Wedding Of Miss Fowler, Mr. Colvard
(Monroe Journal, Oct. 16)

Miss Sadie Lou Fowler became the bride of Mr. Howard Charles Colvard of North Wilkesboro yesterday afternoon in a lovely service at five o'clock at the home of the bride in Lee Park Rev. W. R. Kelly, pastor of Central Methodist church, officiated, using the ring ceremony.

An improvised altar in the living room was arranged with an arch entwined with ivy and banked with evergreens. Candelabra held lighted Cathedral tapers.

Preceding the ceremony, "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" were rendered by Mr. Henry Maynor, soloist, and Miss Jessie Smith, pianist. The Bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" was used as a processional. "To a Wild Rose" by MacDowell was played during the service, and Mendelssohn's wedding march as a recessional.

The bride entered on the arm of her father, Mr. Lonnie S. Fowler, by whom she was given in marriage. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Mr. Q. E. Colvard of Matthews, as best man.

The bride is the third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie S. Fowler. She wore a princess suit of coronation blue, squirrel trimmed. Her hat was a Lewis model of navy velvet adorned with cere wings. Accessories were of navy, and her flowers a shoulder bouquet of Tallman roses. Mrs. Colvard attended the Monroe schools and received business training at Wingate Junior college.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Colvard of North Wilkesboro. He is a graduate of N. C. State college, Raleigh, and is a member of the Kappa Phi fraternity. Mr. Colvard is teacher of agriculture in the high school of Indian Trail.

Mr. and Mrs. Colvard left for a wedding trip to points in Georgia and Florida, and upon their return will make their home in Indian Trail.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Fowler entertained with an informal reception. The dining room was in pink and white, the table being overlaid with a lace cloth over pink, and centered with a bowl of cut flowers. Four white tapers completed table decorations. An ice course was served.

Attending the wedding were only a few relatives and friends. Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Colvard, North Wilkesboro; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Colvard, West Jefferson; Mr. and Mrs. Q. E. Colvard and children, Matthews; Mrs. Hubert Sowell, and daughter, Betsy, and Miss Mary Lee Fowler, Kershaw; Mr. J. W. Fowler, Miss Laura Fowler, Mr. Francis Fowler, Master Bobby Fowler, and Mrs. Homer Fowler, Charlotte.

SENATOR COUZENS IS STRICKEN BY DEATH; ROOSEVELT'S FRIEND

Detroit, Oct. 22.—James Couzens, United States senator who as an office clerk joined Henry Ford at the turn of the century in founding the motor car company that grew to gigantic proportions, died in a hospital here after an operation today.

The 64-year-old independent Republican whose senate career started in 1922, entered Harper hospital October 14 suffering from uremic poisoning. Members of his immediate family, including his son, Mayor Frank Couzens, of Detroit, were at his bedside when death came after the operation. A week ago today the senator left the hospital to greet President Roosevelt, whose re-election he had termed "the most important matter confronting the nation." After this statement, Couzens was defeated for renomination.

TO PRESENT TALKS ON WEED SITUATION

How much will tobacco bring next year? What effect will this year's prices have on the production of flue-cured weed in 1937? These are among the questions which Dr. G. W. Forester, agricultural economist at the North Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station, is attempting to answer in a series of radio talks now being presented on the Carolina Farm Features program.

The next of these discussions will be delivered November 4. Dr. Forster, has already given two talks on the tobacco situation, the first dealing with the outlook for 1937 and the next with intentions to produce and outlook reports as a method of controlling production.

Drouth this year curtailed leaf production sharply, with the result that prices are above those of last year. However, had not the weather put a crimp into production, a bumper crop might have been produced which would have dragged prices down to a low level.

Should no government program be enforced next year and the weather conditions turn out ideal, farmers may expect a drastic decline in weed averages in 1937.

Following his talk on November 4, Dr. Forster will return to the air November 18 for the last in this present series of discussions.

The schedule in full for the week of October 26-31 follows: Monday, L. I. Case, "Progress in Baby Beef Club Work"; Tuesday, Dr. I. V. Shunk, "Avoiding Poison Ivy"; Wednesday, Zoology Department; Thursday, Durham County Club Day; Friday, C. J. Maupin, "Keep Winter Egg Production Up"; and Saturday, R. L. Lovvorn, "Winter Cover Crops."

Fishing Creek W. M. S.

The Woman's Missionary Society of Fishing Creek Baptist church held its October meeting with Mrs. G. W. Miller on Saturday night, October 17.

The program was in charge of "old sixty." They had a very interesting program. Miss Pearl Jarvis had charge of the meeting. There were three visitors, Mrs. Holland, of Virginia, Mrs. J. W. Mayberry, of Hays, and Miss June Teague, of Wilkesboro. This was the end of the year and was time to install new leaders for the year. The following officers were named: Miss Pearl Jarvis, president; Mrs. Jack McLean, vice president; Mrs. R. C. Miller, second vice president; Mrs. C. B. Mayberry, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Robert Holland, study leader; Mrs. Carl Miller, personal service chairman; personal service workers as follows: Mrs. Clifton Waddell, Mrs. Tom Shew, Mrs. Bob Holland, Mrs. Buel Brooks and Mrs. Charlie Johnston. After the meeting Mrs. Miller invited the W. M. S. into the dining room where Miss Joy Miller and Miss Constance Smithy served delicious refreshments.

Ferguson News

FERGUSON, Oct. 24.—This writer has been away for several days on a trip to Texas and that accounts for no news items coming from our community for some time, though we were inclined to believe that some one would be so kind as to pinch hit for us in our absence which would not be hard to do.

An automobile trip across the wooded plains of Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana and into the great state of Texas was indeed a very novel and interesting experience. We hit the high spots in the great Texas Centennial (which is being held in celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of Texan independence from Mexico) and returned home via Arkansas and Tennessee after a two weeks' sojourn. As we see it the outstanding features of the Centennial were the Museum of Fine Arts, The Hall of Varied Industries, The exhibits of General Motors, Ford, and Chrysler, The Alamo, The Texas Rangers, The Federal Building, The Texas State Building, The Great Livestock Show of dairy herds, exhibiting the most famous cow in the world with a record of approximately 12 gallons milk and 4 1-2 pounds butter daily. The Esplanade which is the most gorgeous array of buildings, lights, and colors, mingled together and reflected in a beautiful lake. Nature may have a more beautiful picture, but this artificial array is a veritable panorama of beauty unsurpassed by anything else on the exhibition grounds. To go into detail about even a small part of the exhibits would require more space than we are allotted here. One very outstanding experience which we cannot overlook and will never forget was television. To telephone and see the party at the other end of the line at the same time is indeed one of the outstanding achievements of the century. Then the Cavalcade, a drama with two hundred characters portraying the history of Texas for the last four hundred years in a most vivid manner was a most enjoyable and interesting feature. The Cosa Mayanna, "House of Tomorrow" with its revolving stage was given at Fort Worth which city claims the distinction of being "Where the West Begins." Most of the above exhibits are at Dallas and it is said most of the Centennial buildings are permanent and will be taken over by the state of Texas and used for a state fair after the Centennial is over.

Revs. R. L. Isbel, and J. F. Craig, of Lenoir, conducted services at the Advent Christian church Sunday morning and evening. Both of these ministers are former pastors here. About all the teachers of the local school spent the week-end at their respective homes. There will be a Halloween party given by the school Thursday night, Oct. 31. A good attendance is expected. The Parent-Teachers Association held its first meeting last week and elected officers. The Subordinate Grange will meet in regular session on Wednesday night of this week, October 28, instead of Friday night. The Juveniles will also meet at the same time. Misses Blanche and Beulah Ferguson have just returned from Dallas, Texas, where they visited their brother, L. Clyde Ferguson, and took in the Centennial there. Sam Marley and family, of Lenoir, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Walker. Mr. and Mrs. Westley Brangsh had the misfortune of losing their year-old child by death last week. The child had been sick for only a short time. Several from here attended the wedding of Mr. Harold Kyle and Miss Ruth Lindsay, of East Radford, Va., Saturday. We are advised that the Duke Power Company is busy getting the right of ways for the proposed power line up the river from Wilkesboro. Political meetings by both of the major parties were held here last week. Thousands of such meetings will be staged in the next week and the country will doubtless mark time from now until the election is over, which is the greatest political drama of the century. The Herford Cattle Breeders Association, of the State will have an all day picnic and get together meeting at the Patterson school Friday, November 6th. All breeders and those interested in Herford cattle should be present. Most folks who get pneumonia are certain they should get pneumonia.
