QUESTION AND ANSWER

Question: How much manure should be applied to the home garden plot?

Answer: This, of course depends upon the size of the plot, but on soils of average fertility, about ten two-horse wagon loads should be used to the acre. One load, therefore, would cover a space approximately 50 by 100 feet. Be sure that the manure is well rotted before applying. Where it is desirable to use a combination of manure and superphosphate for the garden soil the ten loads of manure should be supplemented with from two to three bags of superphosphate.

Over 1,000 Johnston County farmers have received cotton adjustment checks for sales made last fall, and nearly 3,000 have signed work sheets for the new program.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Question: When should I make the first culling for my breeding birds?

Answer: The cockerels and pullets to be used as breeders should be selected when the birds are from eight to twelve weeks old. Select only those birds that show good health and high vitality. A broad, deep, well-balanced head, prominent, bright eyes, full breast, and strong straight legs set squarely beneath the body indicates health and vigor. Watch the birds selected all through the growing season and those that lack vigor or are slow in developing should be discarded.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Question: If a farm is located in two counties should the owner make application and submit a work sheet in both counties?

Answer: No. The work sheet and application is submitted in the county in which is located the headquarters of the farm. Where the owner or operator lives is supposed to be the headquarters and this will establish the county in which the application is made. However, where the owner or operator does not live on the farm and maintains no headquarters then application is made in the county in which the largest part of the land is located.

America Thrills in European Air Service

NEW YORK. The inauguration of passenger air service between Europe and America, which became a reality upon the arrival and departure of the great German dirigible "Hindenburg" on the first of her nine scheduled round trips for 1936, found America highly enthused. Thousands visited the field at Lakehurst, N. J., to inspect the huge craft. Photos show two views of the Hindenburg. Inset, left, Dr. Hugo Eckener, Commodore; and right Miss Helen Leisy of Peoria, Ill., the first American passenger to purchase a ticket for the return trip to Germany.

TODAY AND TOMORROW

SPINACH . . . . . takes a rap
Some people eat spinach because they like it, but most children eat it because their parents have been told that it is good for them. Now come along Dr. Clifford Sweet, a California child specialist, and tells the American Medical Association that spinach isn't any better food for children than any other green vegetable. He also ridicules the common idea that everybody requires a completely balanced diet at every meal.

I think most of the diet fadists have thrown away the most important ingredient, which is common-sense. If all the nonsense that is talked about malnutrition were true, few of us would ever have lived to grow up. But I imagine it will be a long time before mothers generally will get rid of the notion that a fat baby is a healthy baby—or, for that matter, that they can keep themselves slender and well nourished at the same time.

DOUGHNUTS . . . . . over there

They had a celebration in New York the other day in honor of Helen Purviance, the Salvation Army lassie who fried the first doughnuts in France for the boys of the A. E. F. in 1917.

I would hesitate to say that the Salvation Army doughnuts won the war, but they certainly helped a lot in keeping up the morale of the American soldiers "over there." And they put the Salvation Army into first place in the affections of millions of Americans.

I don't know which I admire more, doughnuts or the Salvation Army. I am an enthusiast about both. I have to restrain my appetite for doughnuts as I grow older, but I find it impossible to restrain my admiration for the self-sacrificing labors of the Salvation Army. When I meet, as I often do, young men and young women who have left wealthy homes or good jobs to don the Salvationists uniforms in order to help others, I always feel that these folks have found what Buddhists call "The Way of Life."

METHODISTS . . . . . policy

Through the union of its three great branches, the Methodist Church, is about to become the largest Protestant denomination in America. In its recent general conference the Methodist Episcopal Church went deeply into the question of the attitude which the church should take on economic and political questions.

A strong element favored advocacy of a planned social economy, but the decision of the conference was for freedom under democracy.

I like the language in which the conference report proclaimed that "a free church cannot long survive the death of the free school, the free press, free speech and free assemblage. We will resist dictatorship. Economic justice is to be won by extending democracy to the industrial order, not by setting up therein the autocracy of dictatorship."

It seems to me that the Methodists have fully grasped and clearly expressed the essentials of Americanism.

FREEDOM . . . . . fair chance

The American system is based upon the freedom of the individual to plan his own life. That does not mean that society should not give him every possible aid, through school and church, to help the individual to fit himself for the struggle for existence. It does imply, however, that no child should be taught to believe that life is anything but a struggle, or that society owes him anything but a fair chance to make the best of whatever is in him.

Benefit Show To Be Shown Tonight

Firemen Sponsoring "Robin Hood of El Dorado" At Liberty Theatre

The North Wilkesboro fire department is sponsoring the showing of "Robin Hood of El Dorado" as a benefit performance at the Liberty Theatre today and tonight.

This production stars Warner Baxter and is highly acclaimed as one of the outstanding shows of the year.

By sponsoring the show the fire department will share in profits from tickets sold and the funds will be used to supplement the fund now being raised for much needed life saving equipment for the North Wilkesboro fire department.

Wheat fertilized with triple superphosphate is from 10 to 14 inches higher than that not so treated on the farm of Logan Bell of Madison county.

Gains of two pounds a day are recorded with hogs in feeding demonstrations throughout eastern Carolina and farmers are finding it profitable to feed out the animals at prices which prevailed this spring.

Today's standards to the people of those times. But they did have one quality which measures up to the highest standards of all time. That was respect for the rights and liberties of individuals and suspicion of everyone who tried to get along without working.
