

5 TO 8 YEARS SENTENCE FOR FILO CAUDILL

Convicted in Wilkes Court on Charge of Incest; Mercy Recommended

CIVIL ACTIONS TRIED Several Cases Disposed of in Last Week of Present Term Mixed Court

Filo Caudill, convicted of incest in the present term of superior court in Wilkesboro, was sentenced to from five to eight years at hard labor in the state penitentiary. Judge F. Donald Phillips, presiding over the mixed term, pronounced the sentence.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty but recommended the mercy of the court because of Caudill's small children.

A great part of the time this week has been consumed with trial of civil cases. Following are those in which judgments are verdicts have been handed down:

G. H. Tatum versus I. O. Speas and Arnold Hunter, plaintiff recovers $3,500.

Winston-Salem Hardware company versus J. T. Prevette and J. E. Pardue, case dismissed and plaintiff taxed with costs.

There have been five divorces granted: Ray Von Holloway vs. Mary Catherine Holloway; Snow Prevette versus Addie Prevette; Elizabeth Duncan Johnson versus Walter P. Johnson; Robert Reeves versus Nora Reeves; Fannie Myers versus Lester Myers.

Herman Foster, convicted of prostitution and adultery, was given a suspended road sentence of 12 months.

With the jail cases off the docket the remainder of the term will be devoted to trial of the civil calendar.

CASTLE OF DREAMS COMING TO LIBERTY

One of the most unusual and spectacular stage shows on the road is Castle of Dreams which comes to the Liberty Theatre for three performances only on Tuesday, Nov. 26. Coming direct from New York this company will only make six stops in North Carolina on their way to the Pacific coast. The management of the Liberty feels very fortunate in securing this attraction for North Wilkesboro, as it has been highly recommended as being one of the outstanding attractions in the east this season. Heading a large cast of stars is Franklin Wade, NBC Radio Tenor for years with Roxy and his gang. The Lenora Dancing Girls direct from the Paramount Theatre in New York. Six Girls who are outstanding dancers alone would be worth the price of admission. The company comprises acts from the Capitol Theatre, New York, Earl Carroll's Sketch Book, Ziegfeld Follies and Tamya Harri direct from Java, making her first American tour. A Broadway revue at popular prices.

WILKESBORO CASES ARE REVERSED BY SUPREME TRIBUNAL

Phillips and hearing set before Judge J. A. Rousseau, of this city, who later signed an order continuing the hearing and setting it back before Judge Phillips at the August term of court. Judge Phillips granted the writ, ordering the town's funds and records turned over to the new mayor and board, composed of Attorney J. F. Jordan, mayor, C. Y. Doughton, C. A. Lowe, J. R. Henderson and W. E. Smith. He also refused to allow the "old board" to give bond and retain the records and funds while their appeal was pending but ordered the "new board" to give bond in the sum of $1,500 to pay salaries of the old officials of the town, costs and other emoluments of the offices. The supreme court's decision reversed this order and remanded the town's books to the "old board."

The appeal to the supreme court by the "old board" on Judge Clement's order regarding the ballots set out the following contentions: (1) The ballots which it authorized and directed to be canvassed were illegal and void, and (2) that said ballots were cast in contempt of court, and (3) for that the election officials failed to furnish valid ballots, and (4) that no legal ballots were cast and those who presented themselves to vote were denied legal ballots, and (5) that the registrar closed the polls shortly after mid-day and left the polling place.

Falls 25 Feet, Unhurt

Sandiego, Calif., Nov. 19.—Two-year-old Helen Louise Murray toppled backward from a second story window today, turned somersault in a 25-foot fall—and, police, were told, seemingly landed upon her feet. She suffered only light bruises.

A HOLIDAY THOUGHT

The Children's Home Society of North Carolina, Incorporated, located at Greensboro, is completing the thirty-second year since beginning its important type of child welfare service to homeless and unwanted children. During these years over 3000 little ones have been accepted into their care and then placed in approved foster homes.

This work is financed entirely by voluntary donations from child loving citizens of North Carolina. The Society makes only one appeal each year—during the holiday period from Thanksgiving through Christmas.

The Children's Home numbers among its patrons substantial people of the state who have recognized the value of the Society's work and responded with generous financial support.

The Society maintains a plant at Greensboro with complete facilities to operate in all branches of child care. The infants placed with the Society receive careful examination before they are offered to foster parents.

The Society operates within a budget and is clear of debt. Every dollar received during the holiday appeal will go into new work now being planned for 1936. With improved conditions throughout the State the Society contemplates an increase of donations and if hopes are realized will enlarge operations in 1936 to meet the maximum demands for their type of service. John J. Phoenix, superintendent, stated.

CITY RISES AND FALLS TWICE A DAY

Like a lofty ship riding the tide, the Hotel Wilkes building rises and falls twice every day on a dry land tide that corresponds with the surge of the sea.

Columbus claimed the world was round. "King" Wilbur Glenn Voliva of religiously zealous Zion City, Illinois, tells the world that it is flat and four cornered.

Geophysical scientists at the Gulf Refining Company's new research and development laboratories, Harmarville, Pa., painstakingly measuring and graphically recording the undulating ebb and flow of dry land tides 24 hours each day, know the world is not flat; never will be round, even if it stops revolving and loses its centrifugal force which flattens the earth at the poles and bellies it out at the equator. They have definitely established that combined land and marine tides distort the earth's shape like a ball of putty—elliptical at times, egg-shaped at others, depending upon the gravity pull of the moon and sun.

Concerned with dry land tides only inssofar as they effect extremely delicate gravity instruments used in locating oil beneath the earth's surface, Gulf-men leave it to laymen to ponder: do earth tides cause earthquakes? When is it high tide at Kansas City? In Death Valley's desert wastes? One thing laymen may readily deduce: the earth is not solid, but viscous. Its thin crust is a poor indication of its interior which is, beyond a doubt, a molten mass.

North Wilkesboro is rising and falling from 13 to 23 inches twice each day. Gulf Oil scientists state.

Amateur Contest On Friday Night

Will Be Held in Wilkesboro School Building; Sponsored by Woman's Club

All indications point to the amateur actors' program Friday night in the Wilkesboro school auditorium being one of the highlights of the year for public programs.

This novel stage feature is being sponsored by the Wilkesboro Woman's Club and the profits from the admission charges of 15 and 25 cents will be used in the construction of a community house for Wilkesboro.

Any person or group of persons with a stage act, song, dance, reading, etc., may enter the contest in competition for the three valuable prizes to be offered. The three prizes will be a fountain pen given by the Goodwill Store, a prize donated by Spahnour-Sydnor's, and a permanent wave by Wisteria Beauty Salon.

The program will begin promptly at eight o'clock. More than 30 entries have already been made for the contest, assuring the public that there will be a full evening of entertainment that is sure to furnish variety and suspense.

Charles Elledge, playwright and humorist, will be master of ceremonies.

I see in the paper, that the City Fathers met a few days ago and outlawed the hog pens in the city of North Wilkesboro. I wonder what they are going to do with the hogs. Guess they thought it wouldn't do to outlaw all the hogs at once the jails wouldn't hold 'em.

Anyway they started something. Why almost the next day nearly a hundred of the papas of the leading country of Europe met and outlawed Mussolini and his whole country, hogs and all.

Yours for a better world in which to live.

Author Says He Talks With Dead Over Phone

New York, Nov. 19.—Cosmo Hamilton, English author here from Surrey for a brief stay, said tonight that he believes he is the only man in the world who has talked over the telephone with people who are dead. Deeply imbued with spiritualism, Hamilton arrived aboard the Berengaria to relate how he often sits by his telephone in his Surrey home awaiting calls from the late Sir Conan Doyle, Lord Northcliffe, Lord Balfour and the late Lord Birkenhead.

"It's going to be hard calling Bill 'Pap,' declared Mrs. Carrie Stoltzenburg when she heard of the marriage of her mother, Mrs. Mahala Scott, 65, of Chillicothe, O., to Will F. Kaltenbach, 23.
