

Brier Creek Association Holds 114th Session Friday, Saturday

ROARING RIVER, Route 2, Oct. 7.—Quite thought-provoking worthy was the 114th gathering of the Brier Creek Baptist Association in two sessions at Mountain View near Windy Gap, Friday and Saturday. Rev. N. T. Jarvis, succeeded his brother, the Rev. R. N. Garner, as moderator. He was re-elected and Rev. G. Crater, of Greensboro, was re-elected clerk. The sessions were well represented by messengers and preachers, fully the first day.

Address on missions by M. O. Alexander, whose address attracted wide attention. The various associations present, was heard Friday. McCoin, veteran speaker at sessions in this state, represented the dry forces. Among the high spots on Saturday was an appealing talk on history of the Mills Home by devoted teachers by R. Kingston; an unusually splendorous on prayer by Rev. L. Ranger, and a speech by Supt. Hagaman, of the Baptist Association. Hagaman's talk, assisting Christ's healing and spiritualism and his declaration as you do it unto the least of these, you do unto me," was enthralling and his audience out of them into a purer atmosphere of light. Dr. Miles NERVINE "Did the work" says Miss Glivar WHY DON'T YOU TRY IT?

After more than three months suffering from a nervous ailment, Miss Glivar used Dr. Miles Nerve which gave her such splendid results that she wrote an enthusiastic letter.

"If you suffer from 'Nerves' if you lie awake nights, start at sudden noises, tire easily, are cranky, blue and nervous, your nerves are probably out of order.

Quiet and relax them with the same medicine that 'did the work' for this Colorado girl.

Whether your 'Nerves' have troubled you for hours or for years, you'll find this time-tested remedy effective.

News Of Dellaplane And Roaring River

ROARING RIVER, Route 2, Oct. 7.—Mr. Simon Curry, who was seriously ill, was taken to the Baptist Hospital, Winston-Salem, Monday of last week. Rev. N. T. Jarvis and Mr. Pete Seagraves accompanied him.

Services were held the past Sunday at Antioch and the Roaring River Methodist church. The second revival began at Oak Forest. Some from here, and near here, also expect to attend the revivals in progress at Swan Creek and Shady Grove.

Ida Foust, respected elderly colored woman, who was thought to be benefited by an operation and treatment, in Winston-Salem, for a head growth, is not doing well now and anxiety is felt about her condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and Mr. J. E. Hendren, messengers from Hebron church, near Harmony, visited in the home of Rev. N. T. Jarvis and Mrs. Lois Roberts during the association at Mountain View.

Rev. J. A. McCoin, speaker at the association, visited Mr. L. M. Jarvis during the association.

Messrs. Steve Hemric, Fred Hemric, and Steve Waddell, all of Route 1, were the dinner guests the past Sunday of Mr. Frank Sparks.

Miss Minnie Sue Jarvis, student nurse at Davis Hospital, Statesville, attended the service at Swan Creek, near Jonesville, the past Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Waddell, of Route 1, are thinking of renting the old Carrinder place, and ing six ministers who were preaching in the Brier Creek Association in the year 1901. These were N. T. Jarvis, J. N. Binkley, W. T. Comer, D. I. Heglar, Marcus Walker, and John A. Foster. Mr. Heglar, of Winston-Salem, as well as Mr. Rash, has now passed on, and it seems that the only ones still actively engaged in preaching the gospel at their pastorates are N. T. Jarvis, J. N. Binkley, and W. T. Comer.

The association will meet next year with Mt. Vernon church, 3 miles from Union Grove and 12 miles from Statesville. Mt. Vernon will celebrate its centennial in 1936.

With the singing of "God With You Till We Meet Again," the 114th session ended in the late afternoon as mauve streamers of vapor, like the ineffable hue of romance which halos the pioneer day of Rev. Thomas Masten, first moderator, Col. James Martin, first clerk, and the other stalwarts who founded the association in 1822, mantled the needle-like peaks of the mountains.

Because of the great number who have died since the association gathered last year at Roaring River church, this was a most affecting meeting of the association. Obituaries were read by Mr. J. P. McCarter; a few touching words were spoken by the bereaved moderator about the late Mr. J. M. Crater and other loved ones; and Rev. A. T. Pardue, aged home missionary, spoke of Revs. J. W. Rash and W. G. Mitchell and sang in remembrance of them a song he had often sung with Mr. Rash. Among the several who had died were Mr. J. M. Crater, clerk of the association for 18 years who missed but one session in 53 years; Rev. J. W. Rash, of the South Yadkin Association who preached much in this and was a clergyman intricately versed in the scriptures; Rev. Willie G. Mitchell, a minister of unique friendliness and understanding who often voiced the inspired prayers of a later prophet; and Mrs. N. T. Jarvis, wife of the moderator, who has been compared with the Biblical Lydia.

Last year there were still liv-

50 Die In Blast

Chicago, Oct. 7.—A terrific explosion, which witnesses said hoisted a six story paint factory as a giant firecracker raises a tin can, killed at least eight workers, injured 50 others, and sent a shower of debris over a block square area today.

Fire officials directing the raking of the debris by crews of pickaxemen and others equipped with lifting jacks and acetylene torches to cut rough twisted steel girders—expressed fear the total fatalities might reach a score. They estimated it would take a week to complete a search of the wreckage.

Fire Marshal Michael Corrigan said the loss would be at least $500,000 and might run much higher.

The blast which was heard for miles on the northwest side occurred shortly before noon in the Glidden Soya Products company, on the 1800 block of North La Salle avenue.

Tired of Darning Socks?

Science says... TRY IMPROVING THE LIGHT

Your eyes wouldn't get so tired darning black socks if you used white thread. But black thread concealed in black cloth is hard to see. That's why you need more light—at least twice as much as you need for reading this paper, where black letters stand out on a white page.

However, the appalling fact is that scarcely one home in ten is properly lighted even for reading without eye-strain! So don't take it for granted your own lighting is above reproach. Phone for a free demonstration of a Better Sight lamp, which will give you the proper amount and the proper quality of light.

Why Older People Need More Light

The pupil of the eye grows constantly smaller with age. And the smaller it grows, the less light can get in. That's one reason why older people need more light than younger folks. Unless grandmother has plenty of good light at night, she ought to do her sewing in the daytime, close to a window.
