IN WASHINGTON

WHAT IS TAKING PLACE BY

P. R. Reynolds

UNITED STATES SENATOR

Editor's Note—With the adjournment of Congress, Senator Reynolds will discontinue his weekly column until the next session is convened in January. The Senator has asked that we give to readers his sincere appreciation for the interest shown in his effort to keep them informed with regard to Congressional developments.

As the third session of the Seventy-fifth Congress comes to a close in an eventful election year, it is already evident that the Seventy-sixth Congress convening next January will be of vital importance to the country. In some respects, it may even surpass from the standpoint of legislative policies, the sessions of the last two years.

There are many reasons for such a viewpoint. Farm legislation enacted this year will have undergone the test of actual application, and it will be apparent whether it will answer the needs of the farmer or require revision. The country will know more about the wage and hour bill being pushed through the Congress as this column is written. Reorganization of Federal agencies will, no doubt, again be to the forefront. The so-called "nuisance taxes," including the Federal gasoline tax and other excise levies on automobiles and automotive parts and accessories, will expire in 1939 and consideration must be given to re-enactment or allowing them to expire.

In fact, all indications point to wholesale revision of the tax structure and there is some hope for the elimination of duplicate taxes now imposed by the Federal government and by the states. In addition, it now seems likely that full consideration will be given to the financial problems confronting the railroads. To these and other questions of importance at home, must be added the all-important matter of Foreign policies. Events in Europe will undoubtedly reach the point during the next few weeks where we may expect new difficulties or an easing of the war tension. Neutrality and embargo programs may have to be revised in a new effort to keep the United States from becoming a party to foreign contentions.

Equally as important is the general decline abroad of treaty and agreement values. "Unofficial wars," such as are now being waged, hold all the horror of declared war and can only be halted by the weight of world opinion. Last but not least, is the item of emergency expenditures. Unless there is some upturn in general business conditions and employment, the next Congress will be faced with important decisions as to what extent the Federal government shall provide relief and "pump-priming" funds. It is already apparent that new and increased revenue will be required if more billions are appropriated in the years immediately ahead.

As a result of the developments mentioned, members of Congress, both Senators and Representatives will undoubtedly keep their ears to the ground during the months ahead and make every effort possible to obtain the viewpoints of the men and women on the street and along the rural highways to the end that their views may be weighed when legislative policies and programs are formulated.

To Begin Vacation Bible School 27th At First Baptist

A Vacation Bible School at the First Baptist church will begin at 8:30 a. m. next Monday. Four departments are planned for boys and girls aged four to sixteen. The school will be in session for two and a half hours daily except Saturday and Sunday for two weeks. Rev. Eugene Olive will be the principal and will be assisted by more than a dozen teachers and workers.

Pupils will be enrolled at 8:30 Monday morning. No charge will be made for tuition. Songs, storytelling, memory work, notebook and hand work will be a part of the daily program. Recreational features will be provided from day to day. A picnic is planned for one afternoon.

The brief period the school is to be in session makes it essential that all pupils enroll at the beginning. None will be allowed to enroll after Wednesday morning.

A hearty invitation is extended to all boys and girls who will plan to attend for the full two weeks' period to attend the school.

Mrs. Higgins' Obituary

The angel of death stooped and kissed one of the daughters of Christ on June 16, 1938. Mrs. Lula June Higgins, wife of Mr. E. O. Higgins, Mrs. Higgins was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Longbottom, of Roaring River, and was born July 30, 1905, and was married to Ernest O. Higgins August 8, 1926. This union was blessed by two children, Jimmie Herbert and Ella Mae Higgins, who with the husband, survive. Mrs. Higgins was a good wife, mother and neighbor. Early in life she professed faith in the Lord and lived a consecrated, devoted Christian life, and the time of her death she was a member of White Plains Baptist church.

A great host of friends attended her funeral. Funeral services were conducted by Revs. Ed O. Miller, J. S. Elliott and Jimmie Bryant, and her body was laid to rest in the family plot at Rock Creek Baptist church. The husband has lost a loyal wife, the children a devoted mother, and the community a kind and considerate neighbor, the church a consecrated worker. She brought sunshine to all who came in contact with her, for to know her, was to love her.—A Friend.

Mrs. Ella Mae Brown Harrold, age 22, died Wednesday. She was the wife of Fairbanks Harrold, of Deberry, and in addition to her husband, she is survived by three children, her mother, Mrs. Janie Brown, and two brothers, Dual and Cyrus Brown.

Funeral services will be held Friday at Oak Ridge with Rev. Landreth Blevins in charge.

Bill Timber

Bill Timber is a lordly chap, Of massive bone and sinew; When all the dwarfs have passed away Bill's issue will continue.

Young Bill grew up among the peaks, And did his best to top them; When once his feet have struck the trail No human power can stop them.

When neighbors want a friendly lift, In logging camp or clearing, They send abroad a loud "Bill—ooo!" And Bill ne'er fails in hearing.

When folks are sick and need a friend, They always send for Timber; He sits up nights to wait on them, His back is strong but limber.

Bill never throws away his strength, But spends it for his Master; Were all the race as fine as Bill It could not know disaster. —Millard Fillmore Bumgarner, Wilkesboro, N. C. June 20, 1938.

The indicated production of peaches in North Carolina June 1 is 2,480,000 bushels, or an increase of 248,000 bushels over the May indicated production of 2,232,000 bushels, reports the markets division of the State Department of Agriculture.

Poultry Grading In No. Carolina

Raleigh, June 21.—Poultry will be graded in North Carolina for the first time in the history of the State beginning July 1. Randal B. Sherridge, chief of the State Department of Agriculture's markets division, announces today.

U. W. Shoffield, senior marketing specialist, has been licensed by the Federal Bureau of Agricultural Economics as the State's first supervising inspector of dressed poultry.

Under present plans, licensed graders will be trained to operate in North Carolina, giving consumers in the State the benefits to be derived from buying poultry based on federal grades.

Arrangements have already been made to train inspectors in Durham and Greensboro within the next two weeks, looking toward the improvement of poultry on these markets. Other inspectors will be trained and licensed by the State Department of Agriculture's markets division as rapidly as possible.

Federal-graded poultry will be sold according to the following standards: Grade "A" poultry, or the best prime, well-fleshed and fattened; Grade "B", or choice poultry having normal flesh and good edible quality; Grade "C", or commercial-class poultry which is poorly fleshed and improperly dressed.

In addition to furnishing instructions to applicants who desire to become dressed poultry inspectors, the markets division will furnish supervision to maintain the standards required by the federal government.

MONOPOLY ILLS

Declaring that many of the nation's economic ills are to be traced to the blighting hand of monopoly, Aubrey Williams, deputy-administrator of the W. W. A, says that more than twenty-five per cent by value of the products were higher in price last April than they were a year before, despite the devastating drop in business. Back of most of these controlled prices, he asserts, is a concentration of ownership and direction which concentrates control far from the site of the general population. Mr. Williams points out that the steel industry has maintained its prices although production has fallen off three-quarters and payrolls of its workers have dropped fifty-five per cent since last year.

Field Day Dates For Farms Given

Raleigh, June 21.—Agricultural research and the need for an adequate marketing program will be discussed at the field days to be held at the six test farms of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture beginning July 1.

The field days will be held as follows: Blackland Test Farm near Weldon, July 14; Piedmont Test Farm near Statesville, July 15; Tobacco Test Farm at Concord, July 28; Upper Coastal Plain Test Farm near Rocky Mount, August 11; Mountain Test Farm at Sannona, August 18 and Coastal Plain Test Farm at Willard, September 8.

More than 25,000 farmers, their wives and agricultural leaders attended the field days last year.

Record Tobacco Income For 1937

Raleigh, June 22.—Representing 53 per cent of the State's total farm income from all sources, North Carolina growers received $148,115,000 for their record tobacco crop during the calendar year 1937, the State Department of Agriculture reports.

Tar Heel growers produced 595,530,000 pounds of tobacco in 1937, or an average yield per acre of 884 pounds on 674,000 acres. The acreage devoted to tobacco last year was an increase of 12 per cent over 1936.

Department statisticians reported that producers' tobacco marketed on the warehouse floors of the State during the 1937-38 season averaged 24.4 cents per pound as compared with 22.9 cents received during the previous season.

Despite the prohibitive tax on the purchase of "scrap" or unried tobacco, 14,118,000 pounds of this type of tobacco sold for an average of 1.62 per pound.

The seasonal average price of producers' sales in the different belts was reported as follows:
