County Vouchers Will Be Accepted On Payment Of County Taxes

CLAIMS ARE HELD UP

Pending Completion of Audit; "Pay as You Go" Is Adopted Policy

Adopting a cash basis, Wilkes county board of commissioners in January meeting Monday passed upon a number of matters pertaining to finances of the county.

The motions relative to financial affairs were made and seconded by R. G. Finley, chairman, and Leet Poplin, Democratic members, M. F. Absher, Republican, having filed a blanket protest last month relative to all matters upon which Poplin acts on the grounds that he was not legally elected.

It was ordered that county general funds collected on or after December 16 be deposited in a new account in the Bank of North Wilkesboro and that funds collected on the 1935 taxes be deposited in the Deposit and Savings Bank in the "1935 undistributed tax account." This account was made subject to check by C. E. Ferguson, county accountant, checks to be signed by some officer of the bank.

The sheriff was instructed to accept no further county vouchers in payment of taxes. It was also ordered that the county accountant be instructed to issue no further vouchers unless funds are on deposit in sufficient amount to pay the vouchers.

By order of the board no county claims will be approved until completion of the audit of the county's affairs. This order does not apply to salaries and current operating expenses.

Notice for envelopes and postage with which to mail out 1936 tax notices was approved.

Leonard Eller, appointed janitor for a period of one year beginning May 1, 1936, by the former board, filed notice of protest of the appointment of Will Brown as janitor by the new board in December meeting. In so doing he protested the vote of Leet Poplin, commissioner, in the appointment of Brown on the grounds that he was not a legally elected member of the board and filed notice that he would serve as janitor and present claims for services until May 1.

The written protest filed by Eller was overruled by the board by a vote of two to one, Finley and Poplin voting to overrule the protest and M. F. Absher voting "no."

The board passed on routine matters, including reports of various county officials.

Applicants Must Register Again At District Office

All Whose Registrations Were Prior to October First Affected

James M. Anderson, head of the employment office for Wilkes, Alexander, Alleghany, Ashe and Watauga counties, has announced that all applicants for jobs with the employment office will be dropped unless the applicants have re-registered since October 1, 1936.

The move is taken at regular intervals in order to clear the office's files of names of persons who have found employment elsewhere, moved out of the district or for any reason have lost interest in getting a job through the office.

Those who keep their registrations in force by periodic renewals are kept in the active files, from which workers are chosen for various jobs the employment service has to fill.

The office receives calls daily for some kinds of labor, especially for men skilled in building trades, and it is considered very important that those wishing to gain jobs keep their registrations up to date. Recent calls have asked for brick masons, carpenters, operators of road machines, skilled machinists, electric welders, etc.

Each morning from nine to 12 o'clock is set aside for registrations and those who desire to register by personal call should call at the office, located on the second floor of the Bank of North Wilkesboro building, between those hours.

However, it is not absolutely necessary to call at the office to register as a client may request that his registration be renewed by mail. Any changes of address or location should be given to the office in order that the applicant can be located if a job is found. Emphasis is placed upon keeping in touch with the office in order that means may be had of informing the applicant of any available jobs.

President Stresses Need for Liberality In Court Decisions

Legislative Problems Outlined For 76th Congress; Ship Sails For Spain

PRESIDENT IS CHEERFUL

Top-Heavy Democratic Majority Approves Address; Others Matters Are Up

Washington, Jan. 6.—Speaking to the 76th Congress but obviously aiming his words at the Supreme court, President Roosevelt today demanded a "liberal" interpretation of the constitution as opposed to a "narrow" one.

With the rebel yells of his Democratic hosts resounding in the packed house chamber, the President who had been overwhelmingly re-elected since the Supreme court struck down his NRA and other laws, spoke this pointed sentence:

"The process of our democracy must not be imperilled by the denial of essential powers of free government."

There is no vital need to amend the constitution, he argued, but there is need of an "enlightened view" of it. He appealed to the courts to permit "legitimately implied" powers of government to be made "effective instruments for the common good."

Justices Enjoy Lunch

The justices of the high court, who are soon to rule on constitutionality of other new deal acts, did not hear his words. They were in their private dining room eating lunch at the time, and because of their traditional silence there was no way of telling how they felt.

Before both houses of Congress, gathered in joint session to receive his annual message, the chief executive reiterated his faith in NRA's broad objectives, contending that it has done too much and that there is no word a shaft, staccato emphasis asserted:

"The statute of NRA has been outlawed. The problems have not. They are still with us."

At the same time, the chief executive called for "an addition to the existing neutrality act to cover specific points raised by the unfortunate civil strife in Spain." Congress responded with a rush, but too late to halt a ship which steamed out of New York with a cargo of airplanes for the Spanish loyalists.
