

Student Nurse, Robbed of Her Speech By Operation 2 Years Ago, Now Talks

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 17.—An attractive young student nurse, robbed of speech two years ago by removal of a section of her skull, has learned, like a child, to talk again.

Miss Augusta Stanek, 22, of Spokane, told exuberantly today how she mastered speech again. She "could say only 'yes' and 'no' for a long time, and then only with hesitation."

Doctors removed a section of skull from above her left ear in a tumor operation. They said she had a 50-50 chance to survive.

"It seemed odd to have to learn how to talk all over again," she explained, "but I just had to stop and think about a word before I could say it, and then slowly I got so I could get the words together and talk again. My mind worked all right, but I couldn't transfer my thoughts into speech."

Dr. Robert Rotchford, one of the surgeons in the case, explained the speech center on the left side of the young woman's brain was destroyed.

"She had to develop a speech center on the right side of the brain to replace the one destroyed," Dr. Rotchford said, "and the development was the same as would be necessary in a child."

She is healthy and robust today, and is looking forward to a trip east and resumption of her nursing training.

Clever Mrs. Pierce SHE LOST 50 POUNDS OF FAT

Feel full of pep and possess the slender form you crave. You can't if you listen to gossipers—Mrs. Pierce has a mind of her own.

To take off excess fat go light on fatty meats, butter, cream and sugary sweets—eat more fruit and vegetables. Take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning (tastes fine with juice of half a lemon added)—Kruschen is as low as 40c.

Mrs. W. L. Pierce of Tiffin, Ohio, writes: "I've taken off 50 lbs. with Kruschen in 6 months. I was 238 and intend to continue till I'm 154."

No more cathartics—no more laxatives, and no constipation when you take your little daily dose of Kruschen. Horton Drug Co. and druggists everywhere.

Japanese Troops Will Establish Independent Nation In North China

Tokio, Nov. 18.—Japanese dispatches said tonight an independent nation of North China would be created this week under the protection of the Japanese army. This latest news nation, the reports asserted, would cover all economic and financial relations with the Chinese national government at Nanking and seek to promote cordial relations among North China, Japan and Manchoukuo.

A spokesman for the foreign office admitted the possibility of Japanese military intervention should the Nanking government send troops to suppress the North China autonomy movement.

The dispatches were from Peking and Tientsin. Their unanimity or detail indicated they sprang from a common and well-informed source.

(In Washington the proposed Japanese move was seen as a development of Japanese policy against which the Roosevelt administration made representations to Tokio more than a year ago. The State Department, however, withheld comment.)

95,000,000 Affected
Five provinces, with a population of approximately 95,000,000 people, apparently would become a "second Manchoukuo." They are Hopeh, Shantung, Shansi, Chahar and Suiyuan.

The Rengo news agency and the newspaper Asahi predicted independence would be declared November 20. The newspaper Nishi Nishi said it would come November 23.

The dispatches said the new state would be named "Huapheng Liensheng Tzuichh Chengchuan," or "The North China United Provinces Autonomous Regime."

SUNRISE

(A Picture)
On the grass the dew-drops glistened.
In the daisy-spotted lawn;
And the quiet, pastoral landscape
Was framed in roseate dawn.

At the gray, old, gabled farmhouse
All the morning bells were ringing.
In garden, tree, and blue sky,
All the merry birds were singing.

In the green, wild-flowered pasture,
You heard the honny red-cows low;
And the frisky, milk-white heifer
Pranced in the sunlight's glow.

On her neck a playful garland,
Woven by a faerie's hands,
Roses, daphniums and poppies,
Strung on pink and blue ribbands.

In the gay, old-fashioned garden,
Hollyhocks were blooming brightly;
Nasturtiums in stately rows;
And sweet peas fresh and sprightly.

Round the quaint, tall-gabled farmhouse,
The scarlet woodbine twined,
Mantled chimneys, bordered casements,
Shook its trumpets in the wind.

Sun-bright halo of golden ringlets
With flushed-magnolia face vied;
When from her bed rose Amyrrilis,
Aurora of the countryside.

—RUTH LINNEY.

Canadian Trade Pact Given Serious Study In Nation's Capital

Opinions Vary As To Benefits To Be Derived; Controversy Issue Looms

Washington, Nov. 18.—Various groups and newspapers individually were engaged today in a study of the reciprocal trade agreement with Canada, which was promulgated by the President last night. On the Canadian side they are inclined to refer to it as a treaty, but the domestic trade nomenclature is important, since it is necessary to have a regard for senatorial sensitiveness, and in Washington it will probably remain an agreement.

Inquiry at the White House and the executive departments today gave the impression that the country has not as yet begun to react to any great extent to the announcement, which was given wide and comprehensive publicity today. Governor Olson, of Minnesota, called upon Secretary Wallace to say that the new agreement would be certain to stimulate against the interests of many farmers in that section, especially the potato seed growers. The lumber, cattle and other interests will likewise be heard from when Douglas comes, if not before. Many, remembering what a trade agreement with Canada did to Mr. Tull and his administration, are of the opinion that the tariff is now destined to become one of the principal issues in the 1936 presidential campaign, but the New York Herald-Tribune, clever and resourceful in the discovery of issues that might be turned to account by the Republicans, says the burden of proof will rest upon those groups that may complain of certain treaty provisions.

Newlife Pie Supper

A pie supper will be given at Newlife school on Wednesday night before Thanksgiving Day at seven p. m., according to an announcement by the principal of the school.

In addition to the sale of pies, there will be a program of string music. The public is invited to attend. Profits from the occasion will be for the benefit of the school.
