Freddie Bartholomew in "Swiss Family Robinson" at Orpheum

Sparkling with action and drama, Gene Towne's and Graham Baker's production for RKO Radio of Johann David Wyss' immortal human story, "Swiss Family Robinson," will be shown at the New Orpheum Theatre Monday and Tuesday with a cast headed by such convincing players as Thomas Mitchell, Edna Best, Freddie Bartholomew, Terry Kilburn, Tim Holt and Baby Bobby Quillan. Few stories have captured the world's imagination as has this 130-year-old tale of adventure and peril on a South Sea island, a tale that has been a best-seller for more than a century, and the film faithfully visualizes its spirit and action.

The adventure takes place during the Napoleonic era when all Europe was harassed by war and uncertainty. Robinson, a wealthy Swiss watchmaker in London, sees his four children growing up to become useless faddists and in desperation he sells everything he owns and sets out with his rebellious family to begin a new life in distant Australia.

In the South Seas a storm wrecks their vessel. Only the Robinsons survive. When the waves subside they build a raft, ferry themselves and some live-stock, tools and clothing to a nearby island, a tropical paradise alive with gay colored birds and strange animals.

Their subsequent difficulties, a terrific tropical storm that devastates the island and smashes their carefully-built tree house, and the daily excitement and thrills of their picturesque lives, all contrast vividly with the emotional drama of the story—of Robinson's determination to make men of his sons despite his wife's snobbish attitude. How he finally imbues them all with his ideals and wins their love and respect and cooperation, makes for the gripping appeal of the film.
