

Bob McNeill On Highway Patrol

Local Man To Be Given Assignment In New Organization of Patrol Forces

Robert G. (Bob) McNeill, son of J. H. McNeill, of this city, has been appointed as a member of the state highway patrol, it was learned yesterday.

Mr. McNeill applied for a position some time ago and during the past six weeks attended the school for patrol applicants at the state fair grounds in Raleigh.

It is not known to what territory the local man will be assigned in the reorganization of the patrol forces, which were greatly supplemented by an act passed by the legislature this year. His many friends here wish for him every success.

New Fall Styles in Coat and Frock

NEW YORK . . . Two of the first of the new fall fashions to make their appearance in the full-length fitted coat, left, and the two-piece frock, right. The fitted coat, in dark red and navy tweed mixture, has square shoulders achieved by a box pleat in the top of the sleeve. The skirt matches the coat. The two-piece frock is a patterned jacquard tansmere. The cuff and pocket edges, as well as the buttons are yellow. Black eyelash dots of black and yellow is the design of the fabric.

Cork Used In Modern Roof Keep Houses Warm In Winter, Cool Summer

African explorers protect themselves from the merciless tropic sun by wearing helmets lined with cork. An insulating lining of cork is also used to preserve food supplies as they are transported cross-country in refrigerator cars. Your own icebox at home is probably cork-protected against the heat of your kitchen. Have you ever wondered why? Simply because heat will go through cork about as rapidly as you could walk through a brick wall!

Now you can put a roof on your home that combines the insulating value of cork with the weather protection of slate. A leading manufacturer of roofing materials has perfected a cork-insulated shingle that has an outer surface of durable slate and an under surface of cork; and between the two—welding them together, is a layer of tough, heavy, asphalt-impregnated felt.

These cork insulated shingles are fire retardant and weather-proof. They are offered in colors to meet the most exacting requirement. It is said that a cork insulated shingle roof will keep a house warmer in winter because it keeps the heat in; and cooler in summer, because it keeps the heat out.

No Complications Blocking Grants For School Buses

Raleigh, Aug. 14.—No complications have appeared to interfere with the application of the state school commission for a grant of $450,000 from the public works administration to launch a "million dollar" school bus construction project, LeRoy Martin, executive secretary of the commission, reported today upon his return from Washington.

Man Is Drowned

Gastonia, Aug. 14.—Apparently a victim of cramps, Thomas Whitman, 25-year-old High Shoals textile worker, drowned today in South Fork river, near High Shoals. His brother-in-law, who was swimming with him, said Whitman went down suddenly. When his body was recovered 30 minutes later, rescuers said the heart was still beating, but efforts at resuscitation were futile.

STRANGED HUSBAND DECAPITATES WOMAN

Elizabeth City, Aug. 14.—John Horne, former Edenton cotton mill employe, was being held in the Pasquotank county jail here today for safe keeping after he had nearly severed his wife's head from her body with a razor and then turned the blade on himself, inflicting wounds on his neck and wrist, not considered fatal by physicians. The crime occurred at the Edenton Cotton mill where his estranged wife was at work. At about 8 o'clock Horne is said to have approached his wife from the rear and slashed her throat. He was brought here by ambulance from a doctor's office by Sheriff J. A. Bunch, of Chowap county, and Chief of Police G. A. Helms, of Edenton, who said they feared mob violence would develop if Horne were allowed to remain in Edenton.

Death Claims Highway Man

Elkin, Aug. 14.—Colon A. Richardson, 35, died suddenly from a heart attack this morning at the home of his father-in-law, William J. Snow, on Gwyn for several years, and yesterday, avenue. His health had been impaired upon his physician's advice, he came over from his business office in Reidsville to join his family which was visiting here for a rest. He was a son of Mrs. U. C. Richardson and the late Mr. Richardson, prominent family of Asheboro. After his graduation from North Carolina State College in 1921, Mr. Richardson became associated with the engineering staff of the State Highway Commission in the district office here.

KILLS MAGISTRATE AND THEN HIMSELF

Foley, Ala., Aug. 14.—An embittered ex-convict today killed the magistrate who started him to prison, and then committed suicide.

Police Magistrate J. B. Huckabee was found shot to death in his office here, clutching a note reading: "You have tried me, but you'll never try anybody else."

Nearby lay fatally wounded William Peterson, 60, farmer, who, officers said, was bound over to the grand jury on a trespass charge in Judge Williams' court last January.

Peterson was duly indicted, tried, convicted and sentenced to a brief prison term. He recently was released and returned home. Authorities were told that Peterson had threatened to "get" Judge Huckabee, whom he apparently held responsible for his imprisonment.

Roosevelt Signs Bill Giving Insurance Against Evil of Age, Unemployment

State Revenue Collections For 1st 12 Days of August Shown To Total $2,971,000

Raleigh, Aug. 14.—Tax collections through August 12, ran to $2,971,000, and if the revenue department had been able to cast up today what has come in since there probably would have been another $10,000 for each day.

From now until late in the month sales taxes will pour in and the department expects at least $3,500,000 to be gathered for August. That will be almost double the collections of August a year ago and the surplus will go piling up. All the signs support the belief that the state is going to run heavily into the black.

May Buy Increased Allotment For Tobacco

Washington, Aug. 14.—Contracting growers of flue-cured tobacco whose production exceeds their allotments may obtain immediately increased allotments on a basis of four cents a pound by applying to the county agricultural agents, it was announced today by the AAA.

The purpose of this amendment to an administrative ruling is to take care growers on markets which opened early and who are finding it difficult to secure additional allotment certificates. Under the old ruling growers with production in excess of allotments could obtain additional allotments only after sales had been completed by contracting growers with allotment deficits.

SHERIFF ASKED TO KEEP EYE ON GIRL

Greensboro, Aug. 14.—Sheriff Joe S. Phipps yesterday received an unsigned letter asking him to look after the writer's daughter. He does not quite see how he is going about it.

The letter, in principal part, is as follows: "Mr. Sheriff Phipps: I want to warn you to please watch and I give my girl warning and she won't mind me. I don't want my girl to do wrong. I want you to watch her for me and stop this car riding and don't let them be together."
The letter was signed, "From a friend."

President Happy As He Puts Social Plan Upon Statute Books

Washington, Aug. 14.—President Roosevelt today signed into law a social security program he said would "provide for the United States an economic structure of vastly greater soundness."

"This social security measure," Mr. Roosevelt added, "gives at least some protection to 30,000,000 of our citizens who will reap direct benefits through unemployment compensation, through old-age pensions and through increased services for the protection of children and the prevention of ill health."

The President spoke into sound cameras crowding the White House cabinet room after his pen welded to the statute books the security program molded in studies begun more than a year ago. It was seven months going through the house and senate.

The law sets up systems of old-age pensions and unemployment insurance, and special care for dependent children and mothers, and contains a huge tax program to raise the necessary funds.
