such legal proof can be established, no government aid is available for the family. The Legion and Auxiliary must step in with emergency aid until other aid can be secured or the family made self-supporting."

"In addition to the veterans who die, there are more than 100,000 constantly in hospitals. We endeavor to do something for these veterans while they are still within reach of our help, providing them cheer and comforts while they are in the hospitals and aiding them in the long, uphill struggle to regain an economic foothold after they leave the hospitals. Their families, too, often need aid."

"The poppies, which we will offer Saturday, May 25th, to be worn in honor of the dead, are our principal means of raising funds for this work for the living."

Meat Animal Prices Have Definitely Increased

North Carolina farmers are being cautioned not to sell their beef cattle, hogs and sheep at prices lower than present market quotations.

A number of farmers not in close touch with the market have sold their animals recently for one-half or a third of their value, says L. I. Case, animal husbandman at State college.

Beef prices have risen about 60 per cent and pork prices have approximately doubled within the past year, Case said, and the prices paid local farmers should go up accordingly.

Although prices paid for livestock at the farm cannot equal those paid at central markets, Case added, growers should not sell their meat animals without checking up carefully to see what they are worth.

The current outlook gives promise of a continuation of the present price level, he stated, and local growers need not dispose of their stock now for fear that prices will tumble in the near future.

The weekly average of all steers on the Chicago market was $7.15 the first week in December and $10.57 the last week in February. Choice grades rose from $9.29 to $13.39 and low, or common grades, rose from $3.72 to $4.50. Intermediate grades increased proportionately.

Stocker and feeder prices have risen correspondingly.

The price of lambs has not increased as much, Case pointed out, but added that it did not go as low as beef and pork during the depression. A rise this spring is expected, he continued.

Jennings Tent Meeting Begins

Evangelistic Campaign Started in North Wilkesboro Sunday in Big Tent

Rev. Sam S. Jennings, evangelist of this city, began a revival campaign Sunday afternoon in a large tent located on the Tomlinson lot on B Street.

Considering the fact that the first service was in the afternoon there was a large crowd present and the tent was almost filled to capacity for the evening service. A number of lay leaders made a public appeal for the success of the evangelistic campaign started by Rev. Mr. Jennings.

Rev. C. W. Robinson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and Rev. H. K. King, pastor of the Methodist church made announcement from the tent platform that midweek prayer meetings and Sunday evening services are called off for the tent meeting. Rev. Eugene Olive, pastor of the First Baptist church, left Sunday to attend the Southern Baptist convention and was not present for the opening of the tent revival.

Opening of the tent meeting was successful from the standpoint of interest and attendance and the programs of the services were well received. John Kermit Blackburn, of this city, and Oscar Barrett, song leader for the meeting, rendered special music for the first two services.

Services will be held each evening, beginning at 7:45 and the Sunday afternoon services begin at 2:30. Ministers and members of all churches and everybody have a cordial invitation to attend any or all services during the meeting.

URGES MORE SILAGE FOR WINTER FEED

Leading farmers and dairymen are now planning to produce an adequate supply of silage for feeding their stock next winter.

Good silage is one of the best feeds that can be given animals in winter, says John Arey, extension dairymen at State college, and he is urging all farmers to include silage in their farming budget.

Silage is cheap, he points out, because a large amount can be produced on a small acreage. It loses little food value while in storage, and provides succulent and nutritive feed at a time when pasture grass is not available.

The acreage which must be allotted to corn to produce a desired tonnage of silage depends largely upon the productivity of the soil. Corn that will produce 50 bushels of grain to the acre will yield about 10 tons of silage, or enough to feed three average cows six months.

Although Texas seeded ribbon cane has only 72 per cent of the milk producing value of corn, when converted into silage, it will produce from 50 to 80 per cent more tonnage to the acre, according to tests conducted by the South Carolina experiment station.

Only a few dairymen in this state have grown the ribbon cane for silage, but Arey believes the results obtained will warrant a more general use of it, especially by farmers with trench silos. It will pack in the silo better than corn.

Corn plantings for silage should be between May 1 and July 1, but the best results are obtained from plantings made between May 15 and June 15. Texas seeded ribbon cane should be planted between May 1 and 15.

The advent of the trench silo should lead to a greater usage of silage by small herd owners, for this type of silo is easily adapted to all herd sizes.

CHEVROLET TRUCK SALES AT HIGH MARK

Detroit, April 24.—The Chevrolet Motor Company today reported that retail sales of trucks this year to April 1, totalling 40,882, have set a record for first quarter sales for the last six years, and have been exceeded only once before in the history of the company, in the first quarter of 1929.

Special significance is seen in a marked increase in registrations of half-ton trucks, says the Chevrolet announcement issued by W. E. Fish, manager of the truck division, who declared that this gain is a particularly healthy sign in that it is conclusive evidence that small merchants, whose business was the first to suffer in the depression, are now coming back.

Chevrolet's smaller trucks, of half-ton capacity, such as are largely used by these small business places, showed a 93 per cent gain in registrations so far officially reported, said Mr. Fish.

The high rate of sales, of all classes of trucks, which established the first quarter of the year as the second highest in the history of Chevrolet, says the company's statement, is continuing unabated, sales for the first ten days in April having shown a greater increase per cent over the same period of last year than did the first quarter. Total truck sales for the first ten-day period of April were 5365.

In Memory of Myrtle Sebastian

She has left this world of sadness,
Gone where sorrows are no more,
Gone to meet with loved ones,
Yonder on that bright eternal shore.

She has left this world of suffering,
Left a world of sin and woe,
Gone up there to live with Jesus,
Where sad partings come no more.

Family grieve not for Myrtle,
For she is freed from all her pain,
But live closer to your savior,
And you'll meet with her again.

It was hard to give her up,
Yet we had it to do,
And today she is at the pearly gate,
Waiting for you.

Myrtle had brightened their home,
For over seventeen years,
But now she has gone to live,
Behold this vale of tears.

How often we have seen,
Those laughing blue eyes,
They are closed forever,
Until Myrtle shall rise.

The pearly gate was open,
A gentle voice said come,
And with a sad farewell unspoken,
She calmly entered home.

Oh it was hard to part with Myrtle
And she had to suffer so,
But dear family and friends live close to Jesus,
And meet her on the other shore.

Myrtle has gone but not forgotten,
Never will her memory fade,
Sweetest thoughts will ever linger,
Around the grave where she was laid.

Myrtle paid the debt and her trials and troubles ceased,
She laid the cares of this wearisome world by
And rose a triumphant victor
Above, the blue sky.

When the sorrow of youth has passed by you,
And that bright land of eternal rest is in view,
If it is His will, you will meet with Myrtle
Where the angels dwell.

Myrtle was loved with a love that can never be told.
God help each one of us to so live in His footsteps
That we can die with that sweet smile on our faces,
As Myrtle did.

Written in loving remembrance by Eula Warren.
