

Local Furniture In Chicago Show

Furniture made in North Wilkesboro started this week on the road that will lead to thousands of American homes during 1937. Shipment of a complete line of samples to the American Furniture Mart, Chicago, where the national furniture show opens on Jan. 8, was announced today by Forest Furniture Co.

The Forest Furniture Co. maintaining a permanent display at the Furniture Mart, where buyers from stores throughout the country can see the merchandise and select the lines they will carry in stock. More than 7,500 buyers are expected to visit the Mart during the coming two-week winter market.

In charge of the sales campaign at Chicago will be N. O. Smoak, vice president, while the company's entire sales force, will attend the market.

"Attendance of buyers at the Furniture Mart in Chicago has been steadily increasing for more than two years," Mr. Smoak said today, "and the word from Chicago is that another record-breaking market may be expected this January. We're prepared, for the 1936 line, on which we have been working for several months, is one of the finest we've ever offered. It should roll up a big volume of sales and go a long way toward insuring a prosperous year during 1936."

More than 600 manufacturers, producing furniture, floor coverings, lamps, electrical appliances and all the other items that go to make up the furnishings of the modern home, will have displays at the Furniture Mart, which is the largest building in the world devoted to a single industry, when the show opens, Mr. Smoak explained. The displays will cover almost 2,000,000 square feet of floor space.

B. & L. GROUP IN WILKESBORO HAS GOOD YEAR

of the board of directors:

"To the subscribers of the Wilkesboro Building and Loan Association in Annual Meeting Assembled:

"I. Wm. A. Stroud, secretary and treasurer, beg leave to submit my annual report covering a period from December 10, 1934, to December 10, 1935. We have in force all series 2,255 shares, 56 of which being the seventh series, is now matured, and have been paid except two share holders who desire to exchange for full paid stock.

"We have loaned during the year $41,010.00. The total profits during the year will be approximately $6,500.00 and expenses as follows: State license and Audit $250.08, advertising and printing $10.00, treasurer's bond $20.00.

"I am glad to report another good year. All amounts in arrears reported at our last annual meeting have been paid. Our collections or payments have been better this year and while we have a few share holders who are in arrears most of whom are only due one month, there is only one more than six months in arrear, all of these in my opinion, will pay up before the end of the year.

"We have not yet lost anything and our earnings for this year will enable us to apportion the usual 6 per cent profits on installments now in force. Dividend checks on full paid stock amount to $2,760.00, for which checks have been written and are now ready to be delivered to the various holders of certificates of this stock.

"The directors of our association are to be commended for the fine work and splendid cooperation in attending the various directors meetings and assisting in the management of the affairs of the association. I desire to express my sincere appreciation to all the share holders for the splendid co-operation and assistance, without which it would be impossible to operate successfully.

This December 20, 1935.

Respectfully submitted,
"Wm. A. STRoud,
Secretary and Treasurer."

Resolution on account of the death of William C. Pearson:

Whereas William C. Pearson, who passed to his reward on December 10, nineteen hundred thirty-five, was a member of the Wilkesboro Building and Loan Association and had been a member of its board of directors for several years during which time he had served on the loan committee, and

Whereas his interest in the welfare of the association as a community project has been well known to this body both as to his wisdom in the making of safe loans by the association and for his deep sympathy for any worthy member who found himself temporarily pressed to meet his obligations to the association and likewise for the man who found himself in need of a loan and perhaps with not the best rated property to offer as security but with character that he rated much higher.

Therefore be it resolved:

1st. That this Association feels deeply its loss in the passing of Mr. Pearson and hereby publicly expresses sympathy to his family and also to the family and also a copy to each of the local newspapers.

J. H. JOHNSON,
T. E. STORY,
Wm. A. STRoud.
December 20, 1935.

DOUGHTON GLAD TO BE BACK IN
UNITED STATES

was astounded at the use of bicycles for transportation purposes. Each has a rack on the rear and I saw riders carrying loads as heavy as 400 pounds.

The North Carolinian said Tokio was the cleanest city in the world, and probably Honolulu was the most beautiful city he saw on the trip. "I was so homesick I doubt if I appreciated its beauty," he added. Representative Doughton doubts very seriously that the Philippine Islands will be able to maintain their independence.

"We have carried out our promise and I hope the islands succeed in maintaining their own government, but they are confronted with many serious obstacles," he asserted. He referred to a lack of national patriotism in the islands because of the number of provinces with different ideas and the pressure which will come from business interests there for the United States to maintain control in order to enjoy duty free the American market for sugar, cocoanut oil, cordage and other products.

The congressman does not look for any armed invasion from Japan, but believes that country may try an "industrial conquest."

Doughton visited textile mills while in Japan and marvelled at the growth of the industry there. He said the Japanese textile industry was a threat to the industry of any nation. "I stood on top of a building in Tokio and the smokestacks made you think you were in Pittsburgh," he asserted. Asked about labor conditions in the mills, he said:

"The labor standards so far as working conditions are concerned are high. No children under 14 years are permitted to work in the mills. Those between 14 and 18 are permitted to work eight hours and no person works more than nine. The wages are low, but it does not take much for the workers to live on."

Music Pupils In Recital On Friday

GIRL SLAYS FATHER WHILE HE IS ASLEEP

Anadarko, Okla., Dec. 21.—An 18-year-old farm girl who resented paternal objections to her having a date with a boy friend, was charged with murder today after her father, Harry Willis, 45, died of shotgun wounds. The farmer apparently was killed while asleep.

Boy Fatally Hurt

Rocky Mount, Dec. 21.—Oscar Herbert Hagwood, Jr., of Louisburg, route one, whose Christmas present, a bicycle, had been purchased by his parents and whose birthday would have been Monday, succumbed today at a local hospital of injuries sustained when an automobile struck him near Bunn Thursday.

Mrs. Blackburn Writes

When shall our sorrows leave an end,
When will our weeping cease,
When shall we see our Heavenly Friend?

And rest with Him in peace?

Lo! here we find no lasting joy,
But grief and pain and strife,
And trouble come that e'er annoy,
In this, our mortal life.

O, for a life that will outlast,
The conflicts of this life,
And ears will be forever past,
And we shall know no strife.

But joy and peace that life attend,
With friends we long to see,
And then we'll praise our Heavenly Friend,
Throughout eternity.

O, what a meeting that will be,
On that celestial shore,
Where Jesus reigns in majesty
And there we'll part no more.

Love is the greatest principle of religion. Without love the world would be in a more terrible crisis than it now is. Take love out of the home and what would be the result? Nothing but envy, strife and evil surviving. Take love out of the church and where would it drift? There would be no peace, joy or happiness. Her influence for good would be annihilated. Take love out of the Sunday school and what would be the result? Why, there would be no interest taken in it, no union or harmony, no clasping of glad hands when we meet each other and no anxiety to meet again. Knowing all this, we should cultivate the principle of love toward God and our fellowman that it might grow stronger and stronger until we feel like embracing each other in our arms in peace, joy and thanksgiving to our great Federal head, Jesus, who bought us with a price. Who came down from the shining courts above to save poor rebellious men and women from their lost estate. Yes, Jesus, the only son of God. His father was so condescending, so kind and full of love that he yielded to the mandate of his father, to take upon himself a body of flesh liken unto ours, sin excepted, and was willing to suffer all the persecutions and ill treatment that sinful men and ruffians could inflict upon Him. Even unto death. Was this not superhuman love? Yes, the love of God that reaches deeper than the stain of sin has gone. Ah! We ought to love Him supremely for he first loved us, and commanded us to love Him and to love one another and to work for Him in trying to win lost souls unto Him. By good works and a Godly conversation, showing to the world that we have passed from death unto life and that we want sinners to share in His great love as we have through repentance and faith in His word, showing to the unsaved that we love the brotherhood and are willing to bear each other's burdens through life, helping each other out of distress and adversities, fulfilling the commandments.

We should be punctual also to our engagements to our church, to our pastor, to our Sunday school work. Punctual to our evening and morning devotions, either in private or public. God has ever been punctual to fulfill all His promises, to fulfill them in due season. He requires the same of His people. But oh! How often we fail to comply with our engagements. Nevertheless He is so lenient and patient with us that he does not impart justice to the commandments.

At this Christmastime we extend heartiest greetings to all our friends who have so loyally supported our company during the year just coming to a close. . . . We are DOUBLY GRATEFUL for the patronage extended us.

We hope that all of you will have a most joyous Christmas Season, and the Happiest and Most Prosperous New Year.
