Poppy Sale Help In Rehabilitation

nearly 22 years since the big American battles of the World War, government hospitals are still filled to capacity with war veterans. Many thousands of others, not in the hospitals, are unable to carry on unaided.

"Last year the Auxiliary extended help to 126,251 disabled veterans, expending $986,387.71 in the work. A large part of this money came in the form of Poppy Day contributions, without which we would have been unable to give such extensive aid to these unfortunate men. Our volunteer workers made every penny count, their understanding and sympathetic service, in fact, expanding poppy pennies in dollars of benefit to the disabled.

Local Men Enter Golf Tournament

R. G. Finley, Henry Moore and Dick Gwyn, of this city, were among those who played the qualifying round in Charlotte Wednesday for the invitation tournament at the Country Club course there. Of the three Dick Gwyn had the lowest score with 84 while R. G. Finley and Henry Moore each shot 93. Alfred Eskridge, of Shelby, and E. S. Reid, of Charlotte, led in qualifying with 75 each.

Ann Sheridan Star 'It All Came True' Orpheum Monday

The New Orpheum Theatre's next attraction, opening on Monday, will be "It All Came True," based on the Louis Bromfield novel and starring Ann Sheridan, the redheaded Texan dynamo who has become Hollywood's most outstanding feminine personality, combining, as she does, that "oomph" with dramatic fire.

Playing one of the most delightful characters ever created by Louis "Rains Came" Bromfield, Ann is at once bold and beautiful, hot-tempered and honest. She is sentimental but is the last person in the world to admit it. She sings, does the rumba, and "hangs one" on the jaw of a would-be talent scout, all with equal proficiency.

With the quaintness, charm and dramatic suspense of the Bromfield novel, "It All Came True" tells the story of a group of people who live in a New York boarding house run by two sentimental old women, using it as a refuge where they can fight off the reality of the present and dwell in the fond memories of the past. The complacent atmosphere of the house is shattered when first Ann, daughter of one of the landladies comes home to roost and again when the housekeeper's son, Jeffrey Lynn, returns home after an absence of five years, with a gangster who intends to use the house as a hide-out. The gangster, played by Humphrey Bogart, is so won over by the motherly ministrations he receives that he offers to straighten out the financial difficulties of the boarding house by converting it into a night club with a "Gay Nineties" background. From there the story works up to a surprise climax.

Cleverly worked into the story are the songs "The Gaucho Serenade" and "Angel In Disguise." Lewis Seiler directed the screen play by Michael Fessier and Lawrence Kimble adapted from the Bromfield novel.

NOTICE OF THE PROPOSED ACQUISITION OF CERTAIN PROPERTY IN THE TOWN OF WILKESBORO.

North Carolina, Wilkes County. Notice is hereby given to all citizens and taxpayers of the Town of Wilkesboro, all persons or parties interested in the land hereinafter described, and the public at large, that the Town Commissioners of the Town of Wilkesboro will, on the 13th day of May, 1940, at 7:30 o'clock, P. M., at the Town Hall in the Town of Wilkesboro, meet for the purpose of hearing all parties on the question of the acquisition or condemnation under the power of eminent domain of the property hereinafter described. Said property being completely and fully described by metes and bounds, and completely and accurately portrayed on a map, now posted in the Courthouse in Wilkesboro, North Carolina, and at the Town Hall in Wilkesboro, North Carolina; said map being prepared by Earl S. Caudill, County Surveyor, in October, 1939, and describing several boundaries, the boundary which is the subject of this action and which the municipality proposes to acquire, being on said map as that of the Fletcher Heirs, and consisting of one hundred forty (140) acres, more or less.

Notice is further given that the purpose for which said proposed acquisition of said property is being made, is to acquire a watershed and to use said property in furtherance of the construction and operation of the water system of the Town of Wilkesboro, now in the process of installation.
