Bethel News

RONDA, Route 1, Dec. 31.—The heavy snow that fell here last Saturday night and Sunday, is termed by the farmers as being a great boon to agriculture. A Christmas tree and brief program was held at the church here last Wednesday evening. Scripture readings, prayer and some Christmas carols sung included the program. All received their presents from the tree and the teachers of the junior and primary classes. Misses Mozelle Burchett and Opal Mathis, remembered the little folks with a nice treat. Mr. N. E. Burchett, an invalid for two or more years, has been suffering with a severe cold. Attorney Dumont Bakridge, of Hillsboro, has been spending a few days here with home folks. Misses Norma and Kathleen Gilliam spent last Saturday at Jonesville visiting their little friend, Glenda Mae Luffman. Jim Gilliam, of Lenoir, and Reece Gilliam, from Winston-Salem, who spent the holidays with their parents at Elkin, visited their aunt here one day last week. Mrs. J. T. Triplett, and Mr. Triplett, L. M. Stewart, of Elkin, was also guest at this home Christmas day. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stroud and sons, Wayne, Kenneth and Thomas and their daughter, Mrs. Seaman Dobbins, of Elkin, visited Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stroud at Wilkesboro last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Gilliam, Jr., announce the birth of a son, Charles William III, at the Chatham Memorial Hospital at Elkin, Dec. 21. Mr. R. G. Myers, who was able to be brought to his home near here from the Davis Hospital at Statesville some time ago, is some better, his friends will be glad to know. Mr. and Mrs. Martin P. Green and little daughter, Gladys, visited Mrs. Green's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Durham, at Swan Creek last Friday. Mrs. W. A. Pardue has been very much indisposed with cold for the past two weeks. To enjoy Christmas dinner with Mrs. C. W. Gilliam, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Gilliam were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stroud and son, Ray, of Wilkesboro; W. H. Jones' family, C. W. Gilliam, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ferlazzo and Manuel Ferlazzo from Winston-Salem.

Several from here attended the funeral and burial of Miss Ella Mae Mathis at Swan Creek on Christmas day, who died at the hospital at Elkin last Tuesday from injuries sustained in an automobile wreck. Surely a precious flower was plucked from this home. Mrs. P. H. Pardue is spending some time with her son near Raleigh, Mr. Tam O. Pardue.

THIS STATE IS FACING 1936 IN ANTICIPATION OF IMPORTANT EVENTS

Raleigh, Dec. 31.—North Carolina faces the new year with the election of major office holders perhaps the chief interest of its citizens, but with an extensive highway program, erection of new buildings, agricultural betterments, a broader sport plan and numerous other activities to attract attention. Already the 1936 political pots are effervescent with the statement, speeches, and handshaking of many candidates over the merry-go-round in the 100 counties, for the new year is the big political year for Tar Heels. The election of a governor, a United States senator, 11 congressmen, a lieutenant governor, secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer, 120 representatives and 50 state senators, six or eight superior court judges, 20 solicitors, two associate justices of the Supreme court, a superintendent of public instruction, commissioner of agriculture, and commissioner of labor are scheduled, besides the matter of choosing many county officials. In addition, the electorate will be called upon next fall to vote on several proposed amendments to the state constitution, including classification of property for taxation instead of uniform taxes, raising the limit on income taxes from 6 to 10 per cent, limiting the public debt to two-thirds of the amount by which it was reduced in the preceding biennium, increasing the number of justices of the state Supreme court from five to seven. Three out of every four race horses never earn their keep.

Congress to Open Session on Friday

Washington, Dec. 31.—Creating a new precedent in congressional history, Senate and House leaders tonight arranged for an extraordinary session next Friday night to receive personally from President Roosevelt his annual message on the state of the union. Never before in the annals of Congress has a President delivered his opening message at night. Only once before, when President Wilson delivered his war message, has a chief executive appeared before a night session. The reasons for the unusual opening-day set-up were not immediately made clear. On Capitol Hill, where both majority and minority leaders met to discuss the arrangement in Vice President Garner's office, it was understood the suggestion originated at the White House. At the executive offices there was no comment other than the statement of a spokesman that Mr. Roosevelt would appear in person at the invitation of congressional leaders. The executive's address will be delivered at 9 or 9:30 p. m. eastern standard time, and a general belief was that one reason for the move was to enable him to reach a wider audience than would be possible if he appeared around mid-day, as had been assumed. The extraordinary arrangements all but submerged other developments pointed toward the opening at noon Friday of the second session of the 74th Congress. At the capitol, Senator Byrd, Democrat of Virginia, let it be known he would move to put Congress squarely on record for economy in government expenditures. He set about preparing a resolution calling for strict retrenchment in Federal spending in the 1936-1937 fiscal year. At the White House, the President devoted the last day of 1935 to preparation of his message to Congress.

Bids For Democratic Rally

Philadelphia, Dec. 30.—A delegation from the Democratic national committee today inspected Philadelphia's convention hall as a prospective site for the party's 1936 convention and heard its leader, U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey, describe it as "a swell place."

State Retiring Highway Bonds At Rapid Rate

Wayneck, Dec. 30.—Maintenance of the rates of payment in effect for a number of years should result in retirement of the state's highway debt by 1952, Capus-M. Wayneck chairman of the state highway and public works commission, said today. The debt is set up for payment in full by 1964. Wayneck said the present net indebtedness for highway purposes is approximately $87,296,000. The commission check for $5,011,947.50 was issued today to reimburse the state treasurer for payments of interest and principal on the highway bonded debt which the state treasurer transmitted to bondholders for January 1. Of this amount, $2,875,000 was for principal and $2,136,947.50 for interest. Wayneck said the original debt of the state for highway purposes was $115,000,000, the last borrowing for this purpose being authorized in 1927 by the General Assembly and resulting in a $30,000,000 bond issue. The state has been retiring its debt steadily since then and has cut the $115,000,000 to $87,296,000. Goals For Farm Homes Running water and a sink in every farm kitchen. Proper disposal of waste in farm homes. Every house properly lighted, ventilated and screened. The home comfortably and conveniently heated. Milk served in the farm home three times daily. Convenient access to good roads, good schools, good churches and wholesome recreational play grounds. Each farmer to grow or secure a pure seed supply of known variety and origin to adequately supply the farm needs. Each farm to use only good individuals of pure breeds and strains of livestock for the farm needs. Each home to be provided with magazines, papers and books suited to the ages of the various members of the family. Beautiful lawns, shrubs, trees, paint, equipment and machinery for home use.

A Sincere Message to the Patrons of This Bank The closing of another year gives us once more the welcome opportunity of greeting you, and of thanking you for your patronage and co-operation. The surface indications as 1935 ends, record some increase in business activity, and this has had its encouraging effect upon the spirit of the people. What there may be of good or bad beneath the surface it is impossible for us to see, of course. However, with the Christmas holidays just behind us, and the natural stimulation of hope at the beginning of a new year, most of us will prefer to center our thoughts upon all that is most favorable and hopeful in the immediate economic outlook. It is our sincere wish for you that in the New Year the days of shadow will be few, the days of sunshine many, and to each and every patron and friend of this Institution we wish an abundance of Happiness and Prosperity.
