

Singing Is Held At Sweet Home Church

By W. H. JONES

A splendid session of the Ronda singing convention was held at Sweet Home church last Sunday, with the following singers having a part in the service:

Choirs from Sweet Home, Beth-el, Shiloh, Shady Grove, New Hope and Swan Creek and the quartets were Yarkin Valley Jones Family, West Yarkin, New Hope, Swan Creek, Elkin Valley, Junior Quartet of Jones girls from White Plains, near Mt. Airy, Oak Grove and a junior quartet from Sweet Home. Miss Templeton from Union Grove, delighted the audience with several hymns accompanied by her accordion.

The chairman, W. H. Jones, called the meeting to order at 10:30 a. m. The devotion was conducted by the Rev. Filmore Lawrence who read Psalms 133 and led the prayer. Rev. R. R. Crater, secretary, who is always ready to enroll all singers and call them to service, was on duty all day.

After an hour for lunch the church was filled. "All Hail the Power" was sung by the entire congregation and each group was given its time. It was a happy day at this sacred place where much love and fellowship existed.

The meeting closed with a prayer by Rev. Gus Myers, to meet at New Hope church the fifth Sunday in June.

National Wildlife Restoration Week is set for March 17-23, 1940. It brings together in every state and city, sportsmen and farmers, clubwomen and college professors, nature lovers and just plain citizens determined to save our outdoors.

State College Answers Timely Farm Question

Question: What lawn mixtures are adapted to different sections of the State?

Answer: For the coastal plain, a mixture of 2.5 pounds of Italian ryegrass, 0.3 of a pound of white clover, and Bermuda grass root cuttings is recommended. For the Piedmont and mountain sections, a mixture of 1.3 pounds of Kentucky blue grass, 0.7 pounds of redtop, and 1.3 pounds of Italian ryegrass is recommended. Each of these mixtures will seed 1,000 square feet of lawn.

"Love and Passion." You'll find both of them in large measure in Wallace Irwin's dramatic new serial, entitled "Mr. Caesar," which begins in The American Weekly Magazine, with next Sunday's Washington Times-Herald, now on sale.

Coker Triplett To Swat Back to Majors

Getting set to swat his way back to the majors, Coker Triplett trained his sights from the beginning of work at the Hollywood, Fla., camp of the Columbus Red Birds for the long-distance hitting leadership of the American Association this season, which he seemed on his way to grab in 1939, when interrupted by a broken nose in mid-season, says The Sporting News.

A product of Boone, N. C., Triplett first won fame as a football star, gaining national recognition for high-scoring feats at half-back on the Appalachian Teachers College team. Following his graduation, Triplett broke in with Tallahassee of the Georgia-Florida League where he hit .317. The following season, he batted .341 on advancement to Nashville of the Southern Association and raised his mark to .356 with Memphis in the same league in 1937 to win him promotion to the Chicago Cubs. The jump proved a bit too much for the Tar Heel, who was optioned to Minneapolis in 1938. Columbus purchased his contract after the season closed and he batted .322 the past year, despite his injury.

Carolinians Leading In Navy Recruits

The Raleigh Navy Recruiting District, comprising the two Carolinas, have been leading all other districts in the nation since November 1939 with a total of 1772 first enlistments since July 1st. New York stands second, with the Nashville, Tenn., district third.

The Navy Department reports that at the present rate of recruiting, the authorized strength of the recent expansion program will be reached by June 30 and it is expected that the enlistment quotas will be considerably reduced after that date and in all probability the enlistment requirements will also be stiffened.

Lieut. A. S. Joyner, in charge of the Raleigh district, will be relieved by Lieut. Commander McFarland W. Wood on or about June 7.

Chiropractors In Meeting Thursday

Dr. E. S. Cooper Presides Over Meeting Chiropractors in Twin City

The Western North Carolina unit and auxiliary of the Chiropractors' Research Society held their semi-annual meeting in Winston-Salem Thursday afternoon and night, with Dr. Paul W. Transou and Mrs. Transou as hosts at their home on Miller street.

Members of the group were entertained at dinner by Dr. and Mrs. Transou in the private dining room on the tenth floor of the Reynolds Building.

Several speakers were on the program for the meeting, including Dr. E. S. Cooper, president of the unit, of North Wilkesboro, whose subject was "Radiation Tests for Proper Vitamin Intake"; Dr. E. P. Brunner, High Point, "The X-Ray and its Value to the Chiropractor"; Dr. Transou, of Winston-Salem, "Good Posture in Relationship to Good Health," and Dr. H. A. Limbaugh, Asheville, "In Memory of Dr. D. D. Palmer, Founder of Chiropractic."

Various business matters of routine nature were discussed also.

A brief business session was held by the auxiliary at the Transou home, with Mrs. Transou as hostess, following the dinner.

Dr. E. I. Nott, of Graham, state director of the National Chiropractic Association, and Mrs. Nott, who is national auxiliary president, were special guests for the meeting.

Dr. Nott, as well as Dr. Limbaugh, spoke extensively on the life of Dr. Palmer in commemoration of his birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Nott spoke to the auxiliary on "Auxiliary Objectives, the National Child Movement and the Place the Auxiliary Holds in the Program."

Mrs. E. S. Cooper, of this city, is secretary-treasurer of the Auxiliary.

Dr. Transou's paper on posture and health was adjudged best presented at the meeting.
