

Dellaplane and Roaring River Route 2 News

ROARING RIVER, Route 2, July 30.—The revival at Oak Forest closed last Sunday. Rev. John A. Foster preached at 10:30. The baptizing was held at 2 p. m. at the old Parks mill. Two or more were converted during the meeting, in which the popular pastor, Rev. Ferris C. Parks, of Cycle, was assisted by Revs. E. K. Woodson, George Curry, and others.

Rev. George Curry, of Benham, a brother of the good citizen, Mr. Simon Curry, seems to be a native of this locality and may have attended the Dellaplane school in the nineties when Mr. W. J. Kinzyon taught. Mr. Curry is widely spoken of as an exceptionally good man.

The revival was characterized by splendid preaching, large attendance, especially at night, and considerable interest. Most of the preaching was done by Rev. E. K. Woodson, of the Cycle or

Have you tried ALKA-SELTZER?

Alka-Seltzer makes a sparkling alkaline drink. As it contains an analgesic, (acetyl-salicylate) it first relieves the pain of every-day ailments, then by restoring the alkaline balance, removes the cause when due to excess acid.

Hamptonville section, and several expressed the opinion that they had never heard any better. Mr. Wooten, still comparatively a young man, has attracted considerable favorable notice as a minister for the past several years and there are many admirers of his preaching.

Mrs. Lula Johnson (Mrs. Frank Johnson) was ill Sunday.

Mrs. W. G. Harris says that her mother, Mrs. R. M. Frevette, of the Rousseau place at Wilkesboro, has been sick most of the time for three months. Mr. and Mrs. Frevette lived formerly for a great many years in this part of the county on the Parks and Foote farms, and her many friends here are sorry of her ill health.

Miss Zenith Smithey, student nurse in a Winston-Salem hospital, visited her mother, Mrs. Pearl Parks, a part of last week and attended the Oak Forest revival. Miss Smithey will graduate in nursing September 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Glass and Mr. Lee St. John, of the Brier Creek and Clingman sections, visited at Mr. Joe Love's last Sunday.

Rev. John Foster, of the Brier Creek neighborhood, attended the last two or three services of the Oak Forest revival and accompanied Rev. P. C. Parks to one of Mr. Parks' churches in north Iredell, where a revival is being held this week.

Mr. G. M. Tucker, the superintendent, announced Sunday that everyone who does not attend Sunday school elsewhere is urged to attend that at Oak Forest.

A revival has been in progress this week at Brier Creek church, having started last Saturday and Sunday, and several from this section are attending.

Miss Ida Parks has been suffering considerably for some time from a burnt limb, caused by spilling hot grease on it, and does not recover rapidly.

Julius C. Martin, of Connecticut Avenue, Washington, D. C., one of the several special assistants attorney-general, writes that the government is sending him to San Francisco, Cal., in August to argue some cases for the United States before the court of appeals. While there Mr. Martin will take his vacation, and he and Mrs. Martin, who will accompany him, will also visit their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Augustus Martin, and little daughter, Millie, in Portland, Oregon. Mr. Martin, senior, is a native of the Dellaplane community and visited here last August, as will be remembered.

Mr. Charles Johnson, Wilkesboro, Route 2, was here a few days last week buying and setting poplar blocks and hauling them to Morganton. He cut two trees at the old Tilley place.

Miss Hazel Joyner spent the past two weeks with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Childers, near Roaring River, as her grandmother was sick.

The ministers conducting the revival at Oak Forest visited in many hospitable homes last week. They conducted prayer services in the homes they visited. On Tuesday afternoon they held services at the home of Mrs. Ida Call, who is rather aged and does not go out much, and on Friday afternoon at Rev. C. M. Call's.

Mr. Charles Johnson, Wilkesboro Route 2, was in Yadkinville last Saturday afternoon.

Revs. Jimmie Bryant and Scott Alexander, from the other side of the river, attended services at Oak Forest on Tuesday of the revival. Mr. Bryant was once pastor of Antioch church, and also of Cranberry, and is much valued in this locality.

Some among the many from in and near this part of the non-to moral vineyard seen in the Wilkesboros shopping and looking after other matters last Saturday were: Rev. J. B. Ray, Mr. Turner Inscore, Mr. Julius Johnson, Mr. Charles Johnson, Mrs. Mont Mathis, Miss Gladys Longbottom, and Miss Ruth Linney.

Grover Longbottom, of Roaring River, fainted, probably from the heat, one day the early part of last week, after playing checkers with Mr. Charley Cockherham.

Excellent order in the church and about it was noted during the Oak Forest revival. One or two nights, a little shooting, cursing, and hitting people in the head with flash lights or blackjacks, on the way home, was reported, but nothing to worry about.

The colored people are having a Sunday school convention at their church, Union Grove, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of this week.

Among those from some little distance attending the Oak Forest revival a part of last week were Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. George R. Johnson, all of Wilkesboro Route 2; and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Combs, of the Call, or Fishing Creek Arbor section. Mr. and Mrs. Combs, who once lived in this community at about three different places a number of years ago, said that a revival would be in progress this week at their church, Fishing Creek Arbor.

Several, including the Oak Forest preachers, attended the funeral of a Mr. Mastin, brother of Mr. Jim Mastin, the miller, at Fishing Creek Arbor Tuesday afternoon of last week.

"Rinky," very small yellow cat at the old Tilley place, has found thirty-three kittens within three years and four months. She also found six kittens at once and fifteen within twelve months.

Workers were taking up sand near Mr. Felix Staley's Twin Bridge Store the latter part of last week and putting it on the Antioch road.

Mr. Julius J. Johnson was in High Point one day last week.

One citizen says it is a good idea to have revivals in July before much brandy is made. This may be true; but you not only "fan a little and sweat a little,"

TOMBS OF GIANTS ARE DISCOVERED

Paris, July 30, (Tuesday)—Nine tombs of prehistoric giants—the tallest of whom was seven feet, ten inches—were discovered by workmen building a road near the town of Gap, capital of Hautes-Alpes, according to a story in this morning's "Petit-Parisien."

The giants were buried in sarcophagi constructed of flat stones, but no tools or weapons indicating the period in which they lived could be found. It was believed they belonged to some hitherto unknown race.

but bid fair to become a Niagara of perspiration; and it seems that the church ought not only to furnish fans, but annoint the congregation with buckets of "ever-dry," "non-spi," and other preparations designed to prevent one from sweating "like a negro at the lecture."

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Byrd have been visiting relatives in this locality.

On Tuesday of the Oak Forest revival Rev. Enoch K. Wooten preached from St. Luke XI, 1: "Lord teach us to pray." Perhaps not very many recall that this was the text from which the late R. N. Garner preached at Oak Forest around twenty-three years ago at the ordination of some deacons. But this correspondent, who was very small at that time and had never been to school yet, remembers it very distinctly.

Mrs. Ransie Staley recently lost several turkeys, including a gobbler, a hen, another hen with twelve small turkeys, and a third hen with a smaller gang, and had found no trace of them Saturday.

Candidates for the distinction of meanest thief are always popping up. And an unknown one of them stole $1.32 out of a bed at Mrs. Emma Mastin's last week. Mrs. Mastin, who is a poor widow and not in very good health, is one of those who have been working hard picking blackberries and had saved the money to buy her little girl a hat and for other needed articles.
