Singing At Swan Creek Was Best In History

RONDA, July 1.—"Praise To the Lord, for it is good to sing praises unto our God"—Surely this was manifested in great power last Sunday, when the Ronda Singing Convention met, according to appointment, with Swan Creek church, with a record breaking attendance.

Service began with singing, "What A Friend We Have in Jesus," led by the efficient and faithful director of the home choir, Mr. Swain, accompanied at the piano by Charles T. Jones, and joined by the entire congregation.

Rev. N. T. Jarvis, the much loved pastor, who has so capably served this church for twenty-one years, read the 150th Psalm, for devotional and the familiar hymn, "Amazing Grace" was sung after Rev. Mr. Jarvis read it in parts, some know it by memory would not forget to wait for him. This was showing a group of young singers, the choir, when only a book, then Rev. Mr. Jarvis was asked to lead the prayer.

Several selections were rendered before noon by the choirs present, and Rev. R. J. Pardue dismissed the service with prayer.

An hour or more was spent at Swan Creek, the shady grove and near by spring afforded a pleasant place for lunch.

The chairman, W. H. Jones, called for a congregational song to begin the afternoon session and an impressive prayer was led by Rev. Gus Myers.

Mr. Crater, the secretary soon had the choirs listed, that had joined in the afternoon, they began with the "Praise To the Lord" as is the rule—led by G. Swain, who is known to have the biggest choir in the convention; Bethel, directed by W. H. Jones; Mr. Elisha Martin had his faithful group from Pleasant Grove; Shady Grove choir, from Yadkin county, directed by Mrs. Church, joined us with a fine class; Rev. Clint Swain, a former resident of this place brought a male chorus from Salem Baptist church, Winston-Salem, which delighted the audience with several numbers.

The quartets present and taking a part were: Swan Creek leader, J. T. Myers; Bethel, W. H. Jones; Wilkes, W. A. Stroud; Jonesville, J. Osborne; West Yadkin, Roy Sale; Nance, from Mayodan, E. Nance; Oak Ridge, O. Brown; Southern, J. T. Myers; Salem Baptist, C. V. Williams, and Paul B. Collins had a quartet from Lincoln, that gave two numbers that were enjoyed much. They were enroute from another convention that they had attended.

About 4:30 the service closed, with the entire congregation blending their voices together to sing the beautiful hymn, "Never Grow Old," led by Mr. Myers, of

Ronda Builds Plane

Moscow, July 5.—The soviet government today ordered the construction of 16 airplanes of the type of the Maxim Gorky which—until it crashed May 18, killing 48 persons—was the largest land plane in the world.

Elkin and Swan Creek and Rev. Mr. Jarvis offered the closing prayer.

All numbers were well rendered by the singers. Much credit was reflected and honor due the directors and members of the choirs and quartets who have spent their time and talent preparing for this glad day, which was deemed to be one of the best singings in the history of the convention.

With the fine spirit of courtesy and cooperation shown by the pastor and church, made this a happy day and we felt that it was good to be there.
