WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sore and sunk and the world seems punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two ounces of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. You get bloated and your stomach. You have a sick, bad taste and your breath is foul. You often break out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes these good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two ounces of bile flowing freely and make you feel like a new man. They contain wonderful vegetable, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

Don't take any other pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the green Carter's Little Liver Pills on the box and bottle. Beware of cheap imitations. Get the real thing.

Varied Program At Kiwanis Meet

Mrs. R. G. Finley's Classes Put On Delightful Program Friday

R. G. Finley was in charge of the Kiwanis program Friday at noon and Mrs. R. G. Finley furnished a delightful program with pupils of her expression and dancing classes taking part.

Prior to the program by children under the direction of Mrs. Finley, Miss Marcella Pendley gave a reading entitled "Little Announced Her Engagement." "When I Grow Up" was the theme of the program by the children.

Congressman Walter Lambeth was a guest of the club and a resolution was passed asking that he use his influence to make the James C. C. Camp a permanent camp when the C. C. C. consolidation program soon expected is carried out.

Attorney J. Milton Cooper was a guest of Judge T. B. Finley in the meeting Friday. It was decided that the club would not have a meeting on Friday, December 27.

THIN OUT PINES TO SPEED TREE GROWTH

Thinning out an overcrowded stand of pine trees will pay big dividends in the long run.

Removing the dead, crippled, and overcrowded trees leaves the potential timber to develop properly in the shortest possible time.

Rufus H. Page, Jr., assistant extension forester at State College, has pointed out a stand of pine on the farm of K. C. Woodard in Johnston county as a good example of what thinning will do for a timber tract.

The trees in Woodard's stand are of approximately the same age. Five years ago he thinned one-third of his stand. Two years ago he thinned another third, leaving the remaining third untouched. In the area first thinned are many trees 10 inches in diameter at breast height. In the second area are only a few trees which will measure that size.

In the untouched part of the timber stand, none of the trees have attained a diameter of 10 inches at breast height, and many of them are less than half the average diameter of the trees in the two stands which have been thinned.

The inferior trees removed from the stand in the thinning process were cut into cordwood which was worth far more than the cost of the work, Page said.

And the better trees were left to grow into valuable timber which will bring Woodard a good profit in a few years.

"If you don't think that thinning pays," Page remarked, "just ask any of the Johnston county farmers who have seen Woodard's pines."

Loses His Life In Futile Effort To Save 2 Others

Pelham, N. H., Dec. 15.—Two men crossing White pond on the ice fell through and drowned late today. A third man, going to their rescue, also perished, while a fourth narrowly escaped.

The dead: Jack Asmev, 26, Lawrence, Mass.

Benjamin Skushevich, 20, also of Lawrence.

Alex Gardner, 65, Pelham Center, N. H.

The two Lawrence men had come to the small pond to fish through the ice, and as dusk was falling set out to cross on the ice to visit a friend, Robert Kasquel, also of Lawrence, who had a hut on the opposite shore.

As they crashed through the ice and called for help, Gardner, going by on the shore, went to their rescue. He, too, broke through.

Edward Ducharme, also of Lawrence, saw the plight and rushed to the scene. He narrowly escaped a similar fate while attempting a rescue.

Kellogg Flays F. R.'s Request For New Law

Washington, Dec. 13.—Frank B. Kellogg, former Secretary of State, co-author of the Kellogg-Briand pact, and winner of the Nobel peace prize, today slashed at proposals to broaden the American neutrality policy to include embargoes on war materials, such as oil, iron, and steel.

Speaking a short time after President Roosevelt had said new neutrality legislation would be sought in the approaching Congress, Kellogg said:

"I don't see any necessity for any further legislation on the neutrality question at all."

Wilkesboro Wins Two Games On Thursday

Wilkesboro basketball teams won two games from Millers Creek on the latter's court Thursday afternoon.

Wilkesboro girls had little trouble in winning 28 to 6 while Millers Creek boys put up a good game to lose by a score of 17 to 14 in favor of the Wilkesboro quint.

ALL FARMERS NEED ACCURATE RECORDS

Farmers who do not keep records are unable to tell just where they stand.

They may think they are making a profit when, actually, they are losing money, says R. E. L. Greene, assistant in farm management research for the North Carolina agricultural experiment station.

Running a business without records, it has been said, is like running a clock without hands. In either case, the thing is running—but where and how?

Farm records, Greene pointed out, are a basis for an intelligent study of the business, they give the information necessary to make an accurate credit statement, they show the results of the year's work, they indicate weak spots which need improvement.

Although records may be started at any time, it is usually more convenient to start them early in January. At this time feed and crop supplies are low and it is easy to take inventory. Also, most farmers are not as busy at this time as they are later on.

Greene suggests that growers who are not already keeping records should plan now to start them the first of the year. N. C. State College has designed a record book especially for the North Carolina farmer, and it will be an aid to keeping the proper kind of records, he added.

Copies of the book may be secured from the department of agricultural economics at State College, by those persons keeping records as a demonstration with that department.

County agents or high school agricultural teachers will be glad to assist farmers get their records started.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Question: How can I increase egg production in my poultry flock?

Answer: Many poultrymen are getting higher production by feeding only a small amount of grain in the morning and the remainder at night. The morning grain is fed in a clean litter from four to six inches deep and consists of about one pound of grain for each 100 hens. The afternoon feeding is put in troughs. The practice of feeding grain at different intervals of the day, especially during the winter months, increases the activity of the birds, overcomes idleness, and indirectly increases feed consumption. The combination of these tends to give an increase in egg production.

A flock of 154 white leghorn hens returned $1.89 profit each above feed cost to C. A. Simpson of Union county this past year.

Surprise Birthday Party For Mrs. Miller

A part of her Auxiliary and a few friends who had planned to give Mrs. U. A. Miller a surprise birthday supper, but learned that she was sick and could not eat, gave her a surprise by visiting her home and bringing her presents. She was the recipient of such presents as boxes of handkerchiefs, a manicure set, water sets, pillow cases, table runners, etc., and in the meantime the mail arrived bringing a line from her cousin in California, and another box of nice candy from a friend in New York.—Reported.
