116th Session Brier Creek Baptist Held With Oak Forest Church Oct. 1-2

Last Friday and Saturday, at Oak Forest where it had not met for 47 years, the 116th gathering of the Brier Creek Association was made unforgettable by two fine sermons and a good inspirational address. Certain portions of the session became chaotic and tedious from apparent inability to distinguish between the important and the trivial. Rev. N. T. Jarvis and Sherman G. Crater were re-elected moderator and clerk. The 117th session will be held at Holly Springs Baptist church, Iredell county, Thursday and Friday before the first Sunday in October, 1938. Visitors expressed themselves as impressed with the savory dinners at Oak Forest and the attractive and picturesque appearance of the ancient grove and remodeled old church. Aside from the sermons, the most noteworthy feature was the concise talk on Christian education by Rev. Eugene Olive. Before Horace Mann, the churches said, "My client is the next generation." Graphically, Mr. Olive pictured how the lives of men like Dr. Campbell of Bule's Creek and the professors at Wake Forest engraved themselves upon the minds of students like words written by a stylus on tablets of wax, and impressed them far more deeply than mere learning from books. Tradition says the men depicted in "The School of the Prophets" and Rev. W. G. Brown, "The

Next Week To Be Air Mail Week

Residents of North Wilkesboro and surrounding communities are making ready for observance of "Air Mail Week" October 11 to 16 and it is expected that several hundred letters will be ready for mailing when the air mail plane visits the local airport on Tuesday, October 12. It will be the first time that an air mail plane will officially visit North Wilkesboro and is a part of the observance of Air Mail Week throughout the state. J. B. Williams is air mail week chairman for North Wilkesboro and in an article released last week urged observance of the event and asked the people of this vicinity to use air mail adequately during the week and especially to mail a liberal number of air mail letters for the plane stop on Tuesday. J. C. Reins, North Wilkesboro postmaster, estimated that 500 air mail letters will be mailed locally but since the estimate was made it is believed that the number will far exceed that figure.

Charlotte, N. C. September 27, 1937. My dear Stamp Collector: The Postmaster-General has designated October 11-16 as Air Mail Week for the State of North Carolina, and The Honorable Harilee Branch, Second Assistant Postmaster-General is anxious that this week be put over in a big way.

I have been named as Chairman by the North Carolina Association of Postmasters to have active charge of this work. On October 12, a plane will stop at all offices in the state having flying fields and pick up the Air Mail for that section and rush it to the key cities, Charlotte and Raleigh, for direct dispatch. A special cachet is being furnished to all the towns having ports which are as follows: Asheville, Asheboro, Black Mountain, Burlington, Chapel Hill, Charlotte, Cherryville, Durham, Elizabeth City, Elkin, Fayetteville, Fort Bragg, Gibsonville, Goldsboro, Greensboro, Hamlet, Hickory, Hendersonville, High Point, Kings Mountain, Kitty Hawk, Lenoir, Lexington, Lumberton, Marion, Maxton, Monroe, Morganton, New Bern, North Wilkesboro, Ocracoke, Pinehurst, Southern Pines, Raleigh, Rockingham, Rocky Mount, Salisbury, Shelby, Wallace, Warrenton, Wilson, Wilmington, Winston-Salem. Air Mail forwarded to the postmasters in these cities under cover in time for dispatch on October 12 will bear the cachet, and as they are not on a regular line, a cachet can not again be secured. This is sent to you for the reason that I know that you are vitally interested in stamp collections.

Very truly yours, PAUL R. YOUNTS, Chairman, Air Mail Committee.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Martin returned Sunday to their home in Winston-Salem after spending a few days here with their daughter, Mrs. R. M. Yale, and Mr. Yale. U. S. Soon To Pay For Bluff Park Lands

Friendly Action Taken To Condemn Titles In Order to Hasten Action In Making Payment For 7,000 Acres

ON THE UP AND UP

Traffic Lights To Be Installed Within 30 Days

City Board Makes Purchase Of Stop Lights For Six Intersections

North Wilkesboro board of aldermen in October meeting executed contract for the purchase of traffic lights for six intersections in North Wilkesboro. The traffic light system was purchased at a cost of approximately $1,500 and it is expected that it will be installed and in operation within 30 days. The lights will be placed at the intersections of B and Sixth, B and Ninth, B and Tenth, D and Tenth, D and Ninth and D and Sixth. Four will be of the overhead center type and two will be corner lights. The corner lights will be placed at the intersections of B and Ninth and B and Tenth. The proposal to install traffic lights had been under consideration for some time. The total amount of the options has been deposited with the clerk of federal court and this money will be paid to the landowners when the court determines their interest in the titles. They are required, however, to make applications to the court for such criticism, principally because of the fact that the options did not allow them to cultivate their lands and they have not had money with which to buy elsewhere. Mr. Weems said that he and others who have been working on the problem regret the delay but of course could not anticipate at the time the options were taken the legal work involved before payment could be made and that every effort had been made to settle each case by direct purchase and as early as possible. However, they found it impossible to establish titles to the property, many deeds which were never placed on record having been lost. The landowners in the park area have been given steady employment on park development work and it is understood that the employment has been welcome compensation and a good substitute means of support for loss of crops on the land, much of which was unprofitable for cultivation. However, Mr. Weems said that every home was allowed to grow a garden and to have grazing land for cattle. The Bluff Park will be the outstanding wayside park of 19 planned along the parkway and will be the largest of these places of recreation and stops for vacationists. It contains what is now considered as some of the outstanding rugged mountain scenery in eastern America. Of the 7,000 acres in the park, 4,000 are in Wilkes and 3,000 in Alleghany.

Money Deposited With Federal Court to Pay Owners Amount Options

EXPECT EARLY ACTION

Landowners Have Been Given Jobs As Means of Support This Year

Condemnation proceedings have been instituted in the middle district federal court against titles to about 7,000 acres in the Bluff Park in northern Wilkes and southern Alleghany counties, it was learned here from Sam P. Weems, of the national park service. Mr. Weems, who has charge of development of 19 wayside parks along the Blue Ridge Parkway, said, however, that the condemnation proceedings are entirely a friendly action taken in order to facilitate payment for the land, optioned about two years ago by the government for park purposes. He said that the delay in making payment for the land to the many landowners was due entirely to the condition of their titles to their lands and was because titles which would pass inspection by the department of justice could not be established by the records. The total amount of the options has been deposited with the clerk of federal court and this money will be paid to the landowners when the court determines their interest in the titles. They are required, however, to make applications to the court
