VOL. XXXIII, No. 14 Published Mondays and Thursdays. NORTH WILKESBORO, N. C., MONDAY, OCT. 23, 1933 $1.50 IN THE STATE

Late News Of State-Nation Told Briefly

OFFERS TO SELL EYE
A woman offered today to sell the corner of one of her eyes for $5,000 to obtain money to aid her six children. The offer was made in a letter signed Mrs. Grace Davis, of Alton Park, Tenn., and disclosed at a meeting of the American College of Surgeons. Corneas, the clear windows in front of the pupil of the eye, are used occasionally to restore sight to persons with corneas scarred in accidents.

HOOVER SPEAKS
New York, Oct. 20.—Former President Herbert Hoover declared tonight that the time had come for America to take a clear and explicit stand on war against Russia, and that "whatever else may be done about the embargo, America should not sell bombing planes, their bombs, poison gas or submarines." In an address prepared for an NBC network, Mr. Hoover gave his reason for his proposal 10 days ago of a substitute for either repeal of the embargo or its repeal—a proposal "that in what we do, we seek for a firm basis in broad humanity."

NAZIS ANGERED
Berlin, Oct. 20.—Nazis tonight declared Turkey became "Britain's stooge" when she signed a mutual aid pact with the allies and "could no longer be regarded as a neutral. Adolf Hitler received a personal report on the trip to Turkey from his ace trouble shooter, Franz von Papen, German ambassador to Turkey. Von Papen arrived in Berlin today after a hurried trip from Ankara. He was expected to return to his post within a few days. Although German political leaders professed to see a loophole in the pact in Turkey's reservation against being drawn into war against Russia, attacks on the agreement were caustic.

CHILD IS KILLED
Dunn, Oct. 20.—John L. Herriar, 8-year-old, Sumner county child, was instantly killed when struck by an automobile in Harnett county today. His younger sister looked on as the accident occurred shortly before noon on the Raleigh-Fayetteville highway, a few miles south of Kipling. He was playing in the highway with his sister, Elizabeth, in front of their aunt's home. Both children ran when the automobile, driven by Mrs. O. C. Moddittell, of Charleston, S. C., approached, but the boy darted in the wrong direction into the path of the car. The woman, who was with her husband en route to their home, cut to the left side of the road in an effort to avoid hitting them. She said she did not see the children in time to stop.

ATTACK REPULSED
London, Oct. 20.—Invading German warplanes flew over the strategic Fifth of Forth again today but dropped no bombs and escaped the fire of anti-aircraft batteries and British fighting planes which went up to meet them. Air attacks on strongholds of British naval might had been expected, one authority said. He added that the performance of the defenders in shooting down eight German planes during raids earlier in the week was "encouraging." On the western front, British outmanned the allied "waiting wall" with fresh troops and counted as a gain every day of delay and every delay of a possible wide-scale German offensive.

Girl Scout Week To Be Observed
Registration Night Will Be Held In North Wilkesboro October 29

National Girl Scout Week begins October 25th and runs through to November 4th. North Wilkesboro Scouts plan to celebrate by having on October 30th at the Woman's Club House a registration night to which all Girl Scouts are asked to escort their mothers and fathers, and have a Girl Scout good time. For the last five weeks we have been having a training class for leadership troops conducted by the state council. We are forced to limit Girl Scout membership and are offering registration to those who are Scouts first and last that they do so on Monday night if convenient. It was announced.

Lexington Firm To Purchase Cream And Milk Here

Take Over Markets Formerly Provided By Scott Factory and the Creamery

Coble Dairy Products, of Lexington, has taken over the milk and cream markets until recently operated in this city by Scott Cheese and Butter company and Piedmont Creamery.

The cheese and butter factory ceased operations several days ago and Fred Caldwell, who had been agent for Piedmont creamery in buying cream, has been retained to operate the receiving station for Coble Dairy products here.

The firm which will operate a receiving station here is described as one of the best established buyers of dairy products in the state and better prices can be paid the farmers of Wilkes for milk and cream than they have been receiving. W. K. Woodall, field representative, said here today.

He said that they could buy at highest market prices all the milk and cream that can normally be produced in this section and that at the present his company is buying much milk from Virginia because North Carolina farmers in the territory served cannot supply their demand.

At present the receiving station here, located where Piedmont Creamery had been buying cream, is only receiving cream but it is expected that purchase of milk on several routes will be begun soon. H. A. Wendland, who was manager of the cheese and butter plant, has been employed as field representative to arrange milk routes and to work with the farmers in encouraging greater production.

The quarters for the receiving station have been renovated, painted and new equipment has been installed, including a laboratory for testing.

Mr. Woodall said that he would be in North Wilkesboro Saturday and would be glad to explain to farmers any information which they may desire relative to the market for milk and cream.

Coble Dairy Products manufactures ice cream mix, condensed milk, butter and other dairy products.

Four Fires Here During Week-End

Two Homes Of Colored People In Woodlawn Destroyed By Fire On Sunday

The North Wilkesboro fire department has a busy week-end. On Sunday morning the truck answered a call to the home of Mrs. A. L. Lippard on Sixth street and extinguished a small fire which started from an oil heater explosion. Little damage was done.

About noon on Sunday the trucks went to Woodlawn, where the home of Frank Little, colored, was destroyed. A small building owned by N. B. Smithy and occupied by a colored tenant also went up in flames. Without a water supply the firemen could do but little except keep the fire from spreading.

This morning the firemen extinguished a fire in a field near the home of Joe Shew in the extreme eastern part of the city.

Her Brother's Keeper, and Good One!

Charged with being the alleged lookout for two other boys involved in a store robbery, 17-year-old Patrick Lynch of New York was placed in legal custody of his 13-year-old sister, Nora, while awaiting sentence. Two months later Nora delivered such a well-disciplined brother to the court that Pat got a suspended sentence.

New Wage - Hour Rules Will Benefit Workers Of State

Washington, Oct. 22.—Wage increases for 690,000 American workers go into effect at midnight Monday, according to estimates issued by the wage and hour division, United States department of labor.

At the same time, an estimated total of 2,382,500 workers, employed in every state of the union, will have their hours reduced from 44 to 42 per week, or will receive overtime pay at the rate of time and one-half the regular wage rate for hours worked in excess of that number.

These changes are statutory provisions of the fair labor standards act which automatically increase the minimum wage from 25 to 30 cents an hour, and reduce the regular work-week from 44 to 42 hours. Higher increases in wages have been established after recommendation of industry committees, for the hosiery and textile industries.

New Publishing Company For Wilkes Being Sponsored By Local Citizens

Will Be Known As The Northwest Publishing Company, William T. Long, Wilkesboro School Principal, Stated In Interview Saturday

An application for a charter for The Northwest Publishing Company, Inc., a firm which is being organized for the purpose of publishing a weekly newspaper for northwestern North Carolina, is being made, it was learned Saturday in an interview with William T. Long, newly-elected principal of the Wilkesboro high school.

Mr. Long said that several thousand dollars in stock in the new corporation had been sold, and that an attorney had been employed to apply for a charter. He said that all detailed plans for the publication had not been completed and that all of the personnel had not been selected, although plans were going forward as rapidly as possible. Other information may be available soon, he said.

Torpedo Boat: Britain's Answer to German Subs

Here's one of Great Britain's powerful new torpedo boats which can launch a projectile straight ahead while traveling at top speed. Arrow points to one of the torpedoes mounted on deck. The British count on these boats to combat the German submarine. A large fleet of these boats has been placed in service in the North sea and they are usually attached to destroyer squadrons.

4-H Club Cow Wins Over $1,000

Kiwanians Told Of Record Made At Fairs By Club Members In Wilkes

The North Wilkesboro Kiwanis club was entertained Friday noon with a program put on by 4-H club members and office personnel of the county agent's office.

The program was in charge of C. B. Eller, who had County Agent Dan Holler to introduce the persons taking part.

Dempsey Morris, 4-H club member, discussed 4-H club work in Wilkes and in Ireland and told of Granada, his cow which has won six grandchampionships at the North Carolina state fair and high honors at other shows. The cow, he said, has won more than $1,000 in prizes and is now at the South Carolina state fair in Columbia.

Miss Aileen Green, Ronda 4-H club member, told of her room improvement exhibit which won first place at the State Fair.

Archie Mathis, another club member, told of his calf which won first prize at the state fair and has won various other premiums.

Miss Harriet McGoogan, home demonstration agent, told of progress being made by home demonstration clubs. Jesse Giles, assistant county agent, discussed some of the details which enter into judging of animals at fairs.

County Agent Dan Holler concluded the program with mention of prizes won by apples, chickens and corn from Wilkes at the state fair.

D. W. Huggins, of Clayton, was a guest of J. B. Carter at the meeting.

Parole Of Long Termer Revoked

Lindsay Hendrix Taken By Elk Township Officers On Charge Of Bigamy

Lindsay Hendrix, a former resident of Watauga county, is again in the toils of the law after winning a fight for a parole while serving a 30-year sentence for rape.

This time Hendrix is in jail at Wilkesboro and his parole has been revoked because he had to many wives and is formally charged with bigamy. He is alleged to have married Edna Hendrix without first obtaining a divorce from a former marriage.

Hendrix was taken at Darby by Wade Glibert, constable, Sam Jones, deputy sheriff and Sybil Hartley. He offered no resistance because he was apprehended while sleeping, officers said. A warrant charging bigamy was sworn out before W. E. Horton, Elk township justice of the peace.

Traffic Is Heavy On Parkway Road During Week-End

Bluff Park Particularly Popular Spot For Visitors From Several States

Traffic was heavier on the Blue Ridge Parkway between Deep Gap and the Virginia line Sunday than at any other time since the 60-mile link of the great scenic boulevard was completed and opened for traffic, was the opinion freely expressed by observers.

With the forest colored in all the varicolored combinations of autumn, parkway visitors were enthusiastic in praise of the views to be obtained from the high altitude road.

On Sunday afternoon cars could be seen parked on all the lookouts and Bluff Park was especially popular for the autumn sight seers. Cars from many North Carolina cities and from a number of other states were observed in the park.

The parkway visitors, some of whom were out for week-end trips and others just for an afternoon drive, highly praised nature's beautiful colorings interspersed with evergreen. The first killing frost of the season had occurred only a week previous and the leaves are now in the height of color.

Visitors found that much progress has been made in development of Bluff Park, the 7,000-acre tract being developed along the Parkway in Wilkes and Alexander counties as one of the best standing wayside recreation areas.

A big storage tank has been erected on the pinnacle at the lookout at Wildcat rock and will furnish water for the lodge and cabins to be erected and the picnic grounds which have already been developed nearby. The dam for the reservoir in one of the ravines of the park had been completed and is ready to be filled with water when the system is completed.

A stone wall is under construction at the lookout at Wildcat rock to insure safety for those who wish to look from a vantage point over Basin Creek gorge. Without a wall there would be danger of falling several hundred feet off the precipice.

Water lines have already been laid from the two large storage tanks to various sections of the park which will be frequented by picnic visitors and campers. One large storage tank is located on another high altitude point about two miles north of Wildcat Rock.

Development of the park is under the direction of the park service office in Wilkesboro and WPA labor from nearby communities in Wilkes and Alleghany county is being used.

Meanwhile development work along the right of way of the Parkway is being done by the C. C. Camp members from the camp located near Laurel Springs.

5th Sunday Singing At Walnut Grove Sunday, Oct. 29

Next session of the Southside Singing association will be held at Walnut Grove Baptist church at Pores Knob, Attorney F. J. McDuffie, chairman, announced today.

The day's program will begin at ten o'clock and continue throughout the day. Dinner will be spread picnic style at noon and those attending are asked to have basket dinner to add to that feature of the program.

All singing classes, quartets and other singers are invited to be present and take part in the day's program.

Hallowe'en Party At Community House

Announcement has been made of a Hallowe'en masquerade carnival to be held at the community house in Wilkesboro on Tuesday night, October 31. "Spend 25 cents and enjoy a full evening of fun and laughter," the announcement said.
