Norris Resents High Powers Given Courts

Nebraska Republican Schator Says U. S. Has Government By Injunction

Washington, June 2.--Power of the courts to hold laws unconstitutional today prompted Senator George Norris to describe American government as "a government by injunction." The man who fathered one of the 22 constitutional amendments — the 21st abolishing "lame-duck" sessions of Con-gress-tomks the courts should not be ablo to invalidate legislation. But the Republican independent from Nebraska doesn't believe anything can be done about a constitutional amendment to change the situation in this Congress.

"This is the only civilized country in the world," Norris said in an interview, "in which a law passed by the parliament and approved by the executive can be overruled by a Supreme court.

"I'm not criticizing the court Master Ward Eshelman left in any of the decisions it has Friday for Camp Yonahlossee made, but it does illustrate that near Blowing Rock where he we are a government by injunc-

Chevrolet Continues At Peak Production

Production of Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks will continue at peak schedules throughout June, and probably considerably longer, W. E. Holler, vice president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, announced this week, following his return from a coast to coast trip through the territory, where he discussed with dealers and the wholesale organization in the field, the outlook for the next 90 days.

June output projections, Mr. Holler said, are higher than in June of last year, and full capacity of the manufacturing units and the company's 10 assembly plants will be required to carry out the program. This assures a wide spread of employment at a period when production normally begins to taper off. He added that it is the company's hope to maintain sales at such a level as to repeat the unprecedented achievement of last year, when Chevrolet sales in the second six months eclipsed those in the first.

"Several factors noted in the field justify optimistic predictions," said Mr. Holler. "In the first place, Chevrolet dealers have on hand a large bank of orders, which the plants are now working hard to fill. Deliveries are coming through much more promptly, and this fact is naturally having a favorable effect on the number of orders received.

"More than a dozen executives from Detroit are now out in the territory, addressing Chevrolet wholesale and retail personnel in all parts of the country. They are in constant touch with us, and the reports they have relayed in all point to continuation of business at or near its present peak.
