Funeral service was held at Garrison Forest in Maryland on Monday morning at 11 o'clock. A brother of Dudley S. Hill, assistant cashier of the DeSavings Bank here.

Summer School For Teachers Is Now Being Held

Enrollment for Lenoir-Rhyne College Branch Approximately 75.
UNDER EXPECTATIONS
Second Term Will Be Held If Demand Justifies Such Procedure

Although approximately 75 teachers have begun work in the Lenoir-Rhyne College branch summer school which started in Wilkesboro Monday, the enrollment is somewhat short of expectations, it was learned today. The school began Monday with registrations and arrangement of classes but no school was held Tuesday in order that those participating might have an opportunity to secure books and supplies. Classes began Wednesday morning.

Prof. V. V. Aderholt, of Lenoir-Rhyne, is director of the Wilkesboro branch. The other members of the faculty are Mrs. Brown, of Lenoir-Rhyne, W. D. Halfacre, superintendent of North Wilkesboro city schools, and T. E. Story, superintendent of Wilkesboro district schools, and M. F. Bumgarner, of Millers Creek.

Original plans called for a faculty of six, based on an expression by more than 100 teachers to the effect that they wanted a summer school in Wilkes county and an enrollment of more than 100 was confidently expected. The present term will close on July 12 and a second term will be held if the demand justifies such course.

Lambeth Buys Chair Plant

Roaring River Manufacturer Buys Southern Chair Co. In High Point

C. J. Lambeth, president of the Roaring River Furniture Corporation, has purchased the Southern Chair Company in High Point for the sum of $15,000, according to a news dispatch from High Point Monday. This was the amount of Lambeth's bid for the property, which can be sold for that sum under an order signed by Judge Lewis E. Teague.

Mr. Lambeth is a well known manufacturer in this section. He was principal owner of the Roaring River plant, which was totally destroyed by fire a few months ago. He is expected to go to High Point this week to make plans for operation of his new plant.

Local Nine Has Tough Schedule

Play Statesville This Afternoon; Conover Tonight; High Point Sunday

Home Chair company baseball team is facing a schedule of three games for the latter part of this week with the probability of a fourth being added.

This afternoon they play a strong team from Statesville on the fairground field and tonight they go to Conover for a game under the lights.

A game will be arranged for Saturday either here or away and on Sunday Tomlinson's Chair company team will come here for a game. This team is one of the strongest in the High Point industrial league. All home games start at four o'clock.

Rural Carriers Will Meet At Chapel Hill Next Month

Chapel Hill, June 4.—The North Carolina Rural Letter Carriers' association will hold its annual convention on July 2, 3 and 4 in Chapel Hill.

Among the speakers on the program are President Frank P. Graham, of the university, Senator R. R. Reynolds and Lieut. Gov. A. H. Graham.

Mexico, D. F., June 4.—Juan Ignacio Pombo (above), Spanish aviator who flew the South Atlantic to win the hand of Senorita Maria Rivero here, crashed in Brazil, and lost his plane but saved his life. Cupid minded folks rushed to finance a new plane.

Burke Declines Job As Head of Works Program

Winston-Salem Man In Line For Big Job, Washington Dispatch Says

J. H. Burke, prominent attorney of Taylorsville, has declined to accept the position as head of the works relief program in North Carolina, it was learned here yesterday.

The Taylorsville attorney was recommended for the job by Senators Bailey and Reynolds, Congressman R. L. Doughton and some other members of the North Carolina delegation and the position was offered him by the PWA.

George W. Coan Jr., former mayor of Winston-Salem and a member of the original North Carolina PWA allotment board, is slated to be named works program administrator for North Carolina, it was learned yesterday.

This means that Coan will be the key man in expending North Carolina's portion of the four billion dollar work relief fund. Coan was in conference with Harry Hopkins, national works administrator. Hopkins has known Coan for sometime.

Whether the main office of the program administrator will be located in Winston-Salem or some other city has not yet been decided. It will be the duty of the office to see that persons on the relief rolls are used on work relief projects and to expedite construction on all projects so as to get the new work relief program under way in North Carolina with as little delay as possible.

The appointment of Coan is being strongly urged by Senator Bailey, Representative Doughton, and S. Clay Williams, Reynolds Tobacco Company official, of Winston-Salem. Senator Reynolds today gave his approval to the appointment, and Representative Frank Hancock, who is in North Carolina, is understood to have done likewise.

City Fathers In Session Tuesday

Lengthy Discussion On Sunday Baseballs Heard By Board of Aldermen

The North Wilkesboro board of commissioners met in regular June session Tuesday night with all members, S. V. Tomlinson, Hoyle M. Hutchens, R. G. Finley, Dr. R. P. Casey and I. E. Pearson, present with Mayor R. T. McNeill.

Aside from passing on only a few of the routine matters before the board no business was transacted.

A number of citizens of the city appeared before the board to discuss the question of Sunday baseball. After much argument was heard pro and con the commissioners went into executive session but action was deferred until a later date.

PREACHING SERVICE AT REDDIES RIVER

Rev. J. R. Wilson, of Martinsville, Va., will preach at Reddies River church on Friday, June 7, at 2:30 in the afternoon and at night. The public has a cordial invitation to attend both services.

Making Plans For All Departments Of Fair In Sept.

Premium List Now In Process of Formation; Emphasis Placed On Agriculture
CASH PRIZES OFFERED
Special Attention Being Given To Plans For Free Acts and Show Attractions

No department of the Great Wilkes Fair to be held in North Wilkesboro during the week of September 16, is being overlooked in plans now being made, it was learned today from W. A. McNeill, president and general manager of the Great Wilkes Fair Association, which has staged seven annual agricultural and amusement expositions here since its organization.

Mr. McNeill and the directors of the association began early this year to plan for the fall exposition in order that there would be ample time to compile a premium list for the agricultural department and to arrange for attractions that are calculated to bring thousands to North Wilkesboro during the five-day gala event.

By offering liberal cash premiums particular emphasis is to be placed on the agricultural department this year and the housewives will not be forgotten in the premium list, which will offer prizes for best specimens of their work as well as the products of the field and garden.

This premium catalogue is now in process of formation and will be off the press in ample time for everybody to prepare their specimens for the fair.

The same carnival that filled the midway last year has been signed again, mainly because of the fact that it was considered the cleanest aggregation of shows obtainable. It is learned, however, that several attractions are being added to the carnival this year.

MISS MARJORIE FAW GUILDFORD GRADUATE

Miss Marjorie Faw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Faw, of this city, graduated with high honors at Guilford College Monday. She was awarded a scholarship to Hartford Theological Seminary, where she will enter in September to take up study for missionary work. Mr. and Mrs. Faw attended the graduation Monday.

Our New Author Milton Propper Author Of Many Mystery Stories

New York... Milton Propper, author (above), entered the University of Pennsylvania when he was 16 and at 21, as a student in the Law School there, he had his first novel published, "The Strange Disappearance of Mary Young." Propper has been writing ever since, each succeeding mystery thriller a sure fire success. He is the author of "The Divorce Court Murder," a new serial mystery which will begin in The Journal-Patriot Monday.

STATE AND NATIONAL FIGURES TO ADDRESS TAR HEEL OFFICIALS

City and county officials from every section of North Carolina will gather at the 1935 sessions of The Institute of Government in Chapel Hill, June 10-11, to discuss common problems, hear their State and National legislators interpret new legislation, and listen to the State heads of the various federal agencies outline the procedure for securing projects and appropriations under the new $4,300,000,000 public works and relief act.

Some of the headline speakers are pictured above. Senator Bailey and Congressman Doughton will be heard at the session on Federal Legislation next Monday evening. Mrs. O'Berry, Director of the North Carolina ERA, and Dean Baitly, State Engineer for the PWA, will appear on the same program.

A. A. F. Seawell, Attorney General, and Chas. M. Johnson, Director, and W. E. Easterling, Secretary, of the Local Government Commission, are among the state officials who will be on hand to lead discussion and give opinions in person at the sessions on State Legislation Tuesday morning and afternoon.

Another aid to local officials will be the summaries of new laws affecting each office and of new Local Acts affecting each town and county which are being prepared by The Institute's staff and which will be distributed at the meeting, June 10-11.

Department Officers of Legion and Auxiliary To Speak In Meet Here

Cupid's Business Falls Off In May

Only 14 licenses to wed were issued from the office of Registrar of Deeds O. F. Eller during the month of May, according to records of that office. This represents a low figure for a month during recent years.

Policemen Here Will Kill Dogs

Rabies Epidemic Feared If People Do Not Keep Their Canines Confined

All dogs running loose in North Wilkesboro will be killed. Authority for this statement is the North Wilkesboro police department, which is taking extra precautions to prevent an epidemic this summer.

Mad dogs have been on rampages in various sections of the county and already a number of people have resorted to the painful Pasteur treatment to be on the safe side and immune themselves against the dreaded disease contracted from mad dogs.

Attention is called to the fact that people who have valuable dogs will keep them confined for their own protection and the protection of the public. Dogs running at large cannot be tolerated, says the police.

HOME COMING AT COOL SPRINGS SUNDAY

The annual Home Coming will be observed at Cool Springs Baptist church in Edwards township Wilkes County, next Sunday, June 9th. This is regular monthly meeting time. An invitation is extended to all who would care to come—also a request for a well-filled lunch basket. The afternoon session will be featured by an address by R. Glenn Key, an attorney of Winston-Salem, and singing by Shoaly Branch choir.—Reported.

Boards To Meet Friday To Name Welfare Officer

Joint Session Will Be Held Friday Morning To Name Officer For Biennium

REGULAR SESSIONS HELD
Commissioners Work On June List, Budget Estimates and Routine Matters

The Wilkes county board of commissioners and the county board of education will meet in joint session at the courthouse in Wilkesboro Friday morning for the purpose of electing a county welfare officer for the next biennium.

Charles McNeill, who was elected two years ago, is a candidate to succeed himself.

The board of education, composed of C. O. McNeill, chairman, R. R. Church and D. E. Swearingen, held a quiet session Monday with C. B. Eller, superintendent of schools and clerk to the board. No business of public interest was transacted.

The county board of commissioners, composed of D. E. Swearingen, chairman, M. F. Absher and Ralph Duncan, met on Monday to transact the usual routine business of the month and have held a number of recess sessions this week. Revision of the jury lists, discussion of budget estimates and refinancing of the county's bonded debt have gained their attention.

Election Case Argued In Court

J. H. Clement Presiding Over June Civil Term In Wilkesboro This Week

Judge J. H. Clement, of Winston-Salem, is presiding over the June civil term in Wilkesboro. The term began Monday morning and will continue throughout next week.

Several cases calendared for trial have been disposed of by trial or compromise. However, no cases of much public interest have held the attention of the court.

Tuesday afternoon actions growing out of the Wilkesboro municipal election on May 7 were heard but no decision had been handed down this morning by the court.

The first part of the hearing was devoted to argument of the question of legality of the election, in which 57 votes were cast on what Judge F. A. Daniels ruled was an illegal ballot and it was contended that the polls remained open for voting only about an hour and thirty minutes.

Following argument on that issue a hearing was held on citation of T. S. Miller for contempt of court, it being contended that he acted in contempt by using ballots contrary to a restraining order signed by Judge Daniels. Judge Clements has not ruled on the contempt charges.

Hit-Run Victim

New Bern, June 3.—Edgar Connor, 26, was instantly killed early this morning when struck by a hit and run driver on highway 10 five miles east of New Bern. He was walking along a long the highway when hit. Identity of the driver is unknown. This was the second motor accident fatality in this section during the week-end. Amos Mitchell, negro, being killed in a collision early Sunday morning on highway 10 three miles west of Fort Barwell.

Midwife Clinic To Be Held On Saturday, 15th
