VOL. XXX, NO. 70 Published Mondays and Thursdays NORTH WILKESBORO, N. C., MONDAY, JUNE 8, 1936 $1.50 IN THE STATE—$3.00 OUT OF THE STATE

Late News Of State-Nation Told Briefly

Girl Killed in Fall

Troy, June 5.—Edna Hamilton, 11, jumped from the rear of a coupe Tuesday and sustained fatal injuries. She was rushed to the Tiedlin hospital, Albemarle, but died Tuesday night without regaining consciousness.

PWA Constitutional

Washington, June 5.—Upholding the constitutionality of the public works administration's $300,000,000 power program, Chief Justice Alfred A. Wheat, of the District of Columbia supreme court, today dismissed an injunction suit attacking the municipal electric projects in four states.

Bank Robbery Caught

Little Ferry, N. J., June 5.—An intensive police manhunt snared throughout Bergen county tonight for a bandit gang which robbed the Little Ferry National bank, using hand grenades as part of their holdup equipment. The loot was placed at between $10,000 and $20,000.

Would Reorganize House

Washington, June 6.—Members of a group of progressives today revealed plans for a drive intended to block organization of the next house until it meets demands for a modification of the existing rule under which bills pigeonholed by committees can be forced onto the floor.

14 Poisoned By Food

Bessemer, Ala., June 5.—Fourteen women WPA workers who attended a food demonstration were ill here today of an ailment which physicians diagnosed as food poisoning. R. E. Smith, WPA safety supervisor, said beef canned for the government by a nationally-known packing concern, was under examination.

Report 'Potato Shortage'

New York, June 5.—New Yorkers felt the results of the country's "potato drought" today as prices here shot upward following reports of a potato shortage, particularly in Florida, South Carolina, and in Maine, known as the "Potato State". The average price here today was over 27 cents.

Burns Up Typewriter

Madison, June 5.—Martin Luther York, second-year student in the Madison high school, recently made the record of typing 185 words per minute in an unofficial test given him by his commercial teacher, Miss Pauline Patterson. Young York is the son of Mrs. M. R. Vaughn, who resides on a farm near Stokesdale.

Killed Over 15 Cents

Tarboro, June 5.—Isam Grant, negro, who killed his friend, Julius Hudson, in a quarrel over 15 cents here last April, faced 10 to 15 years in state prison today. Grant was sentenced by Judge Clayton Moore in Superior court here yesterday. He was originally charged with second degree murder but a plea of guilty to manslaughter was accepted by Solicitor Don Gilliam.

Take Out Train Fare

Washington, June 5.—More than 5,000 veterans will find a reminder of the 1932 bonus march on Washington in the envelopes in which they receive their bonus bonds this month. The veterans' administration said veterans who were given train fare home after trek to the capital four years ago would find the cost of the return trip deducted from their bonus.

Steady Drought Situation

Washington, June 5.—A survey looking to possible aid for farmers was started today by agriculture department experts. The study was ordered by Secretary Wallace after a conference with congressional delegations from Virginia, South Carolina and Georgia who told him a serious situation existed in Alabama, Florida and North Carolina as well as their own states.

Liquor in Hearse

Danville, Va., June 6.—Police today held an old-fashioned hearse which had served for years the purpose of carrying those from whom the spirit had fled but which yesterday was found to contain 60 of the more ardent variety. The hearse was found in an old stable abandoned many years ago on Holbrook street. It was not immediately clear to whom either the stable or the hearse belonged but the funeral coach still had its dusty canopy of mourning, the 12 five-gallon cans of moonshine were removed from the place usually occupied by the beer.

Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Yates, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bailey, and little daughter, Barbara Jane, Miss Myrtle Yates and Mr. Roy Mason, of Winston-Salem, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Yates.

HOEY HAS LEAD OF 7,000 IN RACE FOR GOVERNORSHIP

LAYING PLANS 2ND PRIMARY ON JULY 4TH

Bailey Has Majority Over Field in Race for Senate Nomination

SCOTT BEATS GRAHAM

Paul Grady Leading Horton For Lieut. Governor; Other Results Given

On the basis of unofficial returns this afternoon Clyde R. Hoey was leading in the race for the Democratic nomination for governor approximately 7,000 votes over Dr. Ralph McDonald.

Sandy Graham was third and along with John A. McRae, who received a scattering of votes, was eliminated.

Reports from Raleigh today indicated that both Hoey and McDonald are laying plans for a second primary to be held on July 4, the law requiring that a second primary is necessary between the two highest if the second high does not concede nomination.

The reports this afternoon said Hoey was leading 183,595 to McDonald's 176,448 with only 200 precincts yet to be heard from.

Following is Wilkes county's vote on the state ticket from all precincts with the exception of Elk number 2, which had not been turned in to the county board of elections at the time this newspaper went to press this afternoon:

1,000 Farmers In Soil Program Goal For Wilkes County

Time Extended For Filing Applications Through Saturday, June 20

OVER 500 APPLIED

Work Sheets May Be Obtained From Committeemen or County Agent

One thousand has been set as the goal for number of Wilkes farmers to secure work sheets and participate in the new farm program, it was learned today from the office of A. G. Hendren, county farm agent.

The number who have secured applications in the county has already exceeded the 500 mark to some extent and work has come from Dean Schaub at State College that the time for filing application has been extended to include the early part of June.

Prompt action is urged on the part of those who have become interested in improving their farms and thereby sharing in the benefits of the new farm measure.

The following information on the subject comes from the State College and the North Carolina extension service:

Over most of the State, said Dean I. O. Schaub, of State College, the time limit for field workers to sign up farmers expired May 31, but farmers will be allowed to sign work sheets in their county agents' offices during the first weeks of June.

In the mountain counties, both agents and field workers will continue the sign-up campaign through June 20.

Regarding the new program, it is intended to handicap the sign-up, the dean explained, with the result that it was not completed on schedule.

The work sheets do not obligate farmers in any way, Dean Schaub emphasized. They do not compel farmers to comply with the program, but they must be signed by all who wish to secure soil-conserving or soil-building payments.

The severe drought this spring has undoubtedly hurt crops in North Carolina, he pointed out, and most farmers will find these payments a helpful form of crop insurance. When a farmer carries out the practices for which payments are offered, he will receive his payments regardless of the effect of dry weather on his crops.

The work sheets will be used in checking each grower's compliance with the program to determine the amount of his payments. The work of checking (Continued on page eight)

Frank Knox and Senator Borah are the other two pictured here and political writers see them in collusion to stop Landon's nomination.

Doughton, Johnson Named By Democrats

Doughton Seeks Sheriff's Office

Defeats Odell Whittington; F. C. Johnson Leads John W. Nichols

Claude T. Doughton won the Democratic nomination for sheriff in Wilkes county over Odell Whittington at the primary Saturday.

Quite much interest was manifested in the balloting on county offices Saturday with the result that Doughton polled 2,504 to Whittington's 1,337 on the basis of official returns from 28 of the 29 precincts, Elk No. 2 being the lone exception. Returns from that precinct had not been turned in to the county board of elections in time to be included in the figures given in this issue of The Journal-Patriot.

Official returns from 28 precincts showed F. C. Johnson had won the nomination for register of deeds over John W. Nichols. The vote: Johnson, 2,226; Nichols, 1,435.

Mrs. C. H. Smithey, who underwent a major operation at the Wilkes hospital Thursday, is recovering, friends will be glad to learn.

Funds Approved To Complete Blue Ridge Parkway

$7,000,000 Appropriated to Scenic Road; Long Fight Over Road Ends

Completion of the Appalachian Parkway without delay because of lack of funds has been assured. Conferees on the public roads bill have included the amendment of Senators Bailey and Reynolds to appropriate $10,000,000 for the parkway, $7,000,000 of which will be used on the Virginia-North Carolina project, and $3,000,000 on the Natchez Trace parkway in Mississippi, Alabama and Tennessee.

In North Carolina the parkway will extend from the Virginia line via Roaring Gap, Glendale Springs, Deep Gap, Blowing Rock, Linville Falls, south of Asheville, but nearly into the Smoky Mountain National Park.

While it is now expected that both branches of congress will readily concur in the conferees' report, it was due to the untiring efforts of Representative Lindsay Warren of the first district, vice chairman of the house committee on roads, one of the house conferees, that the $10,000,000 parkway fund was saved.

When the house committee reported the bill, it carried $7,000,000 for parkways, but the house eliminated this in a committee of the whole. The senate restored the sum, and it then went to conference, and after several long sessions, the bill was finally agreed upon, with Mr. Warren holding out until the last and successfully for the senate provision, thus settling for all time the fate of the parkway.

By this action the North Carolina delegation won a long fight, which began with a battle with Tennessee two years ago as to whether the parkway should run through Tennessee or through North Carolina. Secretary Icken heard the two delegations, headed by Senators Bailey and Reynolds, and Representatives Doughton and Robert Lathan, editor of the Asheville Citizen. Hearings were attended by a large delegation from Charlotte. While Senator McKelvey favored Tennessee as a conference, he stood by North Carolina's project.

Social Security Act Explained In Address Before Kiwanis Club

Winston-Salem Business Man Delivers Instructive Speech Here

H. R. Borthwick, Winston-Salem business man, in an address before the North Wilkesboro Kiwanis club Friday, explained the detailed provisions of the social security act and the revenue for its maintenance.

This is the first detailed information regarding the act and the Journal-Patriot takes pleasure in passing to its readers the principal parts of his address:

P. W. Eshelman was in charge of the program and his guests included Ted Borthwick, son of the speaker, of Winston-Salem; T. G. McLaughlin, H. P. Woodard, Russel Hodges and Boyle Hutchens, of this city. J. B. Farmer was a guest of Genio Cardwell, Blair Gwyn was a guest of R. W. Gwyn and J. E. Justice was a guest of J. R. Finley.

The Act is divided into eleven general parts, or titles. Title I provides that the Federal Government shall make payments to States for the purpose of enabling them to furnish financial assistance to needy individuals of 65 or older. The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to pay to each State which has an approved plan for old age assistance, one-half of the total a-

Piece of Automobile Pierced Youth's Neck In Automobile Accident In City

NEW FARM BROADCAST NOW HEARD OVER WBT

A new series of farm radio programs, sponsored jointly by the State College Extension Service and the Soil Conservation Service, is now being heard over the Columbia Broadcasting System's 50,000-watt station WBT in Charlotte three times a week.

Each Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday at 12:15 p. m. these broadcasts of timely farm and home information are aired. For the most part, county and home agents of the Extension Service and specialists of the Soil Conservation Service are heard in discussions of seasonable interest to the farm people of North Carolina.

Forney Rankin, of the SCS, is spokesman for the two agricultural agencies and in addition to arranging for speakers, he presents several news items of general interest on each broadcast.

The farm agent of Mecklenburg County, Oscar H. Phillips, and the home agent, Mrs. Pauline W. Taylor, are heard once each week. Other county and home agents will be brought in to appear on the program.

Already reports received indicate that the new program is gaining wide favor with the farm people of this State. Many inquiries are received after each broadcast. Both WBT officials and representatives of the two agricultural agencies are pleased with the response received.

Bristol Shoemaker Goes Through Horrible Experience Saturday Night

Bristol Shumaker, Iredell county youth, has so far miraculously escaped death in a tragic and unusual automobile accident in this city Saturday night.

Shumaker, whose age is in the early twenties, was riding on a model T Ford roadster traveling south on Hinshaw street near the Baptist cemetery about nine o'clock when it failed to make a curve and overturned on the roadside.

The windshield brace on the right side of the car pierced the young man's neck, entering his throat and extending through the back of his neck by his spine.

Rev. C. S. Bumgarner, in front of whose home the wreck occurred, ran to the scene and with an ordinary hand saw he cut the piece of steel from the car and the young man was rushed by ambulance to the Wilkes Hospital, where the object was removed from his neck and the ragged wound given surgical treatment.

During the gruesome experience he suffered untold agonies and loss of blood that placed his life in even more immediate danger. Blood transfusions have been resorted to at the hospital in an effort to rebuild his strength and make recovery possible. Hospital physicians reported his condition today as good as can be expected and with a possible chance for recovery.
