Extension Men Visit In County

Niswonger, Shaw, Parish and McCrary Make Calls In Wilkes This Week

Four representatives of State College and the extension service have paid visits to Wilkes county this week.

On Tuesday C. F. Parish, poultry specialist, passed through the county en route to other points and stopped to confer with County Agent A. G. Hendran and poultry growers. On the same day Luther Shaw, agronomist, was in the county and yesterday H. R. Niswonger, orchard specialist, visited a number of orchard demonstrations. O. F. McCrary, district agent, is expected Thursday for a short visit.

CELEBRATE 10TH ANNIVERSARY OF RHODES-DAY CO.

(Continued from page one) of the company, Mr. Day said that the policy of fair dealing with the public has first consideration and that every precaution is taken to guarantee a fair deal to each customer. Among other reasons given is the fact that the company's representatives are on the alert to keep up with the furniture industry, attend the furniture exhibitions at Chicago and the southern shows, and endeavor at all times to carry a wide variety of furniture and home furnishings for the most modest and humble homes as well as for the demand from the weakling or most fastidious purchaser.

Close attention is given the stock of furniture to keep it as nearly complete as possible in all departments in order that no prospective purchaser is turned away because of a lack of the furniture or home furnishing article he desires.

Lines that have proven their worth are featured for living room, bedroom, dining room, kitchen and porch. A number of lines are purchased in carload lots, assuring the lowest possible prices consistent with the market from the manufacturers.

An instance of this is the Rhodes-Day range, manufactured by the Athens Stove company in Tennessee. During the past seven years 27 carloads of Rhodes-Day ranges have been sold by the firm and it reports well satisfied users.

Similar success has been met with in handling Sellers Kitchen cabinets, Florence and New Perfection oil ranges, Karpen living room gutters and mattresses, Steifel mattresses, Hunt springs and beds, of which 24 carloads have been sold in the past seven years, Lane cedar chests, Fairbanks-Morse refrigerators, a new addition which is manufactured by the oldest manufacturing firm in America, Alexander Smith and Sons rugs, Biglow-Sanford rugs, Gold Seal and Pabico rugs and many other favorably known and nationally advertised lines of furniture and furnishings.

Believing in the trade at home principle, Rhodes-Day buys highly creditable furniture from industries in North Wilkesboro, including bedroom suites from American Furniture company and Forest Furniture company and chairs from Home Chair company. These have proven their worth and are superior to many lines that could be purchased elsewhere.

The personnel consists of C. G. Day, D. E. Elledge, E. R. Wright, Shelton Brewer, I. C. Church, Mrs. C. S. Coffey, Mrs. John Rhodes, Charles Day, Jr., and Johnnie Parks, colored handy man.

Attention of the reader is turned to the second section of this newspaper for news of the Tenth Anniversary Sale at Rhodes-Day company and some of the values featured for the event. There will be useful gifts for the women and also gifts that will please the children. Details may be found in the anniversary sale announcement.
