Czech Forts Now a Playground

Children at play in the shadow of a fort in what once was Czechoslovakia's Maginot line. The scene was photographed at Neuhaus, the forts, constructed under the direction of the French army general staff were regarded as among the strongest fortifications ever designed, and were intended to protect the Czechs until aid arrived from France.

One of Largest Dockets In History Of Court Ready For Trial Nov. 21 When Federal Court Opens Here

Mass Conspiracy Cases Resulting From Work of Undercover Men

Middle district federal court for the circuit composed of Wilkes, Alleghany, Ashe and Watauga counties will convene in Wilkesboro on Monday, November 21, with Judge Johnson J. Hayes, of Wilkesboro, presiding.

Court officials said today that the docket is perhaps the heaviest in the history of the court in number of cases to be tried.

Many conspiracy cases which came about as the result of undercover work in Wilkes county a few months ago accounted for many of the cases on the docket, while federal agents have continually been successful in raiding moonshine stills and catching several charged with transporting liquor upon which federal taxes had not been paid.

Jurors for the term, which will be in session two weeks, have been summoned as follows:

- Alleghany County: J. Raymond Miles, Cherry Lane; John S. Evans, Pluey Creek; Roscoe Smith, Roaring Gap; Mack Holloway, Sparta; Silas K. Nichols and T. Jeff Crouse, Sparta route 2; Joseph L. Finney, Stratford; John Evans, Whitehead. Ashe County: H. V. Boyd, Ashland; Bill Mc...

Twelve Hundred Members Quota of Wilkes Chapter

Half of Funds Raised Will Remain in Wilkes For the Relief of Destitute

FUNDS BUDGETED Program of Red Cross Work in Wilkes County Now Taking Shape

The annual Red Cross roll call begun here today.

Beginning today volunteer workers will canvass the city asking for the annual contribution of one dollar to be used in the many humanitarian activities of the "world's greatest mother."

The roll call in Wilkes county is headed by Rev. Eugene Olive, Baptist pastor who is backed by an organization determined that Wilkes shall do its part in the annual call for funds.

In a widely distributed letter addressed to "Friends of Humanity," the roll call chairman has outlined the work for Wilkes county as planned by the county chapter and the county's share of the roll call funds one-half, is budgeted among several commendable activities.

Budgeting the funds to be used locally enables the people to know just how the money will be spent and for what cause.

It is noticed that the sum of $300 has been set aside for benefit of tubercular children, of whom 65 in the county are already known. Cod liver oil, milk and medical care will be furnished by this fund through the county health department.

It is pointed out that in former roll calls the employees of local industrial plants contributed the greater part of the amounts raised. It is sincerely hoped that what industrial employees have done in former years will be taken as a challenge by business and professional men, school teachers, farmers and all others who are financially able to give a dollar to the cause.

Term of Wilkes Court Opened

Wilkes superior court convened in Wilkesboro today, the beginning of a three-weeks session for trial of civil cases.

Judge J. A. Rousseau, of this city, is presiding over the term.

The three weeks are set aside for court here in an effort to clear the civil docket, which has been badly congested for the past several years.

Dehart Woman Grows Radish, Weight 6 Lbs.

Shelby Joines, Dehart youth, brought to The Journal-Patriot office Saturday a white radish which tipped the scales at six pounds even.

Radishes are normally those delicious vegetables about the size of a pullet egg but when one grows to six pounds that is news, Mrs. J. F. Joines, mother of Shelby, grew the radish in her garden and would have let it stay there to grow some more had hungry rabbits not eaten a part of it.

Home-Makers to Be Welcomed At New Orpheum Theatre Three Days Beginning Tuesday; At 9:30 A. M.

A Fascinating and Different Cooking School Is Free To Everybody

EVERYBODY INVITED Doors Will Open at 9:00 A. M.; Large Attendance Expected Daily

Lock the doors and come to town! The Journal-Patriot's Motion Picture Cooking School entitled "Star in My Kitchen" will be the real community attraction for three days at the New Orpheum Theatre starting Tuesday, November 15, and continuing through Thursday, November 17, showing each morning at 9:30. Doors will open at 9 a. m.

The complete school will be shown each day. Prizes will be given free each day!

This fascinating and different cooking school is open entirely free to every woman in town, and The Journal-Patriot as well as North Wilkesboro merchants extend this last invitation to join in the home-making lessons and jolly entertainment for at least one day.

The motion picture cooking school will be a practical rally of home-makers to contribute fresh perspective for the "same old job," the monotonous day-in-and-day-out job, yet the most important business in the world. Just as men have their annual conventions, where they listen to lectures from specialists, local women will have their convention to consider home-making problems.

Just as fresh inspiration for the old job is one of the by-products of the familiar cooking school, which presents a lecturer in a model kitchen, so are new ideas and keen incentive born in the film class for home-makers, with its novel approach and modern setting.

No "false-front" camera-beautiful kitchens satisfied these specialists. They insisted on working in complete, compact, modern kitchens, which actually reflect more scientific ingenuity and careful planning than any living room.

Recognizing the demands of home experts, the producers of "Star in My Kitchen" signed all-star kitchens, with an all-star cast, adding a continual procession of close-ups, so that every seat in New Orpheum Theatre is a good seat for this amazingly-pictured home-making course.

Everyday happenings have been dramatized in the plot of "Star in My Kitchen." Behind the sparkling humor and suspense that are so necessary to screen stories was a deliberate plan—an ambitious determination to carry...

Hold Banquet On 20th Anniversary End of World War

Judge Hayes Is Speaker at Joint Meeting of Legion and Auxiliary

Wilkes post of the American Legion and unit of the Auxiliary celebrated the 20th anniversary of the end of the World War by a banquet Friday night at the Legion and Auxiliary clubhouse.

Judge Johnson J. Hayes was the principal speaker in his address, which was received with much interest. He advocated "Peace through preparedness." He commended the expressed objective of President Woodrow Wilson of making "the world safe for democracy" and although the objective seemed to have failed in the world that it was reached in this country.

Frank E. Johnson, past commander of the Legion here, presided. Greetings from the Auxiliary were by Mrs. J. B. McCoy, president. Sixty-eight were present at the meeting and a sumptuous dinner made of Wilkes county products with the exception of sugar and coffee was served by the Moravian Falls home demonstration club under direction of Miss Harriet McGoogan, county home demonstration agent.

To open the program the assembly sang lustily a number of war songs which brought back memories of 20 years ago, following which the group stood at attention for 30 seconds in memory of those who made the supreme sacrifice. Mrs. Tom Watkins and Mrs. W. M. Holder, of Hayes, two gold star mothers, were presented. Rev. and Mrs. Eugene Olive rendered a duet, with Mrs. L. M. Nelson at the piano.

Mr. Johnson then called on a number of veterans to tell of experiences at and prior to the time the Armistice was signed. Those responding were John W. Hall, commander of the post, W. C. Grier, who was in the air service, J. B. McCoy, a member of the Wildcat division, J. E. Justice, who was in the marines, R. G. Finley and Russel Hodges. Judge Hayes was introduced by A. H. Casby.

Lions Dance On November 24th

One of the main social events of the season for this section of the state will be the Thanksgiving Dance to be held at the armory hall on Thanksgiving night, November 24. The dance, at which Stubby Taylor and his 14-piece orchestra will play, is sponsored by the North Wilkesboro Lions club and is expected to be one of the most successful social events in history of North Wilkesboro.
