

Methodists Gather Friday

Paul B. Kern Will Preach At 11 A. M.; Dr. Hawk On Program

Methodists throughout the area are looking forward with great interest to the coming of Bishop Paul B. Kern, of Greensboro, and Dr. John S. Hawk, of Shanghai, China, to North Wilkesboro on Friday of this week. Enthusiastic District Rallies are being held this month and next throughout North and South Carolina, which are under the direct supervision of Bishop Kern. The Mt. Airy District forces will gather on Friday, September 17, in two sections—North Wilkesboro in the morning, and at Mt. Airy in the evening.

The Board of Stewards of the First Methodist church at North Wilkesboro, Professor W. D. Moore, chairman, in official meeting last night completed plans to care for details of the meeting here Friday morning. Certain repairs to the local church building are already under way, in keeping with the church's splendid pride in the proper care of its house of worship. Mr. W. R. Absher will have charge of ushers. As Bishop Kern desires especially to meet all church officials, a certain number of pews will be reserved for pastors and church members from over the District. Following pastoral charge will be represented: Boone, Prof. W. H. Hinton, Helton, Jefferson, Laurel Springs, Moravian Falls, North Wilkesboro, Sparta, Todd, Warrensville, Watauga, Wilkesboro, Yadkinville, and the local church is expecting a record attendance for this important event.

Bishop Kern will preach at 11 a. m., and all who desire to hear this distinguished church leader should be on hand well ahead of time. Accompanying Bishop Kern on this tour is Dr. John C. Hawk, one of the church's outstanding missionaries in China, who will also appear on the program. Dr. Hawk is a great evangelistic preacher, and a personal friend of Rev. and Mrs. H. K. King. The entire meeting will be in the capable hands of Rev. A. C. Gibbs, presiding elder of the Mt. Airy district. 10:30 a. m. is the hour set for the session to begin.

Dr. Hawk With Bishop

Bishop Kern will be accompanied by Rev. John C. Hawk, D. D., of Shanghai, China, a member of the Holston conference, who has been engaged in missionary work in China 30 years, and who is now on furlough in this country. "Dr. Hawk is one of our greatest evangelistic missionaries," Bishop Kern states. He and Dr. Hawk were classmates at Vanderbilt in 1905.

Rev. Robert S. Moore Will Preach Here Sunday

Rev. Robert S. Moore, of Providence, R. I., will preach Sunday morning, 11 o'clock, at the Methodist church here, it was announced this morning by Rev. H. K. King, pastor. At the present time Rev. Mr. Moore is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Robert Morehouse, on the Brushies.

FORD BROADCASTS START SUNDAY NIGHT

With Jascha Heifetz, considered by many critics to be the greatest living violinist, as guest soloist for the inaugural program, the Ford Sunday Evening Hour broadcast series will be resumed Sunday night, September 29.

The program, sponsored by the Ford Motor Company, will be broadcast each Sunday evening from 8 to 9 o'clock, E. S. T. for a period of 39 weeks over the entire coast-to-coast network of the Columbia Broadcasting System. The broadcasts will originate from Orchestra Hall, Detroit.

Programs will closely follow the pattern introduced last year, offering "familiar music in the majestic manner," by the Ford Symphony Orchestra of 70 pieces and the Ford Chorus of 44 voices, under the direction of Victor Kolar, associate director of the Detroit Symphony Society. A guest artist of international repute will be presented in each program.

A special Christmas program is scheduled for December 22 when a quartet of four first-rank Metropolitan Opera soloists is programmed.

The guest artists scheduled for appearance during the remainder of the year are:

October 6—Lucrezia Bori, Soprano.

October 13—Julius Huehn, bass-baritone.

October 20—Dallies Frantz, pianist.

October 27—Richard Crooks, tenor.

November 3—Joseph Szigeti, violinist (radio premiere).

November 10—Mischa Levitzki, pianist.

November 17—Cyrone Van Gordon, contralto.

November 24—Kirston Flagstad, soprano.

December 1—Albert Spalding, violinist.

December 8—Lawrence Melchior, tenor.

December 15—Elisabeth Rethberg, soprano.

December 22—Quartet comprising Grete Stueckgold, soprano; Kathryn Meisle, contralto; Richard Crooks, tenor, and Ezio Pinza, bass baritone.

December 29—Charlest Kullmann, tenor.

W. J. Cameron, of the Ford Motor Co., who last year was presented each week in a brief talk interpreting the philosophies and viewpoints of Henry Ford and the Ford Motor Co., will continue his intermission talks throughout the series.

Lois Smashes Baer And Wins By A Knockout

Californiaan Dropped For Knockout First Time In His Career; 90,000 Fans

Yankee Stadium, New York, Sept. 24.—Young Joe Louis, sleek, panther-bodied Detroit negro, tonight out-bull-shouldered Maxie Baer in the fourth round of their million-dollar prize fight, after smashing the bloody ex-champion to the floor three times.

The blow ending the one-sided brawl was a long straight right that exploded on staggering Maxie's unprotected chin and dynamited him to the canvas for the first knockout of his six-year career—and into probable retirement.

As Referee Arthur Donovan tolled off the 10-count requiem at 2:50 of the fourth session, more than 90,000 electrified fans—largest crowd ever to witness a sports event in New York—roared their acclaim for Shuffling Joe.

"Louis had not only won the right to a crack at Jimmy Braddock's world title, but soared to recognition as the world's "uncrowned champion."

Maxie, still staggering about the ring from the effects of his terrific beating in the first round, and two trips to the floor in the third frame, was in the northeast neutral corner when the end came.

FEDERAL BODY BRINGS ENCOURAGING FIGURES TO NATIONAL CAPITAL

Washington, Sept. 24.—Enthusiastic reports of better business were brought to Washington today by the federal advisory council while Secretary Perkins, simultaneously, told of a pickup in employment and pay rolls.

Gathering for its quarterly meeting with the federal reserve board, the advisory council whose members represent the 12 reserve banks, presented what a reserve board member described as "the most optimistic summary of business conditions since the depression began."

Real Estate Active

Included were reports of a general increase in real estate activity and home building and increasing farm land and retail sales. They were interpreted collectively as indicating a mounting general demand for reserve bank credit.

Miss Perkins, giving figures for August, reported 180,000 workers added to the pay rolls of the manufacturing industries. The pay rolls themselves, he said, increased by $8,900,000, but with an offsetting decline of 25,000 employed and $900,000 in wages in non-manufacturing industries. "Increases in factory employment and pay rolls are usual in August," Secretary Perkins said. "Increases in pay rolls have been reported in all but two instances (1930 and 1931) in the month of August for each year since 1919."

Dress Making Shop Opened At Spainhour's

Miss Maxie Pardue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Pardue, of Moravian Falls, has opened a modern and up-to-date dress making shop on the balcony floor at Spainhour's New Department Store.

Miss Pardue is considered an expert in dress making and the shop is expected to be quite successful.

Soldiers Killed When Train Plunges Over Cliff

Shanghai, Sept. 24.—Newspapers reported today more than 200 soldiers were killed and many injured when a railroad train plunged into a ravine near Layang, in Honan province.

Today and Tomorrow

The other day I saw a strange object crossing the road in front of my car. It didn't look like any animal I had ever seen. As I got closer I saw it was a gray squirrel carrying in its mouth an ear of corn, larger than he was.

Clearing out the attic in my farm home, I found some old boards and found under them hundreds of corn cobs, some of them squirrels had cached there through successive seasons.

Last Sunday I idled away half a day watching a tiny pine squirrel gathering his winter's food from the big butternut tree near my house. He would run out to the end of each limb, bite off the stems of the butternuts, then scramble down and pick them up out of the grass and hurry away with them, a nut at a time, to some safe storage place.

I marvelled, as I always do, at the sure instinct of the squirrels that impels them to lay in food for winter. But I also reflected that these, and other little creatures of the wild, work a lot harder for a bare subsistence than most humans have to do. The miracle of man is the intelligence that enables him to gain more than a mere livelihood. No squirrel ever bought a motor-car or saw a movie, no matter how thrifty he and his tribe may be.

CREDIT in Canada

I shall watch with great interest the "social credit" scheme which the new government of the Province of Alberta, Canada, promises to inaugurate. As I understand it, everybody is to have a credit of $25 a month, guaranteed by the government.

Maybe it will work. At least the plan is gaining friends all through the British Empire. The Dean of Canterbury Cathedral came over from England the other day to help promote the idea. Less fantastic than our American "Townsend Plan," Alberta's "social credit" is another effort to abolish poverty. Every experiment in that direction will help toward the ultimate solution, if there is one.

I doubt that any plan will work that does not call for productive labor in exchange for "social credit" or any other sort of subsistence benefits. But some way must be found to insure that no one who is willing to work shall go hungry, otherwise civilization will collapse.

YOGIS know one?

"What," I asked a Hindu scholar the other day, "is a Yogi? Did you ever know one?"

"I have known only four authentic Yogis, in my fifty years," replied my friend, a former Buddhist priest. "Many fakers pretend to be Yogis, but only those who have yielded to the five disciplines are real Yogis."

A Yogi, he explained is one who has rid himself, first, of all family ties. That is the first discipline. Then he must abandon all thought of personal comfort, submerge all sex impulses, cease to value money and property, and, last and hardest of all, give up all sense of himself as an individual. Then and then only is he a true Yogi.

To few men is it possible to achieve that utter selflessness, which is, after all, the ideal of all religious teaching.

THINKING the place

"Fishing," said President Cullen of Colgate University the other day, "provides the only real opportunity for modern men to do real thinking undisturbed."

I agree with him. The most thoughtful men I have ever known have nearly all been fishermen. That is not to say, however, that all anglers are thinkers.

Too few of us are really capable of thinking in any real sense. But to those who have problems and worries that seem to defy solution, I know no better way than the relaxation that comes from a day's solitary fishing. Whether one catches a fish or not, there is something about angling that effectively clears the cobwebs from the mind.

AUCTIONS on the farm

I know of no better place to study human nature than at a country auction of farm or household goods. I attended one the other day, and talked with the auctioneer after the sale.

"If you want to sell worthless junk at high prices, or get ridiculously low prices for valuable things, put them up at auction,"

SUSPECT CAPTURED IN BANK SHOOTING

Fork Union, Va., Sept. 24.—Acting on information obtained from John Daugherty, held as one of three men who yesterday staged an attempted bank hold-up which brought death of a state policeman and a military school cadet, two state officers today captured John Spoon, of Bean, Tenn., as a suspected participant in the crime.

Spoon was apprehended as he attempted to enter an automobile concealed near Schuyler, on the skyline drive. The prisoner denied he was implicated in the hold-up and murder, but police said two witnesses to the shooting identified him as the man who fled from the scene in a (Ford V-8) coupe at the first sound of firing.

HONESTLY!

"There's only one way to make an honest living."

"Why, how's that?"

"I thought you wouldn't know."

View Strange Plant

Quite a number of friends visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Miller on last Sunday evening to witness the blooming of the "Night Blooming Cereus," a very rare plant which blooms at 9 o'clock at night and closes at early morning light.

Some doubts had been expressed as to the plant knowing when 9 o'clock came, so two of the party took their seats beside the plant at 8:30 and watched, it slowly unfold its large waxed petals and was a complete bloom at nine. The plant has reached an enormous size. It sits on the floor but has reached the ceiling and is bending over. This is the third time it has bloomed this year and will be the last time for this season. It has three blooms this time, all of which opened exactly at the same time.

Drunk Fined $500

Macon, Ga., Sept. 23.—Announcing his determination to end drunken driving in Macon "if stiff penalties will do it," Judge Earl W. Butler in city court fined a truck driver $500, or a jail term of 12 months.
