Franklin County Negro Lynched

Louisburg, July 30.—A judicial investigation will be conducted here at 10 o'clock Thursday into the lynching near here today by an infuriated mob of Govan (Sweet) Ward, 25-year-old negro who ran amuck to decapitate a prominent farmer with an axe, assault two other persons, and stage several fist fights with officers.

Ward killed Charles G. Stokes, 60; assaulted Spurgeon Askew, a youth; and hit his own sister, Rowena Kerney, twice on the head with an iron rod during his outbreak.

He was taken by the mob from Sheriff J. T. Moore and two deputies as he was being spirited away due to high feeling. Ward was hanged to a scrub oak tree at a cross-roads about 10 miles northeast of Louisburg, near a tiny resort called Lakeview.

Solicitor William Y. Bickett, of Raleigh, came here immediately after hearing of the lynching to make an investigation, and tonight he announced a judicial inquiry would be opened Thursday morning. More than a score of witnesses have already been summoned to appear, he said.

In Raleigh, Governor Ehringhaus said he would assign a Superior court judge to conduct the inquiry, and would formally post the usual reward, $200, for capture of the lynchers, tomorrow morning.

FOUR ARE KILLED AS PLANE CRASHES

Milwaukee, July 27.—Four men on a pleasure cruise around Lake Michigan were killed today when their airplane crashed from an altitude of 200 feet as the pilot sent it into a flat turn in attempting to land.

The dead:

Pilot Robert M. Henschen of Winnetka, Ill.

George T. Tengberg of Chicago.

William H. Ennis, attorney, of Chicago.

George R. Burkhard of Chicago.

The plane, a Stinson Junior, appeared over the Curtiss-Wright airport at a height of about 1,800 feet. The pilot circled the field once, then started down. Witnesses said that apparently because of a lack of speed the ship nosed down when the turn was tried. It plunged earthward and buried its nose deep in the soil of a hay field.

The party rented the ship from the North Suburban Flying corporation and took off from the Curtiss-Reynolds field near Chicago at 1:05 p. m. The accident took place about 45 minutes later.

Officials of the Curtiss-Reynolds airport said Henschen was a licensed pilot and was regarded as a skilled airman. He and Tengberg were employees of the Commonwealth Edison company of Chicago.

Two of Chicago's Meat Packers Attack AAA

Chicago, June 29.—A fresh assault on collection of AAA processing taxes was launched here today when Armour & Co. and Swift & Co.—two of the "Big Four" of Chicago packers—filed petitions for restraining injunctions in federal court.

The bills ask that the collector of internal revenue be enjoined from collecting processing taxes totaling several million dollars for the month of May, 1935, and from collecting such future taxes as may accrue.

The two firms alleged that assessment and collection of the taxes are unconstitutional, since "the processing and manufacturing of commodities is purely an intrastate process."

Constitutionality of the AAA was attacked on nine points by attorneys for the packers.

KEY POSITIONS IN DISTRICT OFFICE WPA ARE FILLED

Under instructions from Raleigh and Washington, the district WPA office has begun taking over work projects in force under the emergency relief administration.

Thirty ERA projects were forwarded to Raleigh this week for state WPA Administrator George W. Coan Jr.'s approval.

Only two new projects are in sight at present, Mr. Roach stated.

An $800,000 sanitation program is proposed under sponsorship of the state department of health and the United States Public Health Service.

A $150,000 dredging and drainage project for Muddy, Salem and South Fork Creeks is proposed as a part of state-wide malaria control and WPA sanitation program.

The district offices in Winston-Salem are established temporarily, perhaps permanently, at 221 South Liberty street, headquarters of the old ERA works project division.

Two key staff positions yet remain to be filled.

A woman supervisor of the division of intake and certification and a project supervisor for women are to be selected shortly.
