Principals of High Schools Employed For Coming Term

All Will Remain at Post Except C. M. Cook at Roaring River

GOES TO IREDELL

Very Few Changes in Teachers in Majority of Wilkes Schools

Principals of all the high schools in Wilkes county have been re-elected to serve during the 1936-37 school term, it was learned today from C. B. Eller, county superintendent of schools.

However, since being re-elected by the central district committee C. M. Cook has resigned as principal at Roaring River to accept a position in an Irredell county school and the vacancy at Roaring River has not been filled.

The principals who will again serve their schools are: Wilkesboro, T. E. Story; Millers Creek, R. V. Day; Mount Pleasant, S. E. Matthews; Ferguson, G. E. Tester; Ronda, W. L. Bowman; Traphill, Carl Hendrix; Mountain View, E. R. Spruill.

High and central schools will open about September 1, according to present plans of the county superintendent and the board of education but smaller schools, especially in the mountainous districts, will be allowed to begin the term one month earlier or about August 1.

The early starting date for schools who desire to begin the term early will enable them to complete the term before much of the severe winter weather, it is pointed out, and should there be another winter like the one just past the schools starting early would have quite an advantage in that children would be better able to attend regularly.

Teachers have been employed for practically all the schools in the county, Mr. Eller said, and there will be very few changes in faculties throughout the county.

Blackberries Now Being Purchased

Coca-Cola Bottling company is again buying blackberries from the people of Wilkes and adjoining counties and officials of the firm said today they could handle an unlimited amount delivered to their warehouse—the former Blue Ridge Hatchery location on Forester Avenue.

Buying will start on Monday, July 6, and the price at the warehouse will be 90 cents per bushel. Quite a substantial sum of money was paid out last year to the people of Wilkes and adjoining counties.

Will Administer New Farm Program

Meetings Held in Six Communities Saturday Largely Attended

Owners and tenants of approximately 900 farms in Wilkes county met on Saturday and named community committees to administer the soil conservation act this year.

The farmers who expect to benefit by improving their soil and curtailing acreage of cash crops under the new act showed considerable interest and attended the meetings in large numbers.

In each of the six communities three leading farmers were selected as community committees and the chairman of each will be a member of the county executive committee. An alternate was also named to serve in the event one of the three regularly elected will not be able to perform the prescribed duties. The committees are as follows:

Community 1—J. M. German, chairman, T. W. Ferguson, J. G. Earp and B. C. Price, alternate.

Community 2—H. C. Roberts, chairman, J. R. Calloway, T. M. Inscore and Carl McCarter, alternate.

Community 3—R. L. Proffitt, chairman, H. H. Beshears, W. O. Barnett and V. M. Triplett, alternate.

Community 4—A. R. Miller, chairman, M. F. Bumgarner, H. H. Jennings and W. M. Absher, alternate.

Community 5—L. G. Billings, chairman, J. M. Blevins, J. L. Gregory and P. E. Church, alternate.

Community 6—L. B. Murray, chairman, Luther Hinchaw and Charles R. Byrd.

The county committee is composed of J. M. German, chairman, H. C. Roberts and L. G. Billings. The principal duties of the community committees will be to check the farms of those who have signed work sheets in order to ascertain compliance with provisions for which farm benefits are paid under the 1936 soil conservation act, which is replacing the triple A as a farm aid measure.

Attention Centered On 2nd Primary Saturday

Dr. Eller Urges Dog Owners Have Dogs Vaccinated

Must Be Repeated Every Year in Order to Prevent Hydrophobia

PAID OUT OF DOG TAX

People Warned To Observe Law; Dog's Head Sent to Raleigh Tuesday

Dr. A. J. Eller, county health officer, Tuesday mailed a dog's head to the state laboratories at Raleigh and issued a public warning to people to have their dogs vaccinated against rabies according to law.

There is a false impression, Dr. Eller stated, that dogs only have to be vaccinated but once to be immune from rabies and he pointed out that the vaccination holds good for one year only and that all dogs should be vaccinated yearly. It really cost a dog owner nothing to have his dog vaccinated because the cost is deducted from the dog tax to the county, the health officer said in placing emphasis on the fact that he wanted all dogs vaccinated against rabies in order that the danger of contracting hydrophobia be lessened.

In urging dog vaccination Dr. Eller explained that rabid dogs are a fatal menace to children if they are not given the Pasteur treatment soon after they are bitten by the dogs. He went on to say that the Pasteur treatment is quite painful, especially for children, and that no person should be so negligent as to fail to have dogs vaccinated.

The dog's head was brought into the office of Dr. Eller by J. M. Wright of Union Grove. His eight-year-old son was bitten by a dog, which was killed for fear it had the dreaded disease and had possibly passed it on to the boy.

Capt. Percy Foote Retires From Navy

Native North Carolinian Completes 35 Years of Service In First Line of Defense

Philadelphia, July 1.—Captain Percy W. Foote, United States navy, who has been for some time the captain of the yard and second in command at the navy yard here, retired today from active service in the navy upon completion of 35 years of service from the date of graduation from the United States Naval academy in 1901.

Captain Foote was born in North Carolina and his immediate home was in the foothills of the Blue Ridge mountains near North Wilkesboro, which he has always retained as his official home. Captain Foote's father was Major James H. Foote, a well known writer and educator of North Carolina, who achieved prominence as an officer in the army of the southern states and took a leading part in the affairs of his state during the war between the states.

Captain Foote's service in the navy has been one of unusual variety both on sea and on shore. At sea he has commanded every type of vessel in the navy except a submarine and aircraft carrier and on shore he has occupied posts of duty of the highest importance. He has been a specialist in the fields of both ordnance and marine engineering and has taken a leading part in some of the principal developments in these fields in the last 25 years.

In accordance with existing law and in recognition of his performance of duty in combat with the enemy during the world war, Captain Foote upon his retirement has been promoted to the grade of rear admiral.

Yesterday afternoon a hearing was held before a magistrate for Arthur Hagar, driver of a pickup which wrecked late Saturday night near Call and caused the death of Paul Felts, youth of the Swan Creek community.

Hagar was driving the pickup, on which seven other youths were riding, when the lights went out and the vehicle overturned twice on the road after swerving from side to side. Felts was killed instantly and three other youths were injured in the accident.

Vote Saturday At Landon's In City

Convenient Voting Place Secured For Primary Voters July 4th

Landon's Super Service establishment on the corner of Ninth and D streets will be the voting place for North Wilkesboro precinct on Saturday, July 4, it was announced today by James M. Anderson, chairman of the county board of elections.

The building on the corner of B and Tenth streets, which was used as a voting place June 6, was not available for use Saturday. It is pointed out that Landon's will be a central point and that cars going to and from the voting place will not form so much traffic congestion. There is also adequate parking space off the streets.

Clyde Hoey And McDonald Making Appeals For Votes

Stacey Wade And Thad Eure Seek Secretary Of State Nomination

HORTON AND GRADY

Ask Nomination As Lieutenant Governor; Horton Strong Here

Although the second primary campaign in this part of the state has been unusually quiet, interest is now on the upgrade and main attention of people, more especially Democrats, is centered on the race for governorship nomination on the Democratic ticket.

Clyde R. Hoey, high man in the first primary June 6 by virtue of less than 5,000 votes over Dr. Ralph McDonald, who was second in the race, has been taking his campaign into the east in the territory where Sandy Graham, who was eliminated, garnered the most votes.

Dr. McDonald, who is running on an anti-sales tax and "anti-machine" platform, has likewise devoted most of his attention to the east, where it is conceded the battleground for the nomination lies.

What effect, if any, the fact that the primary will be on July 4, a national holiday, will have is yet to be seen, although it is expected that the absentee vote will be unusually large in that many will be away on vacation trips.

No Republicans will participate in the run-off primary and Democratic judges have been appointed by the county board of elections.

Appointments were made so as to give both Hoey and McDonald representation at the polls.

McDonald supporters have filed a request with the county board of elections asking that the following be appointed as judges: Antioch, Robert Mathis.

Brushy Mountain, Dewey Fletcher.

Beaver Creek, Wade Walsh.

Boomer, J. M. German.

Elk No. 1, Dallas Triplett.

Wilkesboro No. 1, A. L. Wil-

Wilkesboro No. 2, J. W. Moore.

The other races which are more or less in the background due to the main interest being centered around the governorship contest, are for nominations for lieutenant governor and secretary of state.

W. P. Horton and Paul Grady are the run-off candidates for lieutenant governor. In Wilkes Senator Horton is better known.
