EXPECTING LARGE ENROLLMENT AT STATE THIS YEAR

College Station, Raleigh, Aug. 14.—Administrative officers of N. C. State College are optimistic over the enrollment of students at the institution this fall since indications are that a registration equal to or larger than all past records will be had.

Advanced freshman registration this summer is several weeks ahead of last summer, and although upperclassmen and transfer students are not required to make advanced registrations, an increase in enrollment also is expected in these groups.

Freshmen will complete their registrations Friday, September 13, and transfer students will be received on Monday and Tuesday, September 16 and 17. Upperclassmen will register on Wednesday, September 18, and classroom work for all students will begin the next day.

Col. John W. Harelson, now attending camp at Fort Bragg, announced several weeks ago that the freshman housing program started at State last year, would be continued. The program requires all first-year men to room together in the Freshman Quadrangle composed of four dormitories. Because of the increase expected in the freshman class, the top floor of Seventh dormitory also has been reserved for the first-year men.

T. E. Story Tells Grangers What To Expect At Scene Of State Convention

T. E. Story, master of Wilkesboro Grange, is the author of a comprehensive article appearing in the Carolina Cooperator, farm publication, relative to the state Grange convention to be held in North Wilkesboro September 25-27. The article is well worth reproducing and here it is:

North Wilkesboro is to be host to the Annual State Meeting of the Grange during the last days of September of this year. A glorious welcome to the Grangers of the entire State is being planned by the patrons and friends of husbandry of this community.

The Wilkesboros with a population of more than 5,000 people situated in the heart of the mountains of Northwest North Carolina constitute a community of unbelievable charm and delight. They are located in the Great Valley through which runs the beautiful Yadkin and are hedged in on the south by the Brushies of some five miles distance and on the northwest by the Spurs and low lying ridges contiguous to the Blue Ridge. They enjoy a wonderful climate, rarely ever knowing either of the extremes of temperature.

The county of Wilkes was formed by the Legislature of North Carolina in the year 1777 at the instance of Col Ben Cleveland, a native of the county and a Revolutionary War hero. It is one of the largest counties in the state, being surrounded and touched by eight other counties, a distinction which only one other county, Chatham, shares. It grows well all of the grain crops raised in North Carolina, and produces potatoes, tobacco, cotton, and all manner of vegetables with ease. Its orchards are unrivaled. The apples, peaches, and other fruits of the Brushies constitute the chief industry of all that section of the county.

Poultry raising is a noted industry of the county. There are a number of hatcheries in the Wilkesboros and nearby communities which furnish chicks for both local and Southwide markets. An interesting fact is that at one time during the hatching season one of these hatcheries had 16,000 chicks. E. E. Eller and Son of North Wilkesboro is the largest shipper of poultry products in the State.

The city of North Wilkesboro is ideally located for a shipping point of many products from a wide territory. It is at the head of the branch line of the Southern Railroad out of Winston-Salem and is traversed by State Highways Nos. 16, 18, and 60, and U. S. No. 421. The Great Scenic Highway to be constructed along the Blue Ridge may be reached within thirty minutes drive over either one of three State highways.

It is our unbiased opinion that the Grangers of North Carolina will find this a delightful rendezvous for their Annual State Meeting. We shall look forward to your coming with the expectation for great mutual benefit.

"FRAIL" SNAKE HAS MAN-SIZED APPETITE

Raleigh, Aug. 14.—The South Carolina moccasin traded to the state museum here some time ago by a Philadelphia naturalist for a supposedly more hardy North Carolina snake is not so frail after all.

The South Carolina reptile was placed by Harry Davis, curator of the museum, in a cage with a dozen other snakes.

One by one the 12 snakes disappeared, and today the South Carolina moccasin had the entire cage to itself.

Ethiopia Pleads For Arms To Balk Italian Massacre

Geneva, Aug. 14.—Ethiopia dispatched a fervent appeal to the league of nations today to have many nations remove an arms embargo against her, asserting otherwise she faced 'massacre' from Italy.

The joint appeal and protest was placed before the league secretary general by Teda Hawariate, Ethiopian minister to France, acting upon instructions of his government.

It called Italy "all powerful" and Ethiopia "weak and pacific." "Notwithstanding the resumption of arbitration procedure in conformity with the council's decision August 3," said themissive, "the royal Italian government is continuing to send troops and ammunition into eastern Africa. It is ceaselessly manufacturing arms and implements of war with the solemnly avowed intention of using them against the Ethiopian empire."

"There is no manufacture in Ethiopia, either public or private, of arms or munitions of war. The imperial Ethiopian government today finds it absolutely impossible to obtain means of defense outside its own frontier. Wherever it attempts to obtain them it meets with prohibitions of exports and embargoes."

"Is that real neutrality? Is it just? Will the council remain unmoved in the face of this situation which is growing steadily worse? Will it allow this unequal combat to continue between two members of the league of nations, one of which is all powerful and in a position to employ, and declares it is employing, all its resources in preparing for aggression, while the other, weak and pacific and mindful of its international undertaking, is deprived of means of organizing the defense of its territory and its very existence, both of which are threatened?"

"Will the council assume the responsibility in the eyes of the world for allowing these preparations to continue unchecked for the massacre of a people which constitute a menace to none?"

EFFECTIVE

"How did you make your neighbor keep his hens in his own yard?"

"One night I hid a half-dozen eggs under a bush in my garden and next day I let him see me gather them. I wasn't bothered after that."
